

MILITARY OCCUPATION OF MEXICO FAVORED

Texas Representative Would Withdraw Recognition.

AMERICAN BOY KIDNAPED

Efforts to Prevent Smuggling of Arms and Ammunition Are to Redouble.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Military occupation of Mexico by the United States was advocated by Representative Hudspeth, democrat, Texas, in an address today in the house.

"The time has arrived," declared Mr. Hudspeth, "when this government should say to Carranza: 'You have not fulfilled your obligations in the protection of American lives, so we withdraw recognition of you and will put troops in Mexico to protect American lives until order is restored there.'"

After reading the resolution recently adopted by the Texas senate, which asked the federal government either to use troops, or permit the state to act, Mr. Hudspeth added:

"But that is not necessary. 'That flag' he was pointing to the Stars and Stripes hanging over the speaker's desk, 'is sufficient.' This morning, after publication of the military intervention, Mr. Hudspeth declared he was 'not a jingo' and that he only asked for the protection of American lives.

Philip Thompson, 14-year-old son of John West Thompson, an American citizen, was kidnaped from his father's ranch, 20 miles from Mexico City, and is being held by Mexican bandits for 1500 pesos ransom, the state department was advised today. Urgent representations have been made to the Mexican government, it was announced. The bandits took a horse and a revolver from the boy before taking him from the ranch and they were said to have threatened to execute him unless the ransom was paid.

Efforts to prevent the smuggling of arms and ammunition into Mexico from the United States are to be redoubled. This was made known today at the state department after publication of a proclamation signed by the president on July 12 restoring to the state department control over shipments of munitions to the south.

President Wilson, in his proclamation, referred to conditions of domestic violence in Mexico "prompted by the use of arms or munitions of war produced in 1912 and 1917 regulating shipments of munitions would be 'rigorously prosecuted.'"

Power of prescribing exceptions and limitations in the application of laws against shipments of munitions was delegated to the secretary of state by the president. It was said, however, that no new policy would be announced as the United States had been permitting shipments to go through to the Carranza government from time to time.

Mexican Aid Asked. Before the United States entered the war, Mexico purchased large quantities of munitions here and it is from this supply that the shipments have been made. The Mexican authorities, however, have complained that shipments were not permitted to come through in sufficient quantities to enable the government to prosecute vigorously its campaign against bandits and last week Ygnacio Bonillas, the Mexican ambassador, requested that his government be permitted to purchase arms and munitions. So far as has been announced, no action has been taken on this request.

Henry P. Fletcher, the American ambassador to Mexico, in telegrams today to the Mexican senate and house of representatives, requested their patriotic co-operation towards securing more efficient and adequate protection for the lives of Americans in Mexico, so that "unimpeded enjoyment by Americans of property rights lawfully acquired in Mexico which is accorded them in other friendly countries," might be obtained.

Mr. Fletcher's telegrams were in reply to messages he received from members of the Mexican senate and house thanking him for his fair and impartial statement of conditions in Mexico made recently before a committee of the American house of representatives.

The messages were practically identical. That to the house said: "I beg to express my sincere appreciation of the cordial sentiments expressed in the kind telegram of yourself and other members of the house of representatives, and fervently share your hopes and desires for more close and friendly relations between our two countries, and trust that I may count on your patriotic co-operation towards securing more efficient and adequate protection for the lives of Americans in Mexico and that unimpeded enjoyment by Americans of property rights lawfully acquired in Mexico which is accorded them in other friendly countries, thus removing the most serious causes of difficulty and misunderstanding between two great peoples, who, I am convinced, desire to live in neighborly friendship, based upon justice and mutual respect."

HENRY PRATHER FLETCHER.

GENERAL TERRAZAS TO RETURN

Carranza Government Restores Confiscated Property.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—General Luis Terrazas, former governor of Chihuahua, Mexico, will return to his home in the near future, according to an announcement made by members of his family here, following receipt of advice from Washington that the Carranza government had returned to him thousands of acres of land confiscated during several revolutions.

General Terrazas, who recently celebrated his 50th birthday, commanded the Mexican forces that administered the first decisive defeat to the French in their effort to place Maximilian on the throne of Mexico.

Until his property was swept away by the revolution, he was reputed to be the wealthiest man in Mexico.

Holguin in the Villa Ahumada district, 25 miles south of Juarez, compelled the Erupcion Mining company to suspend all operations at its mine, E. F. Knotts, president of the company, announced today.

The Erupcion company is owned by New York and El Paso men. The mine is located 40 miles east of Villa Ahumada, where a federal prison is stationed, but no protection has been given the mine, the officials stated. The mine office and store were looted by Villa on his march to Juarez in June.

WAITERS ALL REFUSE TIPS

20 Per Cent of Gross Receipts Much Preferred in Rome.

ROME.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Restaurant waiters have been recently veritable ancient Caesars in Rome, for they have controlled both the public and the hotel and restaurant proprietors. Romans cannot eat outside the confines of their own home, for there is now no place to eat. All restaurants are closed.

The quarrel is on the unending subject of tips. It has been the policy during some weeks to include the tip in the bill. At the end of each day the waiter's share would amount to 20 per cent of the gross receipts in some cases. The proprietors found that this procedure was not acceptable to the guests and asked the waiters to return to the former system of voluntary tipping. They refused.

Some hotels were forced to accede to the demands of the waiters, and in these alone was anyone able to procure food. Because these hotels were the only ones in which people could be served the waiters clashed with the patrons. Italian officers accompanied by women were insulted, while a dignified British general, just returned from the campaign in Palestine, was subjected to a somewhat tortuous exhortation.

GERMAN LEADERS SCORED

ernment had asked permission to publish the contents of the British patch, but that such permission had not been received.

The reading of the note caused a great sensation in the assembly. In commenting, Herr Erzberger said:

Leaders Are Criticized. "In 1918 President Wilson used every effort to bring about peace, but Mr. Wilson's peace work was sabotaged by the proclamation of unrestricted submarine warfare and at least twice an honorable peace could have been brought about, but a fight with the military both times prevented. At the end of September I was Munich. The papal nuncio came to me, and with tears in his eyes said: 'Now everything is lost, and for your poor fatherland, too.'"

"The collapse of Germany," continued Herr Erzberger, "was not brought about by revolution, but by madness of the country's political and military authorities, by lack of a supreme army command everywhere. For this his patience intimidated and terrorized the German people and are still pursuing these aims. We had to accept a peace of violence because that was the only way out.

"We have undertaken the responsibility for their misdeeds; if they wash their hands in innocence—hundred times, with loud 'noes,' they will not free themselves of their guilt, either before history, or their own consciences."

WORLD REVOLT PLANNED

his course is his fixed belief that the world has been ruined by the war and cannot recover economically rapidly enough to satisfy the laboring masses. He counts on hard times and discontent everywhere. For this his patience will wait and while he is giving impetus to the bolshevik fight in Western Europe he will seek to fortify himself in Russia, his main stronghold, and in his side show in Hungary.

Historic Mound Map Due Recent Exploration in Oregon Made by Chicago Packer.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, July 26.—(Special.) The department of history at the Oregon Agricultural college under Professor J. B. Horner is preparing a map locating the prehistoric mounds of Oregon. This is being done partly as a result of a recent exploration of the prehistoric burial grounds on the Calapalooa by summer school students.

Carlton B. Swift, Chicago packer, accompanied by E. G. White of Portland, Ralph R. Cronie, editor of the Albany Democrat, and Professor Horner visited the prehistoric ruins a few days ago. Two additional mounds were discovered on the Osburn farm, which makes approximately 30 mounds along the banks of the Calapalooa and half as many others on streams near by which have been found by explorers.

Twin Cities Children at Picnic. (Special.)—A picnic attended by more than 200 children of the Twin Cities was held at Midway park, on the Chehalis Centralia yesterday. The Chehalis Salmon army was host. The traction company allowed a half-fare rate for the children. During the forenoon games were played and a big dinner was held at noon. Captain R. M. Eberhart had charge of the affair.

The development in telephonic and telegraphic equipment effected during the war would have occupied probably from 10 to 15 years during ordinary peace times.

FORTIFY THE COMPLEXION AGAINST SUN AND WIND

MANY a lovely complexion has been marred through neglect of its owner to protect the skin against the changes wrought through unusual exposure to sun and wind. Now that the season of outdoor play and recreation is at hand, every woman should consistently use Sanitropic Lotion, that delightful and indispensable toilet luxury, which affords absolute protection to the most delicate complexion. Summer sun and strong breezes have no terrors for the woman who uses Sanitropic; it gives absolute protection from sunburn, windburn, tan and freckles; it keeps the skin soft and cool, imparting to it a wholesome, velvety texture. Sanitropic also allays irritation and itching in cases of rash, prickly heat, mosquito or other insect bites; it is delightfully soothing and refreshing. It is prepared and scented with powdery hints of white, flesh and brunette. Sanitropic is easily procured at most drug and department stores. If you cannot secure it, send 50 cents, with dealer's name, to the Edenscott Laboratories, Portland, Or., for a full-size bottle, postpaid.—Adv.
