TRYING TO FOOL THE FARMERS. In the Portland rate case, as in any litigation, one can judge of the strength or weakness of a person's case by the character of the statements and the attitude of the lawyer.

A REAL FATHER'S DAY. Representative Snell of New York has encountered opposition to his resolution calling on the president to designate the third Sunday in June as "fathers' day."

VACATION LAND. The federal forest service, in calling official attention to the "ideal vacation lands" which are scattered throughout the country, discloses a fact not as widely known as it ought to be.

AMERICAN PHYSICAL STANDARDS. The first adequate physical survey of the people of the United States was made possible by the recent draft, and the report of the surgeon-general of the army presents some illuminating data on this topic.

AN OLD-TIME BEST-SELLER. To have achieved a sale of half a million copies was so noteworthy for a book printed in the middle of the last century, when book publishing was not the fine art that it is now.

RECLAIMING CRIPPLED CHILDREN. Dr. Abraham Jacoby, who died in New York recently at the age of 89, was one of the pioneer workers because of the pioneer work he did for children.

OMAR OF THE EAST. A book of verses underneath the bough, A loaf of bread, a jug of wine, and thou, No longer seem the pair of dice they ought to be.

AWAY FROM YOU. If I should leave you, dear, tonight (An unkind fate might will it so), The stars would never seem as bright O'er any land where I might go.

MY FAITH. They say you are dead, but I know better. You say I am empty gone away. Though now you are bound by an unknown letter, I know you'll come back some day.

pay for treatment. This law, which was enacted by the 1917 legislature, and is recorded in chapter 145 of the general laws of that year, provides the method by which any school officer or teacher or any physician will file a petition with the county judge may initiate proceedings under which a physician designated by the court shall report on the probability of affording relief.

Results from operation of similar laws in other states indicate that more than 90 per cent of children treated have become self-supporting. Existence of the law, which is not as widely known as it ought to be, incidentally also illustrates the situation of a large middle class with respect to medical attendance.

MAKING WORLD SMALLER. The ultimate meaning of the projected tunnels under the English channel and the straits of Gibraltar is indicated by a trade mark recently printed which shows that they will reduce the distance between London and Rio de Janeiro to 5198 miles.

WHAT WOULD WASHINGTON DO? Opponents of a league of nations never weary of quoting warnings by Presidents Washington, Jefferson and Monroe against alliances with European nations and against meddling in the affairs of Europe.

THE FOREST FIRES IN IDAHO AND MONTANA suggest the need of aerial fire engines. If a dirigible balloon carrying a water tank could fly over an incipient fire and accurately drop its load, the land fire-fighters' job would be easy.

THE LANE COUNTY FAIR association may not induce Governor Oloott to jump daily from a parachute in the clouds, but the association's press agent deserves credit for thinking up the scheme of inviting him to do it.

IF A BOURBON is a man who refuses to learn anything from experience, the Turks who are proposing to set up an independent government are the bourbonist chaps that history tells anything about.

THE BIRDS MIGHT TRILL their sweetest notes. And fill the air with cadence true, The birds might trill their sweetest notes. Were you not there to hear it, too.

large American population. It will not be easy to understand why the mountain states of Montana and Idaho should, with Maine, in the extreme northeast, and Florida in the extreme southeast, be printed in black, denoting the largest percentages of rejections. Clearly there is something in place of the reign of brute force and hate.

LIBRARY SERVICE. The annual report of the librarian of the Portland public library is a reminder of the complete revolution of the attitude of the librarian toward the public which has taken place in a generation. The time is well within the memory of the middle-aged when books were treated as precious documents, so carefully guarded as to be almost inaccessible except to persons possessing inexhaustible wealth.

Law and the Testimony." This used to be found on nearly every bookshelf, and it probably survives now in a good many garrets in the older-settled country. In it were grouped, under appropriate headings, biblical texts establishing the cardinal doctrines of Christianity. This was followed by a story full of scenic descriptions, "The Hills of the Shatemuc," and she also wrote a second success, which also but not quite reached the selling record of "The Wide, Wide World."

Autocratic Assumption Not League Convener is the Logical Issue. GOLD HILL, July 17.—(To the Editor.)—I have been a reader of The Oregonian for almost 50 years. Since the beginning of the war just closed, I have, perhaps, been as close a reader and student of the muddled affairs into which Christendom has been plunged as any other ordinary person. I am a republican and have always been one.

imitators. By Grace E. Hall. The power divine creates all things that grow. There is no greater argument, I claim, Of man's descent from God, than that, below, No power creates new life. It is the same In every realm: the man-made things of our vast world; the man-made things of our vast world; the man-made things of our vast world.
