

TWO WHO LOVED AND FOUGHT TOGETHER MAKE HOME HERE

Edward H. Greenwell, Veteran of Many Battles in Which Canadians Took Part, and His Wife, Nurse in War-torn Area, Come to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Greenwell.

THEIR lives intertwined as the result of the war, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Greenwell, both veterans of the Canadian forces, are in Portland visiting Mr. Greenwell's mother, Mrs. Annie Godeby, 434 Mill street, and making plans for establishing their permanent home here.

Their war romance reads like the pages of a book, the two being brought together at a hospital, where Mr. Greenwell had been taken suffering from a severe shrapnel wound. Mr. Greenwell was twice cited for bravery, while Mrs. Greenwell was recommended for two decorations from King George, and was only prevented from receiving the decorations by illness.

Wife Goes as Nurse.

Mrs. Greenwell, who comes from Glasgow, enlisted in 1914 with the voluntary aid division of nurses, an organization of which the members served without pay, and for four and one-half years saw service in the hospitals of England and France and on several occasions with hospital units near the front-line trenches. At that time she was Miss Nancy Wilson.

In 1918, however, after the great battle of Cambrai, when she was attached to field hospital No. 10, she was called to the bedside of a wounded Canadian, and the whole course of her life was changed. Edward Greenwell had taken part in the terrific conflict, had been wounded by shrapnel and gassed, and had been brought to the field hospital more nearly dead than alive.

They were married at the little town of St. Albans, just outside London, and Mr. Greenwell brought his wife to Vancouver, B. C., and thence to Portland, where they will make their home.

Blood Given Wounded Soldier.

On one occasion Mrs. Greenwell volunteered for the delicate operation of transfusion of blood, and gave three pints of her blood to a Canadian soldier who was at death's door. The operation was successful and the nurse was recommended for a decoration for the self-sacrificing act. Early in the spring she received notice that she would receive two decorations from King George in London on April 29, one for general service and the other in recognition of giving her blood for the transfusion. Sickness prevented her from receiving the decorations at that time, however, and she came to America before a second date could be set.

Mr. Greenwell was formerly of Salt Lake City, but joined the Canadian forces at Nelson, B. C., in April, 1918. He and his four brothers, Tom, Joe, Norman and Will, could not wait for Uncle Sam to take up the gauntlet, but all went to Canada together to enlist. Three of the brothers, Edward, Joe and Norman, went to France together and were in the trenches most of the time from Ypres to Vimy ridge, a period of two and one-half years. During that time Greenwell was twice wounded by shrapnel and three times gassed. He fought at the battles of Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Arras, Mouchy, Cambrai, Hill 70, Somme, Le Quesnoy, St. Omer, Hensies, and finished up at Mons.

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN PLAN
Visit of Fleet to San Francisco to Be Notably Celebrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—When the Pacific fleet leaves here the remnant celebration will be notable in many ways.

President Wilson is expected to be here and he, too, will be given a rousing welcome.

Major-General Hunter Liggett, former commander of the American 1st army, also is expected to return to San Francisco to assume command of the western department of the army, and will receive the plaudits of the San Francisco populace.

It is also planned to make the visit of the fleet the occasion for a great tribute to American women who served during the war at home and abroad.

LADIES! IT'S A SECRET!

This "Over the Top" Event at the Grocers' Picnic.

Just what the "over-the-top" race for ladies is going to be at the grocers' picnic next Wednesday at Bonanza nobody knows but the sports committee—and they won't tell—but a dozen prizes will go to the winners, including Yogan chocolates, Gratton peanut butter, a case of Dickinson jelly, a case of Knight's table delicacies and the like.

Besides which the grocers' picnic is the greatest good time of the year, anyway. Dancing, 'n' everything. "Ask your grocer."—Adv.
