THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, PORTLAND, SEPTEMBER 7, 1919.

EGINNING Monday, Annual Fall Sale of Notions. Beginning Monday, Sewing Week all over the store. A good old-fashioned common-sense Sewing Week. Women who sew have little fear of the high cost of living. Their humming sewing machines, their flying needles, lower the cost of everything they wear. Better even than that. costs can be lowered on many things that the whole family wears.

LININGS OF ALL KINDS

Everybody wants fancy linings, so far. Fortunately there are quantities of just the kinds most wanted ready right now in the Lining Store. Among them are good printed sateens at 75c and 85c yard and cotton-back satins at $2, $2.25, $3.50 yard.

Eldredge Two-Spool Sewing Machines Are Purchasable at

$1 DOWN, $1 WEEK

Paying for a machine as it pays for itself is good common sense

With all the things needed for home and wardrobe, to get a machine for an initial payment of a dollar means real thrift. Eldredge machines sew directly from two spools of thread and no bobbins are needed. This means that their mechanism is especially simple and that even an inexperienced needlewoman can soon learn to operate them expertly. An Eldredge twospool sewing machine will save its price over and over again in the home making of the children's clothes and grown-up blouses, dresses, bathrobes, and so on.

Come and see how modern and easy they are.
