terian church for 150 persons. After dinner the speaking programme was held in the Elks' building to which the meeting adjourned.

Business Men Speakers.

Roseburg speakers were A. C. Marsters, president of the Roseburg National bank; J. H. Booth, president of the First National; R. L. Gulle, who told of the prune and apple production and possibilities; A. J. Geddes, expert on canneries and evaporating industries, told of the world-wide demand for the jams and sweets produced in this region; J. W. Perkins, timberman; J. W. Hamilton.

Portland speakers at the final meeting of the tour were J. H. Edwards, D. T. Honeyman, William MacMaster, A. J. Bale, E. H. Sensesich and Cam-

CROIX DE GUERRE AWARDED TO PORTLAND SOLDIER NOW IN HOSPITAL.

Lieutenant Mortimer P. Cook. Word has come from Lieutenant Mortimer P. Cook to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cook of 430 East Fortieth street North, that he has received the French croix de guerre with palm for valorous action with the 2d division in the Champagne offensive. The captain of his company was killed immediately after going over the top, and although Lieutenant Cook was slightly wounded by the same shell, he took command of the company and led it until his unit was recalled, eight days later. This was his first experience under fire.

In a subsequent action in the Meuse-Argonne drive, he received a wound in one arm, which resulted in his being returned to the United States late in December. He was a passenger on the Northern Pacific when he went ground on Fire Island.

Lieutenant Cook is now at Letterman hospital, San Francisco, where he recently underwent an operation which is expected to restore his arm to its normal condition. At the time of his injury he was in the employ of the Equitable Savings and Loan association.

ron Squires, of whom the four first named are directors of the chamber, and with Chairman Strause of the excursion committee the official representatives of the civic body of the trip. All of the addresses were in optimistic vein.

With a total volume of business aggregating $4,700,000 annually it was stated that approximately 90 per cent of the trade goes to Portland jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, and the remainder goes to distant points for goods not readily obtainable except from their sources of supply.

Roseburg is enthusiastically an Oregon town, with the spirit for its full development to be among the most populous and richest of the state.

COMPENSATION $596,167

Washington Commission Reports on Disbursements for Year.

OLYMPIA, Oct. 18.—Compensation paid out to injured workmen of Washington in the year ending September 30, totaled $596,167, the industrial insurance commission reported today. Claims awarded numbered 11,803. Steel shipbuilding, an outgrowth of the war, was third in the list of hazardous occupations, with 1527 claims. Sawmill workers led with 2363 claims and the logging industry was second with 1748.

Workers lost in wages during the year through mishaps $2,123,971.

SKIDDING CAR HITS HOUSE

Woman Hurt When Machine, Unmanageable, Leaves Street.

Mrs. W. Spiro, 665 East Forty-sixth street North, was thrown to the ground and rendered unconscious yesterday when the automobile she was driving skidded on Sandy boulevard and becoming unmanageable, ran across the sidewalk and struck a residence on the north side of the boulevard between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets.

Mrs. Spiro received severe bruises and cuts about the body and possible

Cordial Reception Delights.

One of the pleasant surprises of the trip was the cordial feeling manifested by business men everywhere. Occasional citizens of some of the towns visited lodged complaints, but on the whole there was only rejoicing that the metropolis had sent a delegation truly representative of its modern spirit of co-operation and good-will, reflected in warmth of welcome that left no doubt of mutual pride of state.

One speaker at a banquet expressed the apparent feeling of the people of Southern Oregon when he said that they would not become a part of another state, even if they could, that they were so happy and proud to be citizens of Oregon and working together with Portland it angered them that a pound of their products went to the ultimate consumer with any other than an Oregon label. Almost every man in the delegation had some suggestion to make to the committee in charge as to recommendations that should be made to the directors of the chamber. All of these were directed to the same general object of aiding in practical ways the ambitions for development, through loyal moral support of worthy enterprise.

Oregon manufacturers received wide publicity and aroused enthusiastic support in the cities of Southern Oregon through the display of products in windows of stores. The associated industries of Oregon awarded prizes at each town for the best showing of manufactured products of the state.

Roseburg Gracious Host.

Roseburg welcomed the visitors with genuine hospitality, providing autos for trips into the surrounding country and wherever the individuals wished to go, resulting in several attempts to lure the festive trout from the United States. After luncheon the entire party was taken for a tour of the valleys in the heart of which nestles the seat of Douglas county. The drive included visits to apple and prune orchards where the pack of fruit is in progress, strawberry fields, with ripening fruit, from which were supplied the berries served at the dinner. Some dairy farms and several of the scenic attractions of the locality.

W. C. Harding, president of the Roseburg chamber of commerce, presided at the dinner which was served by the women of the mental culture club. Covers were laid in the assembly room of the First Presby-

How little the average man or woman thinks of the danger of harboring diseased teeth or stumps.

Indifference, procrastination and fear of pain are a few causes for this neglect which sometimes leads to very serious results.

Why not see a dentist before your physician orders you.

The bugaboo of pain has been handed down from former years when dentists were less skilled than at the present time and before the many agencies for the prevention of pain had been discovered.

If a plate is necessary I will remove all of your stumps or diseased teeth without causing you any noticeable pain.

And the plate I will make for you will fit so snug and comfortable, performing all of the functions of natural teeth so satisfactorily, that you will wonder why you did not come sooner.

All dental work that leaves this office must be absolutely satisfactory.

RED CROSS WORK TOPIC

SERVICE DISCUSSED AT CIVIC LEAGUE LUNCHEON.

Debate on Question of Teachers Organizing Is Scheduled for Next Saturday's Meeting.

The work of the home service section of the American Red Cross was the topic at the noon luncheon of the Civic League at the Benson hotel yesterday.

John H. Stevenson, chairman of the service section of the local Red Cross, outlined the scope of the service. Miss Margaret Cressch told of the necessity of continuing to support the home service section. Mrs. Fay T. Catlin, grand supervisor of home service in the six adjacent counties, told of experiences of service workers with which recipients of Red Cross aid. Stewart Rice, former manager of the New York municipal lodging house, discussed problems of the bureau of education, of which he is director, and emphasized the importance of the housing and unemployment movements. A. J. Hall, a veteran of the British army, urged maintenance of the government employment office.

At the luncheon next Saturday noon, C. C. Chapman of the Oregon Voter and C. B. Stillman, president of the American Federation of Teachers, will debate the question of teachers organizing and affiliating with the American Federation of Labor.

Home-Nursing Course to Open.

A course in home care of the sick is to be opened at the Girls' Polytechnic school, October 22. It is to be taught by Miss Letha Humphrey, who is the regular instructor in home nursing. This course will consist of 35 lessons and will be given on Wednesday and Thursday of each week, in the forenoon from 10:30 to 12. It will cover such matters as babies and their care, symptoms and diseases of children, feeding and care of the sick, the bathing of the patient, bedmaking for the sick, causes and prevention of disease.
