LABOR'S ATEMPT TO RULE NATION RAPPED

Dictation to Senate Not to Be Tolerated, Is View.

Senator Williams Declares Working Man Has Right to Quit, but Can · Not Enslave Rest of People.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washmore numerous than any other in this country, has been utterly ignored in the discussion of differences between capital and labor, in the opinion of Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, who arose in the senate the other day to say a word in behalf of the "bourgeoise."

"Shakespeare is authority for the statement that there are dogs and dogs." There are also strikes and strikes," the Mississippi senator began. "When a lot of men strike because their living conditions are intolerable or believed.

"Men are no longer striking simply because they are not getting enough to give them a good standard of living, a wage sufficient. They are striking out of 'sympathy' with one another, making 'sympathetic Strikes' to enforce general propositions that have nothing to do with individual conditions, and they are also beginning to threaten to strike order of force the congress of the United States to do things that they are afraid the congress does not want to do. "Quitting work is one thing and all right. Attempting to coarse the right. Attempting to coerce the con-gress and the public by closing up the avenues of consumption, and interstate commerce, and cynically suggesting starvation or surrender is another thing and all wrong and intolerable. thing and all wrong and intolerable. In other words, we are faced with the situation of a class undertaking to usurp the place of the elected representatives of the people who were sent her by th popl to igislate for the people.

Treason Is Descriptive Word.

"A man has a right to quit work, yes, with a reason—bad reason, good reason, no reason—but he has not a right, by combination or class conspiracy, to tie up the industries, the mails, the commerce, the bread and the meat, and the baby food of the United States in order to reach some ulterior legislatvie purpose.

"Yes might to quit work, yes, gantic conspiracies for the purpose of coercing legislation and usurping the place of the duly elected representatives of the people, the temporary rulers of this country—temporary because they can be replaced at the next election.

PORTLAND MAN GETS STORY OF OLD ABE, HISTORIC WAR EAGLE

Mascot of Wisconsin Regiment Known to H. C. Lohmann, Who Gets His History From Wisconsin Organization.

H. C. LOHMANN, an old-time Port-land printer, formerly employed on The Oregonian and the Telegram, has received from the Historical society of Wisconsin a story concerning Old Abe, a famous war eagle of the CLASS IGNORED rebellion. Old Abe was the mascot of Wisconsin regiment and Mr. Lohmann knew the bird well. The story concerning Old Abe, which was published first in the Wisconsin Magazine of History, says in part:

"Many of the regiments that went forth from the north during the civil war to do battle for the preservation of the Union carried with them some pet or mascot. Of them all, the greatest fame was attained by the mascot of ington.—The great middle class, though a Wisconsin regiment—Old Abe, the more numerous than any other in this famous war eagle. Old Abe was as well sent to Camp Annual Section 19 Se and, spreading it out to its full length, flapped his pinions as though inspired. The excitement of the crowd knew no bounds. Cheer upon cheer resounded and the regiment vowed that the eagle should henceforth be its honored leader. When the 5th Wisconsin was swarp as When the 5th Wisconsin was swarp. er. When the 8th Wisconsin was sworn into service, a prominent part in the ceremony was reserved for Old Abe. A beautiful shield had been prepared for him as a perch, and upon this he sat in dignified calm as the flag was in dignified calm as the flag was honored charge of the state, being kept draned about his wings.

Treason is Descriptive Word.

"We happen to have a government under which it has been decreed, at any rate, whether we can make good or not, that the senate, elected by the states, and the house of representatives, elected by the people, shall legislate, and we have retained to the people the right to replace them with other men if they of not legislative according to the will of the people.

"Now, I say that to come forward at any time and propose a law to the people of the United States and then to say, covertly or openly, or at any rate to say really, no matter how, If you do not pass this or that law we are going to starve the bables in Chicago and New York and Ealtimore and New Orleans; we are going to cut off interstate com-

Sympathetic Strike Opposed.

Senator Williams was addressing himself to that provision of the Cumimins railrond bill which would prohibit railroad workmen from strikins. He continued:

Sportsmanship Is Discussed.

Talking in the cloakroom the toher day somebody spoke about having no discrimination on the ground that a man was poor against the man who was rich.

Discrimination is Upheld.

"I said, 'I will make those discriminations every day; I make them in private life, and I will make them in my public life, whether in income-tax laws or elsewhere, because equal and fair justice requires that you shall make a greater allowance for the man who needs than for the man who has enough.'

"That is a different proposition of the sound that a greater allowance for the man who has enough."

in his apartments in the Hotel Plaza.

After making some minor bequests, the testator left the income of the residue of the estate to his widow, Carrie Roth. Upon her death one-half of the residue goes to the granddaughter, Marcella Roth, who is now with Mrs. Roth in Switzerland. The other half is to be devided equally among the testa-tor's brothers and sisters, Fernaldo and Mack Roth, and Mrs. Bella Leavy and Julia Kahn.

Fernaldo Roth gets immediately the interest on a trust fund of $20,000, and Marcella Roth, the granddaughter, gets, the interest from a trust fund of $50,-000 pending her inheritance of her $500,000 of the $1,000,000 estate.
