NOISE OF BATTLEFIELD GIVES WAY TO TALES OF CONFLICT

Oregon Soldiers Relate Experiences in Training and in Trenches-Famous Spots of World Visited Before Return to United States-Numerous Medals Brought Home.

ergeant N. A. Keppinger 162d Infantry.

Sergeant Harvey Bade, St. Nezaire, returned rir pilot.

Earl Hall of Oregon City,

Ray Hall

Bordeaux.

deaux.

chances to stay in France, but says he prefers the United States, and soon will return to his old position with will return to his old position with Max Houser. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Folquet of Woodburn.

Kenneth D. Joy and Perry E. Joy, brothers, met in France after six months' separation. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Joy of 1236 East

Kenneth enlisted with company A, engineers of the Oregon national guard.

After several transfers he served with the first division at Toul, Cantigny, Solssons, St. Mihiel and the Argonne. He was gassed in the Argonne and was sent to convalescent camp near Perry enlisted with the coast artillery, and went to France with the 69th, which was stationed in the American training area near Bordeaux. For two months before the armistice was signed the brothers were within 25 miles of each other. They finally met in Bor-

Lieutenant Arthur B. Mackenzie has returned to Portland after a year and a half in the air service. On grad-uating from ground school at Berkeley, Cal. he went to Ebert's field, Arkansas, where he received training in plane piloting. After being commissioned, he took advanced training at Ellington field, Houston, Texas. Lieutenant Mackenzie is a member of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and was president of the first graduating class at Franklin high school.

Mrs. C. Kays of 6626 Eighty-fifth

A LETTER to friends, Malcol a fractured rib at a Riverside, hospital, tells how his accident occurred. Cadet Button several weeks ago, after a period of instruction at the University of California, was detailed for flying tests at March field, River-with an instructor and had made two flights alone. Starting on his third solo flight one morning a new instruc-tor at the field asked to accompany for at the field asset to accompany him. In the course of maneuvers the instructor cautioned Cadet Button about methods of "banking." He took the controls to demonstrate his points and almost immediately the engine

"We seemed to have been caught in a kind of air pocket," writes Cadet Button, "and the machine crashed earthward in a tall spin. We fell 200 feet. When I regained consciousness fellow flyers who had seen us fall were lifting away at the debris. My companion died without regaining con-and the first time you see the capyou would swear it was painted on the rock. All the streets are stairways. Think of a city of 3000 built on a cliff. "Yestorday we went far enough south to see to the coast of Algiers in when Uncle Sam called for young men to enter the service. He was one of the first young men of this county to answer his country's call. In company with Merle Bingham, son of Mrs. Axford of Mount Pleasant, he was sta-tioned at Bremerton, Wash, where her two sons she has done her bit for her country and is employed on government work in the Oregon City woolen mills. She has assisted in every way possible in carrying on the war work in Oregon City and was remains beautiful." Think I to my-

Sergeant Harvey Bade, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bade, 518 Ainsworth avenue, is now a master engineer, senior guard, in the transportation desenior guard, in the transportation de-partment and is stationed at St. Nagaire, France. Sergeant Bade en-listed as a private soon after war was declared and received his promotion for installing a filing system in the offices of the transportation department at St. Nagaire. He was keenly disappointed, according to letters received by his parents when a request to be transparents, when a request to be transparents, wash a request to be trans-ferred to the trenches was denied. His parents are natives of Baden, Germany. Sergeant Bade is a graduate of Jeffer-son high school in the class of June, 1917, where he finished a four-year soon to return.

main abroad until June.

Private C. R. Wallace, of 76th company, marines,

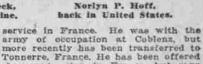

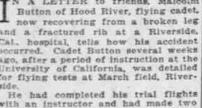

Paul Folgnet

France.

in a pair of white pants?

"It is wonderful here. The houses are built of a peculiar yellow stone and the first time you see the city the northern part of Africa.

"We sleep out on deck every night.
This is a fine little ship, but we don't get enough water—only half a gallon a day, so must drink salt water."

a day, so must drink sait water. Young Buxton, who enlisted in the radio corps two weeks after the United States entered the war, has since been transferred to Constantinople, where he transferred to Constantinople, where he will remain a year in installation and other radio work.

Private Charles S. Wallace, son of Mrs. W. A. Henderson of Meidrum, Or., a member of the 76th company, sixth marines, has arrived at the family home at Meidrum for a three weeks furlough. At the end of the furlough he will leave for Washington, D. C., for medical treatment, as he is suffering from three wounds received in ing from three wounds received in active zervice while in France. Private Charles S. Wallace was a student of the Oregon City high school

Earl Hall, who has been in the servher two sons she has done her bit for war work in Oregon City and was among these purchasing bonds and contributing to the other patriotic parents are natives of Baden, Germany.

Sergeant Bade is a graduate of Jefferson high school in the class of June.

1917. where he finished a four-year course in two years.

Harold Edison Peck, a marine, gave his parents. Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Peck of 1180 East Taylor street, a surprise glad eye in spite of his (alleged) lack February 17, when he came home from France by way of Mare Island. He is on a 20-day furfough. ward maids hovered about in his vi-

France by way of Mare Island. He is on a 20-day furlough.

Harold Feck Joined the marines at Mare Island at the beginning of the war and fought with the fifth regiment at Chateau-Thierry and the second battle of the Marne. Each member of the battalion received a Legion of Honor cord and a Croix de Guerre.

Sergeant U. A. Keppinger of the 182d infantry has won the distinction of be-independent of the commander-in-chilers.

Installing a radio station at Constantinople is the job assigned to Willis I. Buxton, son of Philmore H. Buxton, sheriff of Sherman county. He has been traveling around the Mediterrabeen traveling to all corners of the pacific ocean aboard the U. S. S. Saturn Waiter D. Pearson, a Portland before the war, was with the 3d Oregon and was transported to other work when he was disabled.

While traveling to all corners of the pacific ocean aboard the U. S. S. Saturn Waiter D. Pearson, a Portland before the war, was with the 3d Oregon and was transported to other work when he was disabled.

While traveling to all corners of the pacific ocean aboard the U. S. S. Saturn Waiter D. Pearson, a Portland before the war, was with the 3d Oregon and was transported to other work when he was disabled.

While traveling to color white traveling to all corners of the pacific ocean aboard the U. S. S. Saturn Waiter D. Pearson, a Portland before the war, was with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the was an instructor in bomb the with the 3d Oregon and was transported to the with the 3d Oregon and was transporte visit relatives in northern France before his return home, says he may relulu after the most miserable and exciting night I ever spent. We left Honolulu at 3 P. M. yesterday bound 48th coast artillery.

Pacific ocean aboard the U. S. S. Saturn Walter D. Pearson, a Portland Washington Agricultural college. In a letter to his father he tells of a recent leave spent at Nice and Monte Carlo. He visited the world famous gambling hall. Men in uniform, however, are not allowed in the hall while play is on.

Corporal Le France, who expects to visit relatives in northern France be-Norlyn P. Hoff, son of O. P. Hoff, for Vindivostok, and about dark came for which the figure of the Kenneth D. Joy, with 1st engineers. chance to fit himself for new work, to his parents in the first three days to help steady the ship, but the wind was broken in fighting the way Captain A. W. Bryan has sailed from which he hopes will lead to as good a after stepping off the transport Sibposition as he formerly held.

The says.

Was so strong that it tore the sail in through the ice, he says.

"I have seen so man a million pieces and carried it away.

"I have seen so man parts of the deck of the sail in through the ice, he says.

"I have seen so man parts of the sail in through the ice, he says. "T have seen so many different parts of the world that they are beginning to look alike to me," he says from Manila. "I can't get used to so many changes in climate. A few days ago we were in zero weather, and now we are sweltering.

"Manila is the hottest place in the world, I believe. I am down in quarters now and almost suffocated.

"We had a lovely trip from Vladivo-A large part of the deck cargo was carried away by the waves, but a large ventilator breaking off even with the main deck let the water right into the hold, causing the real damage.

"Some of the fellows were klasing themselves good-by last night, and it sure looked as if every minute might be our last."

'Vladivostok is a real town with big

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through the ice on the couple of Yanks, a bunch of Jap meno'-war and a bunch of doughboys.

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through the ice on the way in."

On the way out a propeller blade of the size of a cance?"

Both in France and a resident of the france inst October.

Folguet had a chance to look up many of his old friends when he went overbets soon to get back to Portland, but the list artillery comps. He clair D. Kays went in with the marines way in."

W. Bryan at the home of her mother,
On the way out a propeller blade of National Actions and the couple of the signing of the arminetwice the size of a cance?"

Word has been received by Mrs. A.

W. Bryan at the home of her mother,
On the way out a propeller blade of National Actions and the couple of the signing of the arminetwice the size of a cance?"

Folguet had a chance to look up many of his old friends when he went overbets soon to get back to Portland, but the list artillery comps. He clair D. Kays went in with the marines way and has seen many months of at Mare Island.

making.

"We had a lovely trip from Vladivo-

I wonder if I should have shared my beautiful Portland cake with little German girls and boys if there had been any about? Quite likely.

When, years hence, Oregonian grand children say: "Grandpapa, what did Portland do in the great war?" as well as proudly enumerating the regiments of men who joined the army and the many who went in the navy, grandpapa can add: "And the women knitted wool- came up over the side from off that many who went in the navy, grandpapa can add: "And the women knitted woollies all those years and sent money for comforts for the wounded of our allies as well as for our own men." I can certainly vouch for the truth of that.

Many a fighting man has cause to thank Portland for brightening up the trenches or a hospital ward for him. These men do not forget.

These men do not forget.

I was a happy bunch that to say bunch that the side from off that bailing her by had been bailing her by had been bailing her by had for four days of the storm, taking neers, A. P. O. 705, in France, writtes to the editing class, the publishers of the Oregon Overseas magazine, asking to be just happened to be floating near our course, otherwise they would be in Davy Jones' locker by now.

"An Oregonian clipping reaching me

Oregon Boy Views German War Preparations.

Claire Elrod of Metolius Feels Like Striking German Pilot.

WHILE overseas on the United States steamship Harvard, Claire Elrod, son of Mrs. E. W. Elrod of Mecolius, Or., has seen much of the Gernan war preparations. In a recent letter he tells of sailing in German ports since the armistice was signed.

"We have just returned from Germany," he says, writing from Portsmouth, Eng. "We arrived in Hamburg January 11. It was surely an exciting irip. We saw on the average 12 mines a day and missed some of them only a few feet. We traveled only by day until the last day, when we were compelled to go, as bad weather made us lose both anchors. We were lucky enough not to hit any mines, but coming back, we had to steer out of our course three times to avoid the pests.

We were in Hamburg two days, going ter he tells of sailing in German ports We were in Hamburg two days, going we were in Hamburg two days, song to Vegesack and Bremen. It seemed funny to have a German pilot come aboard as we passed Coxhaven. We felt almost like taking a punch at him on general principles, but didn't get the German navy was carrying out the terms of the armistice and not turning out more war material. In every place were a great number of 'subs' and ships which were being built when the war ended. They have stopped work on them now and I think the United States is to take over some of them, as part of the crew was transferred to go on one.

"There were several Jap 'subs' and some Brazilian ships.
"In England the women work in the navy yards. They were scraping the side of our ship and repairing some bad places. There are few young men here, mostly older men and boys."

Portland Doctor Writes of Thrilling Voyage.

Fred E. Chambers Rescued From Waterlogged Vessel.

A Atlantic with a last-minute rescue of a water-logged ship is that told by Fred E. Chambers in a letter to Dr. D. Chambers, 167 South Broadway. Young Chambers came across from Brest on the ship that brought Admiral Wilson. "Back again in the United States of America and darned glad of it, after the most miserable trip I ever had," he says. "We were supposed to have come in to Boston with the George Washington, but broke down in midocean, stripped of our turbines, made the rest of the way on one leg. so to speak, 12 days from Brest to Norfolk. "We hit one storm after another. We broke down in the middle of a big storm with seas washing clear over us, and for a day and a half wallowed along at five knots. The heavy seas smashed our bow, loosened the plates and flooded two decks in the forward compartment with over eight feet of water.

"But it turned out that our misfortune was another's gain, for if we had not been crippled, ten men, a woman, Chambers, 167 South Broadway. Young as a few scattering bolsheviks are sheaking around. Most of them are chased back to the hills, though, and are still on the run.

"The port is real warlike in appearance, as there is a large British cruiser, a Frenchman standing by, a couple of Yanks, a bunch of doughboys.

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through."

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through."

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through."

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through."

"It is cold here and we had a time breaking through."

"The port is real warlike in appearance."

"We went to Germany areas.

"We went to Germany areas."

"We went to Germany of the their families out for through Belfort, Coimar, Strassburg.

Gabling. Mainz and Metz."

"Born in France and Gremany. In a arough Belfort, Colmar, Strassburg, street southeast, has two sons in the abling, Mainz and Metz."

Service. Buren L. Kays enlisted with the 48th coast artillery corps in July, Born in France and a resident of the 1918, and landed in France last October

A former baseball player, Henry

NURSE LANYON BUSIES HERSELF SENDING COMFORTS TO SOLDIERS

Grateful Patients Now in Service Write Often Acknowledging Kindnesses Received While Sick and Wounded.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. Safer to ask for a picture post-card, American and British, has filled up my spare time lately. The Germany is evidently cold enough and for knitted woollies to be in demand, they were in training but a short time and books and magazines are as popu-before being sent overseas. Wallace lar as ever.

was awarded a medal as a sharpshooter In addition I seem to be building up at Bremerion, the medal he prouds a modest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life, a modest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life, shopping agent for the United States is the young men engaged in the same battles, and it was during the battle of Champaigne that Wallace was formally because of Champaigne that Wallace was considered to the soldiers have asked me to propose the wounded, and his comrade, Bingham.

December number of the "Cosmopoli-The battom letter in my pile is from the strength of the proposed to the results of course, I returned it. I am the risk of offending him for life, armodest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life. I explained that my honor as a nurse formal armodest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life. I explained that my honor as a nurse formal armodest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life. I explained that my honor as a nurse form my patients. I am thankful to say he still remains "your most grateful patient, nurse." And I did so little for him.

The batter in my pile is from the proposed that my honor as a nurse formal armodest reputation as a voluntary at the risk of offending him for life. I explained that my honor as a nurse form my patients. I am thankful to say he still remains "your most grateful patient, nurse." And I did so little for him. was killed in the evening.

Both young men were very popular here, and Wallace is being greeted home by his host of friends.

December number of the "Cosmopolitan" and some good photographs of Winchester cathedral. I satisfactorily home by his host of friends. tan" and some good photographs of the sister in France. She is still afflicted with a ward of German pafilled all the orders but the one for the Earl Hall, who has been in the service for about a year, stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia, has received his honorable discharge from the army and returned to Oregon City this week. He was ready to sail for overseas duty when the armistice was signed, and at the time was on shipboard when his company was ordered back to camp, Earl has thoroughly enjoyed his exhis company was ordered back to camp.

Earl has thoroughly enjoyed his experience in army life, but is glad to be back to his old home town. He was with field hospital corps No. 11.

Ray Hall, his brother, is in the navy and has made a number of trips to France. He is on the United States ship Finland and is among the boys anxiously awaiting orders for his return to Oregon City, but says as long as Uncle Sam needs him he is willing to do his duty for his country.

Mrs. Nettie Hall, mother of the boys, ship when she was an honored guest in do his duty for his country.

Mrs. Nettie Hall, mether of the boys.

Are one of the most patriotic mothers of one of the most patriotic mothers of oregon City. During the absence of out. One of my Americans in the army of the base dane her bit for self-"but what remains of the beautiful scenery of Belgium and northern France?" and my strong feelings against the Germans become etronger. Later he writes: "I have certainly ap-preciated all the nice letters, books and magazines and things you have sent me for "My Lady of the West."

Next in my big pile of soldiers' mail comes a letter from a California of-ficer asking my advice as to the best month to spend in England. He is going to have a furlough. I write by return mail to tell him not to come now on any account, as it is just like living in a shower bath. I strongly advocate May. With any luck at all, Maytime in England is heavenly.

Sergeant U. A. Keppinger of the 162d infantry has won the distinction of being the first Oregon boy to take advantage of the government's training system for disabled soldiers.

Gassed in the Toul sector, Keppinger was disabled for the shipping clerk work which he had before the war. He is taking a business course.

The federal board for vocational guidance has opened effices in the Gasco building, where Edward G. Cox is in attendance on Mondays and Wednesdays. It was through this office that young Keppinger received the tlents sent me a gift of $5 for a birth-day present. He was an English Tommy and that was nearly three whole menths' pay. It nearly broke my heart to think of him off in Saloniki cigarlar as ever.

In addition I seem to be building up account. As fast as registered mail ily at them when she was going past. The modest reputation as a voluntary shopping agent for the United States.

etteless and everything elseless on my contempt and scorn by gazing haughting and the when she was going past. It is not the risk of offending him for life. Said: "I thought you were going to I explained that my honor as a nurse glare at those Huns." The bottom letter in my pile is from magazine, which is out of print over here. If any benefactor likes to donate one I will forward it to my client. It is a great pleasure to be able to do anything for the boys and I hope to go on receiving their shopping lists. tion known as "T. C. T." and it takes a long time, usually, to clear up. I keep having my beds and bedding fu-migated regularly to prevent them run-ning out of the ward." Comment unnecessary.

> mobbed," as they call it. It is a joy to see the soldiers coming home again. Our milkman still proudly wears his khaki and one of the grocer's assistants wears two stripes with his. Even the exclusive tailor of the town, late ment that they do exactly the same ment that they do exactly the same an officer in the flying corps, can give thing in Germany. One cannot hate if he had never been in the army. Most of the returned prisoners of war expected to be demobilized. Many, poor things, were too ill to remain in the service. But some of those from here were just as pleased to be sent to guard German prisoners. I dare wager that none of those prisoners will escape.

As a sample of the foolish softheartedness of the British nation I will repeat what a friend of mine told me yesterday. She feels exceedingly bitter against the Germans because she has lost three beloved nephews in the war. So when on a country walk the other day she heard that she would pass a gang of German prisoners working on the roads, she was delighted at such an opportunity to show

"It was the queerest thing, you know," my friend said to me, "but I could not bear to look at them like that, because I thought how I should hate to be made a show of in a strange country—so I looked the other way.

Evidently there will be no German chained to our chariot wheels when we have our peace processions in London. We really cannot hate worth a cent. Even now I hear that some of the armies of occupation are learning to speak German, with the help of what they call "the fraulein dictionary."

My best sergeant's other brother is eep having my beds and bedding funigated regularly to prevent them runing out of the ward." Comment unecessary.

Our men are being demobilized, "deabsolutely devoured their slices and absolutely devoured their slices and absolutely devoured their slices and absolutely devoured their slices and

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE IN SAME BRANCH OF UNCLE SAM'S SERVICE.

General principles, but didn't get the chance. All German officers aboard were given full military honors and they seemed glad the war was over.

We took a commission of United States naval officers to see that the

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. English.

Harold C. English, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. English of Deer Island, is serving in the medical department as a second-class pharmacist's mate, while his wife, who is the daughter of Mrs. John Seigler of St. Heiens, Or., is a yeoman not been crippled, ten men, a woman more expert advice on uniforms than children, even if they be Huns in the a baby and a dog might now be on the bottom of the sea. We came across a I wonder if I should have shared my wrecked three-masted schooner bound

They had no wireless outlit and she just on the mailing list. His letter follows in part:

course, otherwise they would be in Davy Jones' looker by now.

"After we took them off we opened up with our five-inch batteries and just on the mailing list. His letter follows in part:

"An Oregonian clipping reaching me today describes the publication of 'Oregon Overseas,' and I am anxious to pro-

"For a day after we picked those people up we had good weather. Then it began to get rough again, until finally we were wallowing around like a cork, the seas slapping us sidewise and splashing clear up and through the ports in the radio shack on the superstructure deck.

"The boat will be in drydock two or three months getting fixed up, but we are to be transferred to Pelham Bay naval station, where we may be discharged or put on other ships."

"George Stevenson 114 and Lean B."
"George Stevenson 114 and Lean B."

Schoolboy Awarded Cross for Heroism in Action. Eugene P. Saunders Youngest of Four Brothers to Enlist for War. NE of the young heroes of the war. Eugene P. Saunders, the youngest of four brothers who enlisted, expects to return from France visit his sister, Mrs. F. A. Law, of Port-land. Refused perm'ssion to enlist, young Saunders finally got in the army with the Maryland soldiers. A mere schoolboy, he was awarded the distinguished service cross for "ex-traordinary heroism in action" at Bols de Consenvoye October 8, when he car-ried a wounded comrade through a ter-rific machine gun and artillery fire to a place of safety.

"Have been over the top six times, giving the Dutch hell all the time." he says in a recent letter telling of his fighting in the Argonne forest during October. "We start over at daybreak and it some sight to see wave after wave go over after the Germans.

"The Germans were wise in having machine gun nests in trees, but the Yanks soon put them out of order. I was present myself at a few parties." The brothers, who also are in the service, all well known in Portland, are James R., C. S. and Gordon Saunders.

This is the threat Samuel F. Kleinman, an automobile salesman, is alleged to have made while exhibiting a letter he had received from a married woman, according to the petition for divorce man, who asks $75 a month allmony.

Mrs. Kleinman's complaint also states that, while her husband received $209 a month salary, he allowed her but $5 a week for household expenses and then accused her of extravagance. She charges physical and fental cru-elty. "Have been over the top six times,

Alfred H. Davies Is With 20th Engineers.

Former University of Oregon Student Writes That Americans Now Are Anxious to Return.

University Of OREGON, Eugene, March 8. — (Special.) — Alfred H. Davis, a former university man, now a naturally blew her up. She would have cure a copy. I regret that I am unable been a menace to navigation, anyway, to contribute any data to aid in the to contribute any data to aid in the revision of your list of alumni in so the skipper thought best to sink revision of your list of alumni in her right then. She was the Charlotte T. Libley.

"For a day after we picked those over here."

"George Stevenson, '14, and Leon S. Jackson, '17, are in Company M, 23d engineers,

"As for 'sentiments from France,' we "As for 'sentiments from France,' we want to come home. My outfit was among the first 10 per cent over, and sunny France has lost its charms to its. If Colonel Kelly (formerly of the Booth-Kelly company) visits Eugene, I wish you would tell him to come hack and get his regiment. We are waiting at the church.

"Anyway, I'd like to be put on the mailing list and if there is anyone left at Oregon who remembers me I would at Oregon who remembers me I we greatly appreciate a few kind words."

"OTHER WOMAN" HAS PART Wife Alleges Threat Made by Huss hand, Auto Salesman. SAN FRANCISCO.—"If you're not & good wife to be, I will go to her."

This is the threat Samuel F. Klein-

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs WITHOUT DIET-ING OR EXERCISING often at the rate of over a pound a day

TALE of a stormy trip across the and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place. I am a licensed practicing physician and personally select the treatment for each individual case, thus enabling me to choose remedies that will produce not only a loss of weight harmlessly, but which will also relieve you of all the troublesome symptoms of over-stoutness such as short-ness of breath, palpitation, indigestion, rheumatism, gout, asthma, kidney trouble and various other afflictions which often accompany overstoutness. My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, aleepy feeling, giving you renewed energy and vigor, a result of the loss of your superfluous fat.

You are not required to change in the slightest from your regular mode of living. There is no dieting or exercising. It is simple, easy and pleasant to take. If you are overstout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for

ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire. DR. R. NEWMAN, Licensed Physician State of New York 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Desk S 317

my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID