INFORMAL rather than formal have been the affairs of the past week in which society folk have engaged. The only largely attended wedding of the week was that of Miss Edna Minsinger and S. Spencer Scott on Monday. About 300 guests gathered in the Westminster Presbyterian church for the impressive service.

Entertaining for brides-elect has also figured in the week's social calendar, but the greater part of the affairs have been for out-of-town visitors, many of them former Portland women who have come here for the summer. Nearly all the entertaining for these women has been informal in the nature of small teas, dinner parties, motor trips and luncheons. One of the teas of the week was that of Mrs. A. D. Charlton Tuesday afternoon complimenting Mrs. Frank Wellington Gilbert, her house guest for the summer.

With the return of the young people from colleges in the East as well as on the coast, many affairs are being planned, dinner dances being the most popular. The Waverly Country club will be the scene of many gay parties on week-end evenings and house parties will also furnish much enjoyment for the college set.

With the opening of July many will be leaving for the beach and motor trips to the resorts are being planned for the house guests of Portlanders.

Prominent among out-of-town guests this week are Mrs. Philip Kamm of San Francisco, and her mother, Mrs. E. D. Roberts of Los Angeles, who are the house guests of Mrs. Jacob Kamm. Mrs. Kamm will be here until about July 1. Many delightful affairs have been given in their honor, among them being the luncheon Wednesday in the rose room of the Hotel Benson for which Mrs. Charles Tilton Kamm was hostess.

Beautiful roses in graduated effect to the sides of the table gave the effect of a rose garden. Covers were laid for Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. W. C. Alford, Mrs. J. N. Teal, Mrs. William Wheelwright, Mrs. Jacob Kamm, Mrs. Roderick MacLean, Mrs. Charles Hindman, Mrs. Carl Wernicke, Mrs. Jacob Gray Kamm, Mrs. William Robertson, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Philip Kamm, Mrs. James A. McKinnon, Mrs. Roberts and the hostess.

Mrs. Kamm and her mother were honored Wednesday with a trip over the highway and luncheon at Forest hall by Mrs. Charles Tilton Kamm. Miss Ruth Teal entertained for Mrs. Kamm with a luncheon Thursday, Mrs. W. C. Alford with a luncheon at her home on Saturday and Mrs. E. V.

Vachon will be hostess at an informal affair in her honor Monday afternoon.

Mrs. R. O. Gentry (Flora Jessop), formerly of Portland, who is now living in Seattle, was the house guest the past week of her mother, Mrs. William Jessop, 429 Irving street. She will go to Seaview, Wash., this week to visit her sister, Mrs. J. Morrin McDonnell, and will return about July 7 to spend two weeks more with her mother.

Mrs. George Moser of St. Paul is the house guest of her niece, Mrs. Lloyd Bates, at her home in Laurelhurst. Mrs. Bates entertained informally Friday afternoon, honoring several out-of-town guests, Mrs. Moser, Mrs. James McChesney, the guest of Mrs. Leroy Fields; Mrs. Don Mulvane and Mrs. William Fries.

Mrs. George P. Whiteside entertained with an informal dinner dance at Waverly Country club last evening, honoring her daughter, Miss Marion Whiteside, who has recently returned from the east. Covers were laid for 30 of the younger set.

Mrs. W. J. H. Clark was hostess at a charmingly appointed luncheon given Thursday in the grill of the Hotel Portland in compliment to Mrs. Abe Charnack of San Francisco. The table was centered with a bowl of Cecil Bruner roses and ferns and presented an attractive appearance. Covers were laid for Mrs. Charnack, Mrs. Henry Friedlander, Mrs. A. H. Johnston, Mrs. W. G. Holcomb, Mrs. Fred L. Graves, Mrs. Roy Nichols, Mrs. Robert Clark and the hostess.

Miss Lucille Pierce of La Grande and Miss Lavina Rogers, 348 Wasco street, left Tuesday evening to attend the national Delta Delta Delta convention in Detroit, Mich. They will represent sent the chapter at Oregon Agricultural college.

Mrs. Clara H. Waldo of Los Angeles has arrived in Portland to spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Folger Johnson. Several informal affairs are being planned in her honor.

A distinguished visitor in Portland the past week has been Mrs. Charles H. Cheney of Berkeley, Cal., whose husband is in Portland to plan city zoning. Several informal affairs have been given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cheney. Mrs. Folger Johnson entertained Monday with an informal tea at the University club, Mrs. W. C. Morgan and Mrs. H. B. Torren with small dinner and luncheon parties. Mrs. Cheney is much interested in child education and the community school movement.

The chief event of interest to society folk on Monday was the wedding of Miss Edna Minsinger and S. Spencer Scott at 8:30 at Westminster Presbyterian church. Rev. E. H. Pence read the service in the presence of a large assemblage of guests. Pale blue delphinium, masses of Dorothy Perkins roses, palms and greenery transformed the altar into a lovely bower, the tall cathedral candles lending dignity. The aisles were roped with wide white satin ribbons and smilax. J. Hutchison

Lovely in its quaint charm was the wedding Tuesday evening of Mary Louise Allen and Louis Rosenberg, solemnized at 8 o'clock at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral. Dean R. T. Hicks officiated. The bride was beautiful in her mother's wedding gown of broad satin with long court train. The gown was trimmed with rare old lace, which had belonged to her grandmother. Her veil of tulle, also her grandmother's, was caught with old pearls. Instead of the usual bouquet she carried her grandmother's silver prayer book, with a marker of white satin ribbon and white orchids. Miss Genevieve, maid of honor, wore a gown of pale pink georgette, pink hat and carried white lilies. Marguerite, palms and white lilies formed the church decorations. Little James and Patsy McKenna, children

United States. The collection included many well-known studies, familiar through their reproduction in the International Studio. Vanity Fair and other magazines. Added to the collection of Mrs. Briggs (Henrietta Kibbe) were many prints loaned through the courtesy of William Dyer of Hood River and Miss Maude Ainsworth. The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. L. H. Briggs, Mrs. F. N. Finch, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mrs. John Claire Monteth, Mrs. Charles Sears, Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, Mrs. Otto Kettnerbach and Mrs. H. F. Gray.

Miss Isabella Talmadge of Athens, Ga., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Keating. She was a member of the Keating's party on their recent trip to Mount Hood and will go with them this week on a camping trip up the McKenzie.

Frank N. Gilbert received with the hostess and the honor guest. Red rambler and long-stemmed Frau Karl Druschki roses formed effective decorations in the drawing room and the dining room was charming in pink rambler and Caroline Testout. Assisting about the rooms were the bridesmaids of Mrs. Gilbert's wedding, Mrs. Neale Seely (Marie Haller), Miss Helen Haller, Miss Helen Honeyman, Miss Mary Warrack, Miss V. Ona Guthrie and Miss Antoinette Mears. The mothers of the former bridesmaids poured. They were Mrs. R. H. Guthrie, Mrs. Robert Warrack, Mrs. J. D. Honeyman, Mrs. E. C. Mears and Mrs. H. H. Haller.

Miss Sally Hart, daughter of Mrs. Frank E. Hart, will return to Camp Lewis today, where she is a reconstruction aide in occupational therapy. Miss Hart has been resting at home for a month, but is now in condition to return to her work.

The visit of Mrs. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills college, Oakland, Cal., in Portland next week is causing interest among women interested in education and college affairs. Mrs. Reinhardt will arrive in Portland Tuesday, July 1, and will remain here until July 8. She will be the house guest of Mrs. Helen E. Stretz. Several large affairs are being planned in her honor, prominent among them being two teas which are being planned by the Mills College alumnae and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. The dates for the teas will be set after Dr. Reinhardt's arrival. Mrs. Reinhardt is now on her way home to California, after a trip through Idaho and Washington, where she delivered commencement addresses. She is a scholar, educator and writer of note.

The last of the sonata recitals being given at the home of Mrs. Margaret Burrill Biddle will be this afternoon. Mrs. Susie Fennell Pipes and J. Hutchinson have arranged a delightful program. Mrs. Biddle has offered her home for these recitals, this afternoon's making the third of the series. Last Sunday about 90 people attended the recital. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, who is in charge of the arrangements. The affairs are not invitational.

One of the delightful affairs of the week was the tea given yesterday by Mrs. William F. Kettnerbach and Mrs. Harvey Briggs as a benefit for the women's building fund of the University of Oregon. The tea revolved around a most unusual and beautiful exhibition of pictorial photography by artists of international fame from England, Scotland, France, Canada and the
