Exhibit to Be Printed.

The exhibit of J. P. Newell, consultmission of Oregon and which was used as the basis of the Oregon contention that rates should be based on just costs of service, will be printed, it was announced. Only five copies were prepared originally, but as they have been placed in exhibit, the commission has pared originally, but as they have been placed in exhibit, the commission has ruled that copies be furnished to all attorneys who will make briefs in this case. The printing bill will not be less than $1000, J. O. Bailey, assistant attorney-general of Oregon, has estimated.

Mr. Corbaley said the total value of Seattle's more than 1200 manufacturing institutions was approximately $100,000,000, those of Tacoma about one-third of that amount and those of Portland about one-half. There are nearly 2000 manufacturing institutions on Puget sound, Mr. Corbaley said, He placed Seattle's annual sale of manufactured products at between $100,000,000 and $125,000,000 and Portland's between $50,000,000 and $255,000,000 and $255,000,000 and $255,000,000 and $255,000,000 and $350,000,000 and $350,000,000 and $350,000,000 and $255,000,000 and $255,000

Foreign Trade Volumes Compared.

The testimony of Mr. Franco was introduced to show the volume of, Seatile's foreign trade compared with that of Fortland and to show that white wheat was the principal commodity exported from Fortland on the sound it was only an incidental item in world tile's foreign trade combared with that of Portland and to show that while wheat was the principal commodity exported from Portland on the sound it was only an incidental item in world trade. Mr. Nicholson fold of the mammoth port facilities which have been constructed in Seattle to aid shipping. Tacoma sought only to call attention to the volume of her occan commerce and the facilities and now has and has planned to develop that branch of trade, and the city's industrial plants valuation, which, it was said, totaled $13,000,000.

Everett witnesses told of the trade Everett witnesses told of the trade in that city and declared that if Portland obtained a rate differential Ever-ett would want the same over Seattle. Several of the witnesses were not cross-examined at all, and in all other cases examination was very brief, every one connected with the case co-operating to expedite the hearing so it could be completed early today.

The few wreppool policemen who remained loyal arged with their batons and num-rs of people were caught in various ops and received severe punishment. In the whole of Scotland road scarcely a shop was left intact. Windows were broken and all the contents were carried away. One jewelry establishment was ransacked from top to bottom, boot shops were entirely cleared of their stocks. Scarcely any of the real strikers were involved in the rioting. At an early hour today the military was summoned to suppress the rioting as only some 50 policemen remained on duty. It is understood here that never in the history of Liverpool have its principal thoroughfares presented such scenes of wreck as at the present moment. In the whole of Scotland road scarcely

RESULTS NOT WORDS

COUNTS

PRACTICE

Dr. B. E. Wright I want your dental work on the basis of giving you better results, dollar for dollar, than you can receive elsewhere.

¶ I believe in publicity, provided the advertiser confines himself to the plain, unvarnished truth.

I do not claim supernatural powers or to possess a secret remedy unknown to other dentists learned and skilled in their profession.

I do claim that I am as skillful in the science and art of dentistry as any man living. Some dentists might condemn me because I advertise, yet few of them would deny that I am the equal in skill of any dentist that has ever practiced on the Pacific coast.

It is a common error that to produce a plate requires little skill and that all dentists can produce about the same results in this line of work.

I Nothing can be further from the truth. A well-fitted plate that does not work loose, mar your articulation and that you can use with confidence on any kind of food requires the greatest skill to produce.

In this and other branches of my profession you will secure only the best results at this office.
