Quick, Safe Way to Remove Hairs
 (Toilet Talks.)
 Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear make a paste with a little of the powder and some water; apply and let remain on the hairy surface for two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone.—Adv.

Her brother is Paul Peel, whose "After the East" won him a gold medal in the Paris salon some years ago. Lady Ross will spend the winter in California with her sister.

Beautiful in every detail was the wedding Wednesday evening of Miss Dorothy Adams Parsons and Thomas Foster Metcalf of Danville, Ky., which took place at 8:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Selly Parsons, 29 Chesapeake street, Corvallis, Ore. The rooms were a creditable garden of fall flowers. The mantel was transformed into a floral altar with a canopy banked with vine maple, pink gladioli, blue delphinium and white asters. Two cathedral candles burned on the altar, on either side of which were placed tall baskets filled with beautiful flowers.

Dean R. T. T. Hicks of St. Stephen's pro-cathedral read the service. Only intimate friends of the family were present. David Campbell played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" and preceding the ceremony Miss Charlotte Banfield sang "The Heart of Her," by Cadman.

The bride was charming in a gown of ivory satin and Spanish lace. Her veil fell from a cap of rose point lace and was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her attendants were two of her college friends, Miss Gretchen Colton and Miss Dorothy Dixon. Both wore dainty frocks of organdie with picture hats to match and carried shower bouquets of Ophelia roses. The little Misses Evelyn and Mary Alice Meyer were charming ribbon bearers. They were assisted by Masters Deshison and Amos Lawrence. Stanford Anderson of Portland, University of Oregon student, was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf will spend their honeymoon in the west and will leave soon for Danville, Ky., where they will make their home.

Silken Lingerie for September Brides

I pictured the charm of a little, dark, starry-eyed bride when I chose an orchid crepe negligee with exquisitely fine lace on the filmy over-jacket. $29.75

Another of ivory crepe, pleated to a rich band of lace, and a jacket of georgette, would be filmy over jacket. $29.75

These dainty underings have a special appeal for the girl just starting on her "big adventure." Her silky little camisole or "teddy" must be fresh and sweet as she is herself.

Hats for Everyone

First Floor—

Third Floor—

Most of the hats are velvet, the many are of duvetyne and beaver. Small hats are of the crushed type, often with the only ornament a handsome hat pin or bunch of feathers. Brilliant shades of blue are the latest in millinery, and are surely attractive. . . . $15 to $35

If you prefer a simple little hat for practical wear, you will find a wide assortment on the third floor—hats with all the style features of more expensive hats. The woman who is fond of the mannish sailor will find here just what she is looking for, in four or five different models, showing beaver facing, at $10, $12.50 and $15. Priced $5 to $13.50

Suits Are Popular

Such a diversity of styles makes the choice of the most becoming a delightful task. Coats may be whatever length you prefer—they are flaring, belted, straight, bloused at the waist or below. Embroidery and fur trim the more elaborate models, while buttons and stitching are features of the tailleuses. $20.50 to $125

A Separate Coat Is Indispensable

One simply must have a good-looking coat for wear with one-piece dresses. Fall coats have unusually attractive backs, rippling from circular yokes in many models. Muffy collars are ample protection from the cold of winter rain and wind. Materials range from serviceable mixtures to handsome soft fabrics like Evora and Cham-eleon Cord. $23.50 to $165

Fall Frocks Are Long-Waisted

Narrow belts, cord girdles or bodice styles give the long-waisted effect so much liked this fall. In the wool dresses tricotine is the most favored, particularly in navy, while satins and tricolettes are shown in all colors. Priced $17.50 to $75

Waists, Frilly and Feminine

The newest thing in dressy waists is the dainty lace bertha like "grandmother used to wear." But the effect is quite modern and striking. And of course there are simpler blouses for simpler occasions, and tailored styles for practical wear, in both Georgette and crepe. The reputation of the Emporium Blouse Shop is sustained by the excellent values of all the blouses shown. $5 to $32.50
