Thirty-Six Games Are Played During 1919 Season.

ALL-STAR CLUB IS PICKED

Because of No Individual Stars Task of Selecting Nine Best Bets Is Somewhat Difficult.

1919 Mythical All-Star Team. III Drincoll, Columbia, estober, enneth Scott, Washington, pitcher, win Cole, Lincoln, first base, hinny Sullivan, Jefferson, second buse, auis Coulter, lefferson, shortstop, buls Gallo, Lincoln, third base, agene Scates, Lincoln, left field, aris Hammett, Jefferson, center field, enny Dolph, Washington, right field.

BY LAWRENCE G. SMYTH.

After playing a scheoule of 36 games the teams in the Interscholastic league closed one of their most successful sea-sons last week with three of them tled sons last week with three of them lied for first place-Lincoln, Washington and Jefferson. There are no stars who stand out over the rest and it is some job pick-ing nine men who look the best in the Beginning with the catcher, Bill Dris-coll of Columbia looks like the league's best bet. Bill has caught every game for the collegians this season and has bandled himself in fine shape. He is hitting among the leaders and his bin-gles come when hits mean runs. Wilfred Hemcke of Lincoln is a good catcher, but he was out of three games this senson and this kept him from the all-star. Hobson of Franklin is a good man and with a little more ex-perience he ought to show to advantage. There is no first-class twirler in the league, but one who stands out as the best this season is Kenneth Scott of Washington. Scott has been troubled with a bad hip all season and has not been able to display the form that won him a place on the mythical all-star team last year. In the games he played this wear he showed up good and anthis year he showed up good and ap-pears to be the best of the heavers. Dave Wright of Lincoln is a good twinter and next year ought to be a winner. "Eabe" Thomas of Franklin is one of the best this year, but lacks?

the experience to put him on the team. The 16-year-old lad should prove to be a consistent pitcher next season. First base goes to Irwin Cole of Lin-coln. Cole has proved himself the peer coin. Core has proved missin the peer of the initial sackers. He is hitting in the .300 class and his fielding has been nearly perfect. "Babe" Thomas of Franklin was a good man while he played the sack, but he was put on the moment mound.

and base is the hard part of the infield to pick. Johnny Sullivan of Jef-ferson and Harry Thomas of Franklin have been running neck and neck all year. Both men are good hitters and brainy fielders. Thomas did not show up the first part of the season as well as Sullivan and so the position goes to the Jefferson man. Sullivan has been the brains of the blue and gold team The brains of the brie and gold team and his headwork has contributed a lot toward the Democrats' standing. Coulter of Jefferson is the class of the league at the shortpatch. He han-dles himself fibe on the bases. Louis Gallo has been playing con-sitient ball all season and is considered by all to be the best all considered by all to be the best all-ground player by all to be the best all-ground player in the league. Louis is an exceptionally good infielder and is one of the best sluggers in the league. He is always "talking the game up" and is one of the "peppiest" men ir the league. In left field there is Eugene Scales of Lincoln. Scales is a very good hitter and a fast man in the field. He will be back at Lincoln next year and ought to burn up the league with his hitting. Earle Hamnett is the most likely-

Earle Hamnett is the most likely-looking man for the center-field posi-tion, although he is only a fair hitter. Hamnett gets on the bases, however,

Considering the time and trouble genera-tions of players have taken in developing a scientific style of chess play it is surpris-ing that the bulk of the players are not here improssed by the books. It is from these that one can trace the four successive stages of chess strategy. Beginning with the Philledrian style. The playing the saves apparently treated simply as obstacles in the way of the more powerful chess pleces; then the simest revolutionary change was an active plece which in certain slux-tors could join in an attack down to present very warm in his praises of Olympia's three 18-hole courses. Ora Morningstar, former holder of two bolkline billiard tilles, is a visitor in Los Angeles, having arrived there liket week. Morningstar has issued a challenge to William F. Hoppe, balk-tine champion of the world, provided the champion will come down a triffe in his demand for a $10,000 side bet. "Schaefer, Cochran or myself could undoubtedly defeat Hoppe," said Morn-ingstar recently, "and the champion knows this. Therefore, he is demanding a side bet that is almost impossible to raise without a flock of backers. No other champion has ever asked such a bet to risk his title and in the days of the late "Jake" Schaefer the tille was played for from $2500 to $5000 and the champion was glad to get that." the same unit, will be in Corvallis for the opening of school. The Murdock Manufacturing & Supply npany of Cincinnati, O., is offering Company of Cincinnati, O., is offering golf clubs a drinking fountain which seems to meet golf course requirements. The fountain will not freeze. It drains itself automatically after each drink, and can be installed on supply lines leading to greens. Chairmen of grounds committees are invited to write the company for literature and prices.

Willie Park, one of the best-known golfers and golf course architects in the world, recently visited Chicago to put the finishing touches on the third course of the Olympia Fields Country club. He also offered suggestions on the first and second courses. He was Left to right-Al Zweifel and Harvey
