

Y. W. C. A. TO LAUNCH DRIVE FOR $30,000

Six Captains and Teams Are Ready for Campaign.

MRS. ALVORD IS DIRECTOR

President of Association Points to Help Given to Thousands of Northwestern Women.

A total of $30,000 is needed to supply the physical, mental and spiritual needs of the thousands of persons—most of them girls and young women—who frequent the Young Women's Christian association building during the year. Of this amount $25,000 is realized from the various income activities of the association, leaving $5,000 to be raised by popular subscription, to which has been added this year $5000 for national and field reconstruction work. It is to raise this fund that the officers and directors and friends of the association this week will come before the people of the city for contributions.

Mrs. William C. Alvord, city director for the campaign, said: "This is the first time for two years that the association has come before the public for funds for carrying on its regular work. It has been a period of several weeks having been used for the activities of the war work council of the Y. W. C. A., not one penny of which is allowed by the government to be diverted to other war channels."

Campaign Date Delayed.
"We have withheld the launching of our campaign until after the Armenian drive so we would not interfere with it, although our educational campaign has been going on several weeks and a few of the workers have done a little soliciting and I am glad to add, with most gratifying results. The Y. W. C. A. has established the Y. W. C. A. as an institution of real service to the thousands of girls and young women of the northwest, who each year pass its threshold. This week we are going out in real earnest and I bespeak for the women who are giving so unselfishly of their time and strength to this work, the same generous help, the same hearty cooperation and the same hearty feature in all of Portland's many efforts to secure funds for good causes."

Miss Holbrook Addresses Clubs.
Miss Carrie A. Holbrook, president of the association, during the past week has addressed the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Ad club, the Portland Realty board and the Oregon Civic League and through the courtesy of its officers, 400 letters were sent to the members of the Progressive Business Men's club. Miss Holbrook made the following figures in her addresses: Number using the building during the year, $50,000; number assisted by the traveler's aid department, including young girls, 400; number of young girls, 3435; number enrolled in girls' clubs, 788; number of interviews given in employment department, 2266; positions filled, 111; attendance in gymnasium, 6859; swims taken, 9706; overnight guests, 6188.

Six Captains to Charge.
The six captains and their teams who will work directly under Mrs. Alvord's direction are: Mrs. Charles J. Smith, captain; Mrs. E. H. McGilbert, Miss Jessie Gullifer, Miss Ann Chambers, Mrs. C. A. Morden, Mrs. W. F. Wiggins, Mrs. G. L. Rauch, Mrs. George N. Woodley, Mrs. Otto Grice, Miss Berice Lewis, Miss Florence Knapp, Miss Reed, Miss Grace Reed.
Mrs. John B. Dickson, captain; Mrs. Robert Lord, Mrs. Leona E. Adams, Mrs. Thomas G. Hailley, Mrs. Roy P. Bishop, Mrs. Otto Wedemeyer, Miss Florence Stackpole, Miss Caroline Bickel, Mrs. E. H. Amos, Mrs. Frank E. Smith, Mrs. A. W. Baird, Mrs. Hugh Henry.
Miss Isabella Gaudil, captain; Mrs. Andrew D. Norris, Mrs. Willis E. Clarke, Mrs. E. C. Willard, Miss Jean MacKenzie, Mrs. William H. Lines, Mrs. Simon Winch, Mrs. Gerald Beebe.
Mrs. J. C. Mann, captain; Mrs. George Youell, Mrs. S. H. Moore, Mrs. H. W. Hall, Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Mrs. J. P. Jaeger, Mrs. J. P. Stonerod, Mrs. H. Russell Albee.
Mrs. N. F. Johnson, captain; Mrs. George Rossmann, Mrs. E. A. Douty, Mrs. Charles Kingsmith, Mrs. W. T. Schuppel, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. E. G. Leachy, Mrs. E. H. Eickensley, Mrs. L. G. Bransford, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. L. G. Roberts, Mrs. Daniels.
Mrs. Robert S. Farrell, captain; Mrs. Bert Wood, Miss Frances Bell, Mrs. Hazel Weider, Miss Mary Bell, Mrs. Hugh Maguire, Mrs. E. C. Goodwin, Mrs. Grant Mays, Mrs. Anna Finley, Dr. Octave Goffin, Miss Ethel Hinton, Mrs. Robert Clark, Miss Edith Hindman, Mrs. George F. Wilson, state director for the campaign, reports much interest throughout the state. Klamath county already has made its complete return. Malheur county has made partial returns and Hood River and Washington counties have announced that they expected to reach their quotas this week. Oregon's quota outside of Portland exceeds $6000.

CUCUMBER PRICE IS RAISED

Chehalis Growers Are Offered $50 a Ton for Product.

CHEHALIS, Wash., March 15.—(Special.)—Libby, McNeill & Libby expect again to secure an acreage of cucumbers in the Chehalis section for the year 1919, according to word just received here. Last season the attempt to grow cucumbers locally was almost a total failure. The price quoted this year for No. 1 size, 1 1/2 to 3 inches in length, is $50 per ton, which is an advance of $5 per ton over the price paid last year.

Springfield Editor Resigns.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 15.—Solomon Bulkeley Griffin has resigned as managing editor of the Springfield Republican, a position he has filled for more than 40 years and will devote his time to business interests and to private literary work. His successor is Howard K. Regal.

R. J. DORER IN GERMANY

CAPTAIN OF OREGON ARTILLERY WRITES OF BATTLES.

Engagements on Toul Sector and in Second Battle of the Marne Are Described.

Captain Richard J. Dorer, who received his military education at West Point, is captain of battery A, Oregon artillery, now serving with the American army of occupation on the German border, and in a letter just received by Captain Lee M. Clark, this city, and formerly of battery A, Captain Dorer writes:

"When I was sent to the artillery school, Samar, France, March 10, 1918, I found that battery A, 147th field artillery, was a training battery at that school and that every member of it was simply a 'rarin' to go to the front. About the end of May, I think it was, the commandant told me he had a battery and wanted me to take it to the front. You can imagine how delighted I was when I found that it was battery A, Oregon national guard. Well, I met the battery and found the finest lot of young men that ever wore khaki. 'We began to get into battle at the Toul sector last June, and we got through without loss of a man or animal. That night we fired the first hostile shot for Oregon. The 147th field artillery co-operated with the history-making 36th division of New England. Outside of intense artillery duels, the principal action in this sector was the battle of Verdun during which our cannons were their gas masks for a period of four hours and gave the Hunns shot for shot."

"June 24 we left the Toul sector for Alsace, joining with the famous 32d division in the fighting. We were engaged principally to artillery dueling. We arrived at Chateau Thierry July 29, and we immediately started on the trail of the retreating Fritz. On the night of July 31 we took our first open position on the celebrated Ourcq river. That night we put over a frightful barrage that divided the Hunns and started them on the run toward the river Vesle. This fight was known as the second battle of the Marne, and it lasted until August 22, 1918, at which time Fritz made a successful stand behind the Vesle river. This was a real home-to-goodness battle all the way through—the kind that makes a man proud to be a soldier."

"In front of impregnable Montfaucon we helped to put in a barrage that lasted 41 days. Our last and fiercest struggle is called the battle of Meuse-Argonne. When the Germans called a halt November 11, it did not come as a surprise, for every man of us had been looking for this to happen from the day that Austria collapsed."

REALLY SUPERIOR DENTISTRY AT MODEST PRICES
I have maintained these prices throughout the past years when every excuse possible was at hand to raise them, and I bid for your work on a basis of good, honest, fair dealing. We use the best materials, and we use the best methods in our practice. I have tried to please each and every patient and today I am in better shape to give not only equal dentistry to what I have given during the past years, but I aim to improve, and am doing so every day. There is no office which keeps up to date better than I, and I am in such a condition that my office has no real competition in quality.

DAIRYMEN JOIN COUNCIL

COMMITTEE OF TWO ADDS 20 MORE MEMBERS.

Friendly Rivalry Exists in Contest; Charles Eckelman and Dr. D. W. Mack in Lead.

Twenty new memberships for the Oregon Dairy council have been secured through the interest and efforts of Charles Eckelman and Dr. D. W. Mack, of the sustaining membership committee. The committee met yesterday at the Imperial hotel, J. E. Dunne presiding. Several others reported having secured additions to the roll.

The Nestle's Food company is one of the new members. P. L. Skull, who is working with the feed and mill men, will submit his report next Saturday. Carl Schallinger went to Astoria last night and will interview the dairies in that locality. Mr. Dunne will make a trip to Tillamook on Monday to get some memberships among the cheese makers.

The Care of Mouth and Teeth

(U. S. Naval Academy Rules)
Cut This Out and Hang It Where the Family Will Read It

- The dentist has a duty as a teacher as well as an operator—to give instruction in the use of the brush, the toothpick, silk floss, etc. Only about 14 per cent of the people of America make any intelligent use of dentistry.
1. The mouth is a gateway of health or disease.
 2. Hard foods, if well masticated, help to make and keep good teeth. The cleaning power of vigorous mastication is greater and better than artificial cleaning.
 3. Soft foods cling to teeth; hard foods clean them.
 4. A clean mouth helps to make a sweet breath.
 5. Food left on teeth brings decay: Clean teeth seldom decay.
 6. Decay commences on the outside of teeth. Unclean teeth decay chiefly at night. Clean the teeth before going to bed. Clean the teeth again in the morning.
 7. Wash the mouth after every meal.
 8. Brush all the teeth thoroughly, especially the back teeth, on all surfaces.
 9. The medicament used, whether a dentifrice or soap and water, is not so important as the method of using. Avoid, however, any mixture that contains grit.
 10. When cleaning the teeth the greatest care should be bestowed upon the removal of food and debris from between the teeth, using a brush with bristles to conform to and reach the spaces. An excellent adjunct and a great protection against decay consists in passing silk between all the teeth and drawing it outward in such a manner as not to hurt the gum.
 11. In use the brush should not be allowed to pass to and fro from the front to the back teeth only; but with a short pressing sweep from the gums to the cutting edge of the teeth. Thus the stroke in the upper jaw is from the gum downward, while in the lower jaw it is from the gum upward.
 12. The force used in chewing food is modified (1) by the use made habitually of the teeth, (2) by the loss of the pulp, (3) by disease of the periodontal membranes. The strength of the teeth is ample for reasonable stress, but metals, very hard substances, and some confections should be excluded.
