

SIGHT-SEEING TRIP CLOSES CONVENTION

Hotelmen Adjourn After Hearing Addresses.

SECRETARY IS HONORED

Silver Set Presented by R. W. Childs for Long Service as Officer of Association.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 6.—(Special).—“This has been the most instructive and pleasing convention we have ever had,” said President Price as he adjourned the tenth annual convention of the Oregon Hotel Association at the Hotel Albany at noon today.

The delegates who had attended the convention from various sections of the state were even more pleased some six hours later when the majority of them boarded a special car on the Oregon Electric for Portland. For they had enjoyed an afternoon riding over Albany and Corvallis and this section of the state, viewing valley scenery on a bright afternoon.

On this afternoon's trip, which was the last event of the convention, the delegates were the guests of B. R. Westbrook and Grant Pierte, hosts of the convention.

Legal Questions Raised. The association, which has held most of its annual conventions in Portland, voted today to hold its sessions in various sections of the state. Next year's meeting place will be selected later by the executive committee.

Frank S. Grant of Portland, attorney for the association, was the principal speaker at today's session. He gave a resume of Oregon laws applicable to hotelkeepers and needed legislation, and his address was a very strong one.

Grant Pierte, proprietor of the St. Francis hotel, Albany, was an entertaining speaker today also, discussing “Oregon Hotels Outside of Portland.” Dan W. Bass of Seattle, president of the Washington association, took leading part in the discussions at the closing session.

R. W. Beach of Portland, editor of the Northwest Hotel News, who was chosen secretary of the association for the eighth consecutive time, and R. W. Price, manager of the Hotel Mallory of Portland, who was re-elected president, were commended by the delegates for their successful service. The association presented Mr. and Mrs. Beach with a silver set, the presentation being made by R. W. Childs, manager of the Portland hotel. Mr. Price was commended for having instituted new plans of a nature helpful to hotels, both large and small, throughout the state.

The big banquet at the Hotel Albany last evening was a feature of the convention. It was a venison feast, this feature being furnished by Grant Pierte of this city as the result of a hunting trip a few weeks ago.

Plans have been made for a number of hotels along the proposed highway along the summit of the Cascade mountains from the Mount Hood loop to Crater Lake, it developed at the convention.

In a talk at the banquet last night R. W. Price of Portland hinted at the project and today said plans had been worked out to enlist the needed capital in the venture and that six scenic locations for hotels had been selected already.

When plans were proposed a few weeks ago for this highway Mr. Price and a representative of the Portland Chamber of Commerce began developing plans for these scenic hotels and the assistance of the United States forest service, the railroads and several prominent bankers and banking men had been obtained. He said plans had been devised rather thoroughly and that when this road is built the hotels would become a reality quickly.

ACTORS' BENEFIT SUCCESS

New York Theaters Receive $15,000 to $75,000 at Performances.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(Special).—New York crowded 53 big theaters yesterday to attest its appreciation of the stage and the actors. Overwhelmed by demands for tickets, box offices turned hundreds away from the special performances of the first annual actors' national memorial day. The event was such a success as to inspire Daniel Frohman, president of the campaign committee, to issue a statement saying:

“The entire United States yesterday reported to headquarters in the Commodore a tremendous public tribute to the actor that surpassed most hopeful estimates. The proof that the business men wholeheartedly appreciated the co-operation and aid given them in war fund drives, and in sustaining morale of troops, was the 100 per cent attendance at theaters taken over by trades. These houses brought from $15,000 to $75,000 each.”

A ticket autographed by the prince and bought by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for $25,000, was turned back to the committee yesterday for a second sale.

CONVILL TO LIST JOBS

Ex-Service Men's Employment Committee Chooses Head.

Captain J. O. Convill, who was in charge of federal employment service here, has been secured to take charge of the work for the soldiers and sailors' employment committee, and will return in a short time to assume charge of the office at Liberty temple. A special meeting of the publicity committee has been called for 11 A. M. Tuesday, to meet with a special committee of the Ad club, when plans will be considered for the latter organization to take over the publicity work for the movement to provide
