DEMOCRATIC OFFICE HOLDERS REST EASIER

Acting Governor Hart Says Lister's Appointees to Stay.

SITUATION YET UNCERTAIN

Changes Are Anticipated in Event of Governor's Death; Friends Cling to Hopes for Recovery.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 7 .- (Special.) -After returning from a highway intrip through southwestern Washington as far as liwaco Acting Governor L. F. Hart today allayed considerable apprehension prevailing among democratic state appointees, one of whose terms expired today, Mr. thart let it be understood that he con-templates no changes in salaried offices subject to appointment while he is officiating in the capacity of acting governor. This means that the per-sound of Governor Lister's administra-sounce of Governor Lister's administra-tion will remain intact.

The situation is left indefinitely un-certain, but many of Governor Lister's close friends cling to the hope that he will recover and may even return to his executive duties, despite frequent discouraging reports of his condition from the Seattle sanitarium where he is now under treatment,

Several Terms to Expire.

Democratic appointees, whose terms expire in the meantime, will, it is understood, hold over until the administrative status again becomes defined. intrative status again becomes defined. This situation leaves Donald A. Mo-Donald in the office of industrial insurance commissioner beyond the term he was serving, which expires June S. It will also govern the case of Frank R. Spinning, public service commissioner, whose term expires June 16. The latter position pays $5000 a year and the appointive term is six years. Industrial insurance commissioner pays $3500 a year. Rev. T. J. Cannon of Malaga will continue in the position of penitentiary chapiain at Walla Walla from today. No other salaried appointments of importance expire before 1921.

Changes Are Anticipated.

If Acting Governor Hart should become governor in fact, there is no doubt but a number of changes in appointive state offices would be made, probably including the public service commission and several other important departments as the administration would then be republican throughout.

A number of reappointments to state boards were made by the acting gover-nor today, including those of W. W. Emery of Napavine and Pat McCoy of Seattle to the state forestry commis-sion; C. M. Olsen to the Bellingham Normal board of trustees; Robert Prior of Yakima to the board of veterinary examiners; C. Osseward of Seattle to the board of pharmacy.

The total collection made in 1917 from the levy made in 1918 amounted to 527,466,786. The 1918 collection had increased to $43,225,234, and the 1919 collection is $47,722,683. Most of the increase noted is in the larger counties, King going from $11,461,227, collected in 1917, to $14,973,836 as the total 1919 collection. Pierce county advanced from $2,354,622 to $4,804,065 and Spokane from $3,856,918 to $47,22,887.

Distribution of the levy for 1918, now under collection, shows that railway rolling stock $684,457, telephone lines and property, $14,033, telephone lines and property, $32,5415, electric railways $356,622, all other real property $7,416,673.

Though 70 years of age, Miss Lydia Seears of Naches Heights has accomplished a noteworthy amount of warwork, and her associates in the Red ington, June 7.—The bill recently introduced by Representative Summers to put water on 120,000 acres of land in Walla Walla and Franklin counties, Washington, by building a dam at Five-Mile on the lower Snake river is arousing interest outside the area that would be affected.

The fact that the building of this dam would make the Snake river navigable all the year around up to Lewiston suggests an additional value to the project. It means, in other words, that boats could pass readily, now that the Cellio canal is open, from Lewiston to Portland, or from Lewiston to Portland, or from Lewiston to the made of navigable streams at this time but little importance might atuse made of navigable streams at this time but little importance might attach to opening navigation for such a great distance, but times are changing. There is little doubt that the future policy of the federal government will be to make greater use of the navigable waters of the country. When that time comes and with the development of the country along the lower Snake, it is not unreasonable to expect that regular boats will be plying both

A Mutual Appreciation for the Beautiful Accompaniments of Living Is the Richest Fruit of a Successful Home

HOSE many trained and talented "Assistant Home-Makers" whose help it is the pleasure of JENNING'S to offer you, aspire to instill in every home they influence a spirit of MUTUAL APPRECIATION for the furnishings of that home—an appreciation not existing for the wife or mother of the home alone, but shared happily and congenially by every member of the family.

JENNING'S realizes that it is impossible for us, in the twinkling of an eye, to MAKE the sort of a home that satisfies our high ideals of what a home should be. But we can lay the solid foundation—the SURE foundation—by planning homes for PERMANENCY, for PLEASURE-GIVING, for INTEREST-INVITING.

And when the home is tried and mellowed by the years (with new things added often enough to keep the picture freshly colored and inspiring) it will fairly BREATHE the spirit of MUTUAL LOVE AND DE-VOTION for the worth-while things of life—and be a beautiful illustration of what it means and will mean to you all your life to have, now, a truly SUCCESSFUL Better Home.
