

WOMEN ARE WINNING WAY IN PROFESSIONS

Idaho Girl Makes Good at College of Law.

"GENERAL JONES" RETURNS

Once Heralded Campaigner for Bachelor Now to Get Bachelor's Degree at Law School.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 31.—Look out for the women. Their ascendancy is noted not only in the growth of the suffrage movement, but in the success with which they are winning their way into the learned professions.

Some evidence of this will be given at the commencement exercises of Washington College of Law in this city June 10, when a woman from the northwest, Miss Pearl McCall, of Sandpoint, Idaho, will receive her master's degree. Miss McCall received the bachelor's degree two or three years ago. She has been for several years one of the competent clerks in Senator Borah's office, but was formerly an Idaho school teacher.

But, look who's here. General Rosalie Jones? Does any one remember the name? Of course General Jones for weeks back in 1913 held the first page in all the newspapers of the country. In fact, the newspapers hardly knew how to go to press without something right on the outside and at the top of the column about General Jones.

It was in 1913 that General Rosalie Jones, Coxy-like, led an army of women to Albany, New York, laying siege to the legislature for several days in the interest of votes for women. That battle was lost, but General Jones faced her civilian army about and marched it by slow degrees toward the east, arriving here one day in mid-summer, when the congress of the United States was made to feel her presence. Since then nothing has been heard of her, until now General Jones, who comes of one of the oldest and most well-to-do of New York families. The first trace of her since the days of that memorable march comes in the programme of the commencement exercises at Washington College of Law on June 10, where, among the candidates for a bachelor's degree, we read, with nothing to mark its distinction in history, this name, "Rosalie Gardner Jones."

General Jones is now known as Miss Jones and for some time reforms have been receiving out a small part of her attention. She expects to embark upon a professional career as soon as she has her degree properly adjusted.

Leo P. Snyder, battery A, 311th field artillery, of Halley, Idaho, hurried home from France by General Pershing upon the request of Senator Borah, in order that he might see his father alive, arrived in New York this week, just one week too late. His father, Peter Snyder, was operated upon in a Portland, Or., hospital some time ago and was taken to his general home upon an apparent chance to recover. A relapse came, however, and he died without satisfying one of his last wishes, which was to have a final look upon the face of his soldier boy.

Representative Addison T. Smith has introduced bills in the house to donate captured German cannon to the cities of Boise, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, St. Anthony, Montpelier, Halley, Buhl, Burley, Elmer, Jerome, Rexburg, Preston, Mountain Home, Gooding, Arco, Fairfield, Rupert, Silver City, Malad, Rigby, Meridian and Driggs.

Walter McCrea, Kendrick; Ralph M. Alley, Lewiston; Hermann G. Page, Lewiston, all in Idaho, nominated for the United States naval academy, Annapolis by Representative French, have passed the mental examinations successfully.

ANKENY ESTATE TAX PAID

Holdings, Exclusive of Realty in Oregon, Valued Over Million.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 31.—(Special.)—The state tax commission today received a check from Levi Ankeny for $23,304 as inheritance tax payment on the estate of Mrs. Levi Ankeny of Walla Walla, who died September 23, 1918.

The tax is collected on half the community estate which is appraised at a net value of $1,212,177, exclusive of the Ankeny realty holdings in Oregon. Personal property in the latter state is included, among these items being 710 shares of stock in the First National bank of Pendleton, valued at $121,700.

EUGENE PASTOR RETURNS

Rev. W. M. Case Resumes Work After Serving Overseas.

EUGENE, Or., May 30.—(Special.)—Rev. William M. Case, pastor of Central Presbyterian church of this city, after a year's absence on Y. M. C. A. duty in France, arrived home last night and will resume his duties here as pastor.

Rev. Mr. Case was one of the most popular Y. M. C. A. men in the first regiment of this city, and if the "Y" workers were all like him, the reputation of that organization would now be different, they declare.

Mrs. Case has had charge of the work of the church during the pastor's absence, ministers from different parts of the state having filled the pulpit throughout the year. During that time every department of the church has been very active and many members have been added, a tribute to Mrs. Case's ability as a managing pastor.

Mr. Schwerdtmann said he left the factory only a few minutes before the fire broke out. He says he saw no sign of the blaze.

LUXURY TAX REPEAL PROGRAMME HALTED

Unexpected Opposition Develops in House.

FINAL ACTION POSTPONED

Representative Cannon Among Leaders in Fight on Proposal—Loss of Revenue Is Cited.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Unexpected opposition to repeal of the luxury tax section of the war revenue bill developed today in the house, and sponsors of several other proposed repeals forced postponement of final action until next week. Its supporters, however, said adoption was certain.

Representative Cannon, republican, of Illinois, and Thomas of Kentucky and Sims of Tennessee, democrats, led the attack against the repeal, which was unanimously proposed by the ways and means committee. Chairman Fordney, republican, and Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, ranking democrat of the committee, urged repeal.

Opponents, however, of the repeal attacked the proposal, declaring that it would only remove costly articles, including wearing apparel, from taxation, which could be borne without financial injury to consumers. Advocates of the repeal declared the tax was levied in time of war to discourage expensive purchases and prevent their manufacture, but admitted that the loss of $85,000,000 revenue would be keenly felt by the treasury.

Farm Legislation Pressed. Passage of legislation to carry out Secretary Lane's project for farms for soldiers was urged before the house public lands committee today by Henry Sterling, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor.

"There is absolutely no division among the 2,000,000 members of the American Federation of Labor as to the desire for this legislation," said Mr. Sterling.

Representative Timberlake, republican, of Colorado, told the committee "sentiment generally in Colorado favors the legislation, adding that the state legislature had granted money to be used in co-operating with the government in the development of land settlements.

Army Estimate Submitted. Estimates sent to congress by the war department provide for maintaining 600,000 men in France and Germany in July, 400,000 in August and 200,000 in September. Major McKay of the army bureau of finance told the house military committee today that should an army of occupation be needed after October 1, congress would be asked for additional funds.

Army Stations Considered. Renewal of the recommendation to congress that the old army stations and posts in the south and west, most of them relics of pioneer days, be abandoned is understood to be planned by the war department. The department would utilize some for hospital or other government purposes and sell the remainder.

Army officials say maintenance of these posts not only has been disproportionately expensive, but has weakened the effort to organize an efficient army by scattering the various elements throughout the country.

NOTED AIR FIGHTERS HOME Famous 94th Pursuit Squadron Reaches New York.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The famous 94th pursuit squadron, formerly commanded by Eddie Rickenbacker, American "ace of aces," some of whose members flew with the Lafayette escadrille before the United States entered the war, returned today on the transport Louisville. The squadron has been officially credited with downing 70 enemy planes and unofficially with 42 others. The 94th is said to have bagged the first and last German planes during America's participation in the war. The total casualties were ten killed, five wounded and three taken prisoner. Virtually all who returned wore decorations.

Among the fliers of the command who were killed was Major Raoul Lufberry, Captain James Norman Hall was one of those taken prisoner.
