games, after which dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, when refreshments were served.

Among those present were the Misses Olive Valck, Neil Springer, Edna Valck, Marion Gilbert, Edith Valck and Martha Gruhn, and the Messrs. Marion Dodd, Jack Heilig, Charles Brooks, Ed McElwain, Clarence Danley, Frank Valck and Burt Fox.

The Past Matrons' club of Martha Washington chapter, Order Eastern Star, were entertained at a luncheon by Mrs. H. H. Young last Monday.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. L. Bewly, 761 East Yamhill street, the first Monday in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Hollingsworth, formerly of Portland, were host and hostess at one of the most delightful festivities of the Halloween season. They entertained at their country home near St. Helens, November 1, and their guests were the Willamette University club of Portland and vicinity.

Thirty-two young people motored out to the Hollingsworth home in the early evening, and by the time of arrival had developed keen appetites in the brisk air.

A Halloween supper was soon in progress in rooms that fairly breathed of Halloween traditions and autumn plenty. Witches and goblins there were without number. Autumn leaves made a riot of color. Pumpkin faces and the mellow candle lights added to the scene.

After supper the evening passed happily in games.

Mr. Hollingsworth, president of the club, called the assembly to order for a business meeting of a few minutes. He tendered his resignation on account of change of residence, and Mrs. Robert Walsh was elected president for the coming year.

Then, as a finale, the crowd gathered around the piano and sang the old variety songs.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Neal Zimmerman, Dr. and Mrs. George Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Merton DeLong, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Woods, Mr. and Mrs. G. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alby, Mr. and Mrs. James West, Miss Edna Clarke, Mrs. Burdick, the Misses Ethel and Nellie Casabere, R. Reynolds and Paul Anderson.

Miss Lenora Helen Ross, 439 East Forty-fifth street, gave a Halloween frolic Friday, October 31. It was an all-girl party. Dancing and games were enjoyed, a rustic supper being served afterward. The rooms were tastefully decorated in orange and black, with jack-o'-lanterns and black cats.

Those present were: The Misses Karl Craig, Inez Horrigan, Edith Tatum, Roberta Wright, Helen Mattson, Marion Brawley, Bernice Brawley, Gladys Brawley, Alice Ross, Mima Ross and Lenora Ross, Mrs. William Fenton Ross, Mrs. A. R. Brawley, Mrs. Charles Craig and Mrs. Charles Leith Ross.

The Portland Shakespeare Study club will meet next Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. E. Jones, 138 Hazelfern street, in Laurelhurst. Miss Elizabeth Eugenia Woodbury is the instructor. The first act of Richard III is the lesson.

ception and living rooms were gaily decorated. Witches on their broomsticks, bats, owls and startled-looking black cats were all about. Bunches of cornstalks with pumpkins were piled about the white-draped pillars in the halls. Behind a pillar at the foot of the stairs stood a ghost, half hidden, in the library was the spook fortune teller's tent, and in front of which glowed a realistic campfire. In a spooky room in the basement appollohob and other Halloween games were played.

The guests were received by Mrs. J. H. Wilkins, Mrs. Ralph Lee and Mrs. Eugenia Morse. Over 150 joined in the grand march. Led by a ghost and a witch, the guests and their hostesses and hosts marched and counter-marched down the halls. A delightful programme, arranged by Misses Hino and Hoge, was given.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Urquhart in Vancouver was the scene of a Halloween party last week at her home in Irvington. Black cats, witches, goblins and autumn leaves adorned the rooms. The centerpiece for the dining table consisted of a wreathed around a basket of choice fruit. The table was set for 16. The principal feature of the evening was dancing.

Dancing was enjoyed at the Herbert Gordon residence, 229 East Fifty-fifth street. At a late hour the party adjourned to the R. H. hair brittle and the scalp dry. What every woman should use is an article such as eggol, which dissolves all oily secretions on hair and scalp, and leaves the hair in splendid, vigorous condition. It is wonderful for dandruff, cleans out the pores and lets your hair "breathe" and grow vigorously. A teaspoonful of eggol in half cup of water cannot be equalled as a head-wash. Eggol for twelve shampoos or more can be obtained from a twenty-five cent package of eggol.

EMBARRASSED—You should never use anything which will irritate the skin while removing superfluous hair. Removing superfluous hairs now becomes a pleasure. Instead of a real dread if you will just moisten the hairs with a little salt solution which can be obtained from your druggist for one dollar. It leaves the skin as smooth, white and soft as before. There is no reddening or irritating and it never fails to remove the most obstinate hairs with perfect ease. It is as pleasant to use as a lotion.

DESPERATE—You will make yourself look years younger if you will follow this suggestion. This formula makes the skin texture finer, it makes it firm and more plump in this way, and as a result, in few days you see a very marked difference in your appearance. Wrinkles will seem to vanish. You will realize quickly that you have found a remarkably effective wrinkle secret, and tell your friends. Get from your druggist for about fifty cents a two-ounce package of epitol and mix with a tablespoonful of glycerine in a half pint of water. Use this cream liberally and often.

BLACKHEADS—Get from your druggist a package of norexin, for about fifty cents, and sprinkle a little of it on a wet cloth and rub this on the blackheads. You will find they will disappear in a few moments almost magically.

MRS. G. F. D.—The best and finest face powder I have ever used to get is called "Freeca Beauty Powder," which any druggist can supply you in white, flesh or brunette, for fifty cents. It far surpasses many imported products.—Adv.
