

MASSONS PAYS RITES TO COLONEL TUCKER

Body Is Brought Here for Knights Kadosh Services.

BURIAL TO BE IN EAST

Long Record Includes War Service—Simple Life as Hood River Orchardist Prolongs Days.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The body of Colonel W. F. Tucker, ranking colonel in the retired list of the United States army, who died at the Cottage hospital here yesterday from pneumonia, was escorted from the Anderson undertaking parlors to the O.-W. R. & N. station by members of Hood River commandery of Knights Templar. On arrival in Portland tonight the body will be taken at once to the Scottish Rite Masonic temple, where it will lie in state until tomorrow night, when the funeral services of the Knights Kadosh will be held at 9:30 o'clock.

Colonel Leaves Widow. Colonel Tucker is survived by his widow, who accompanied the body to Portland and who will leave with the remains Monday for Chicago, where, beside his parents and grandparents, interment will take place in the old family lot at Graceland cemetery. Colonel Tucker leaves two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Edward Wilder of Elmhurst, a Chicago suburb, and Mrs. Jennie Tucker Johnson of Bloomington, Ill. Seven nephews and two nieces survive. His first wife, by whom he was divorced, was a daughter of the late General John A. Logan. Colonel Tucker received his first commission as a major of the 3rd master's department in 1882. He filled many important positions during his military career of 27 years, having retired because of ill health 10 years ago, while stationed in Chicago. Scores of army officers, whom he then ranked, have won international note since in the great world war.

When in Chicago Colonel Tucker was on the staff of General Fred Grant in the Philippines he was on General Leonard Wood's staff.

Colonel Tucker was a warm friend of General Pershing and of General Liggett, when the latter was a major.

War Service On Record. In addition to serving in the Spanish-American war and in the German campaign, in the Philippines and in the Arctic, Colonel Tucker has seen service at most of the army posts along the Canadian border.

Colonel Tucker had won the hearts of Hood River people during his 10 years of residence here. He was always a military bearing and he was possessed with old time courtesy. He was fond of children and he and his wife on their visits to Hood River found delight in visiting families of friends with little children.

Colonel Tucker's death resulted from disease contracted in the Philippine islands. Ten years ago he underwent an operation that surgeons feared might result fatally. His life was undoubtedly prolonged by the simple routine of an upper valley orchardist. He had made good recuperation, and was in fairly rugged health when the fatal hemorrhage started last Saturday.

Scottish Rite services for Colonel William F. Tucker, prominent resident of Hood River, who passed away here on Friday, October 25, at 9 o'clock in the Scottish Rite cathedral. The body was brought from Hood River to Portland yesterday and will be taken east tonight for interment.

POISON SCARE UNFOUNDED

ARSENIC IN APPLES SPRAYED IS HELD HARMLESS. To Get Fatal Dose One Would Have to Eat 300 Apples, Declares O. A. C. Chemist.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—R. H. Robinson, associate chemist of the Oregon Agricultural college school of agriculture and experiment station, who has completed examination of apples from Oregon orchards which bear deposits of spray material, declares that it would be impossible to eat a sufficient number to cause fatal arsenical poisoning.

Mr. Robinson's laboratory tests of the fruit followed a recent alarm raised by Boston health authorities, who ordered the condemnation of California Bartlett pears and Yakima Jonathan apples, declaring the fruit dangerous for food purposes.

"I endeavored to obtain samples with exceptionally large quantities of spray sediment left on the fruit and consequently picked apples from trees that had received five applications during the season," writes Mr. Robinson. "Although the strength of these applications was double that ordinarily used by horticulturists chemical analysis of these apples showed that the average amount was only .0007 grams of arsenic. To get an average fatal dose it would be necessary for a person to eat 300 apples."

ARMY KEEPS HANDS OFF

WOOLGROWERS' PROTESTS DO NOT INTEREST DEPARTMENT. Senator Chamberlain Making Strenuous Efforts to Keep Captain McGuire in Service.

(Charles C. Hart is in charge of The Oregonian News Bureau at Washington. His office is at 822 Riggs building.) OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 1.—A new light is shed on the proposed sale of many millions of tons of British wool in this country by a letter received from General H. L. Rogers, director of purchases and storage of the war department by Senator McNary.

General Rogers, in response to protests sent to the war department by wool growers in Oregon and elsewhere against the sale of this wool, says it is no affair of the war department. He says he understands that representations were made to the British embassy by the manufacturers' association that there was not sufficient wool in this country to meet the demands of manufacturers, and upon this advice and petition the British government ordered that a large quantity of Australian wool be sold at auction in this country.

Mrs. Virgil E. Keene, president of the Women's Colored Republican club of Portland, Or., has been advised by Senator McNary that he will energetically support the senate resolution to investigate the nation-wide race riots.

Senator Chamberlain is bending every effort to secure the retention in the army of Captain Thomas H. McGuire of Oregon, who served in troop A, an Oregon cavalry organization, on the Mexican border before the war and with the American expeditionary forces in France. Captain McGuire was attached to the 148th field artillery in the fighting at the Marne, the Aisne, St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. He has been designated for discharge, but prefers to remain in the permanent military establishment, for which he has passed the required examinations.

Ethel M. Foster has been appointed postmaster at Clackamas, Or. to succeed herself. The reappointment is made necessary by her recent marriage. Mrs. Foster was formerly Ethel B. Mather.

The records of that department show that patents have been obtained to 99,973 acres of scientific school lands, 98,535 acres of normal school lands, 42,994 acres of insane asylum lands, 386,026 acres of university lands, 49,955 acres of penitentiary lands, 141,015 acres of charitable institution lands, 31,991 acres of public building lands and $9,949 acres of agricultural lands.
