Where the New Things for Spring Are Seen at Their Best

That the new things for spring are seen at their best at MEIER & FRANK'S is convincingly evidenced by the splendid displays of new suits, dresses, wraps and skirts ready tomorrow in our Apparel Shop, among which are:

Suits

Assortments are too all-inclusive to permit of any but the briefest mention here.

Suits of serge, gabardine and tricot in box models, blouse, belted and plain tailored styles trimmed merely with spearhead stitchings. The box models especially, with their vests of silk crepe, tricolette, duvetyn and trimmed variously with braid, buttons and tucks are admired. Navy, black, sand and taupe are the preferred colors. Prices range from $29.50 to $48.50.

New jersey suits in navy, rose, sand, overseas blue, white and heather mixtures, $29.50 to $65.

New silk suits in fine array.

Dresses

Taffetas perhaps lead in silk dresses, frequently used in combination with Georgette or printed chiffon. We have new taffeta dresses in Spring shades from $19.50 to $45.

In keeping with our reputation for being always first with the new scores of the latest models in Georgette Crepe gowns will greet visitors to our Apparel Shop tomorrow. In these heads are the predominant elaboration—large "kindergarten" heads weigh down tunics, panels and wide flowing sleeves. Delicate shades for afternoon and evening gowns are orchid, champagne, rose, blue, Nile green and white; for street frocks navy, taupe and black. $29.50 to $75.

New Neck Fixings

In the glossary of new neckwear nomenclature words of foreign sound assert themselves with great frequency, such as gilet—waistcoat, hence vestee; plastron—breast-plate, hence the little waistcoat one wears with suit or dress; tablier—apron, hence the vest that extends below the waistline. New spring neck fixings corresponding to these designations are ready for your selection in our Neckwear Shop.

New materials such as Dew-Kist, Kumsi-Kumsa, Moonglo, silk gabardine and metal cloth. New shades of overseas blue, gray, old rose, beige, old gold, white with colored buttons and pongee combined with Victory red. With or without collars. $3 to $9.50.

Not Content With Providing Portland's Finest Assortments of Stylish High Quality Spring Blouses at Moderate Prices
The Blouse Shop Announces to Begin Tomorrow

A Sale of 750 New Spring Blouses $5

Like Qualities and Styles Would Sell in Regular Stock at $6.50 to $8.50

A special purchase such as only the MEIER & FRANK Blouse Shop could consummate accounts for the remarkable fact that tomorrow Portland women can choose from 750 new blouses in the favored spring materials, styles and colors at $5 instead of $6.50 to $8.50. The saving is large enough to warrant the purchase of at least two blouses, which indeed most women will require no urging to do once they see the values.

Materials are splendid heavy quality crepes de chine and Georgette crepes. Colors include peach, tea rose, gray, polu blue, purple, Nile, maize, Kelly green, apricot, flesh and white. Tailored and dressy models are represented.

The necks are cleverly cut in round, square and high-buttoned styles. Saucy frills with picot edge and hemstitching and tiny tucks in block effects distinguish these new models from the blouses of yesterday. Four sketched.
