

PORTLAND TO OSE CHICAGO LIMITED

Northwest Pacific Train Cut Out by Coal Order.

OTHER CHANGES MADE

New Schedules Effective Tomorrow. Parlor Cars Are Discontinued on Seattle Runs.

So far as known by local officials of the railroad administration, the chief immediate loss to Portland in the curtailment of passenger train service on account of the coal shortage will be the loss of the North Coast limited of the Northern Pacific. This train was made the sole limited through train from Chicago entering Portland, after the economies of operation were introduced following the inauguration of government control. It was changed to make Portland the Pacific coast terminal served by the train, coming from Spokane over the Spokane, Portland & Seattle line.

So far as known up to last night there will be no elimination through trains on the Union Pacific system lines. However, the Overland limited has not been made into Portland as such since the change made by the railroad administration last year, when it was made purely a direct San Francisco train. But the connecting regular trains into Portland enabled through passengers to make use of that service westward from Chicago. It is a possibility that one of the through Union Pacific trains will be eliminated.

It was announced yesterday that the parlor cars will be discontinued on Oregon-Washington trains Nos. 491 and 492 between Portland and Seattle, and likewise on local trains Nos. 497 and 498 between these cities. Many local trains connecting with the North Coast limited will be discontinued by the Northern Pacific on branches in the northwest.

The order issued yesterday by A. D. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, carries the information relative to changes made in service on the Oregon-Washington lines, and instructs agents to advise persons making inquiries that service has been reduced on all other lines. Effective Monday, December 8, at 12:40 P. M., the changes on the Northern Pacific announced will be as follows:

Trains 1 and 2, "North Coast Limited," will be discontinued.

Trains 53 and 54, between Duluth and Iron River, discontinued.

Trains 63 and 64, between Minneapolis and Duluth, discontinued.

Trains 71 and 72, between Duluth and Cloquet, discontinued.

Trains 113 and 114, between Staples and Fargo, discontinued.

Trains 221 and 222, between Logan and Helena, discontinued.

Trains 289 and 290, between Helena and Gardiner, discontinued.

Trains 355 and 358, between Butte and Missoula, discontinued.

Trains 385 and 388, between Kootenai and Spokane, discontinued.

Trains 415 and 418, between Spokane and Lewiston, discontinued.

Trains 449 and 450, between Pasco and Prosser, discontinued.

Trains 507 and 508, between Yakima and Grandview, discontinued.

Trains 597 and 598, between Kanaskat and Tacoma, discontinued.

Trains 622 and 623, between Seattle and Grays Harbor, discontinued.

Trains 691 and 692, between Tacoma and Centralia, discontinued.

Trains 693 and 694, between Centralia and South Bend, discontinued.

Trains 800 and 801, between Gate and Corvallis, discontinued.

Trains 880 and 881, between Gate and Olympia, discontinued.

Trains 407 and 408, between Seattle and Portland, will run via Point Defiance line instead of American Lake.

Any trains in transit at time mentioned will be discontinued to destination.

Observation car on trains 257 and 258, between Butte and Missoula, discontinued.

Parlor car on trains 497 and 498, between Seattle and Portland, discontinued.

Parlor car between Seattle and Spokane, discontinued.

Trains 3 and 4 will not handle more than a total of 1000 except that No. 3, between Staples and Fargo, will handle, in addition, the Duluth sleeper.

Trains 7 and 8 will not handle more than 11 cars.

Business offered in excess of what can be handled in this number of cars is to be held over for other trains.

There will be no extra sections or special trains arranged for under present instructions.

Standard sleeping-car service on trains 3 and 4 will be as follows:

Two standard sleepers between St. Paul and Seattle, and local car between Spokane and Seattle.

One standard sleeping car between St. Paul and Portland, and S. P. & S. No. 3 and 4, between Spokane and Portland. This makes however on No. 3 at Spokane until departure of S. P. & S. No. 3 following morning. First through car leaving Portland on S. P. & S. No. 4, December 8, connecting with Northern Pacific No. 4 at Spokane. All other standard sleeping car runs on Nos. 3 and 4 as

JUDGE TRIES OUT FIDDLES

Yorkville Court Enlivened With Music Played by Magistrate.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Magistrate Sweetser, on the bench in Yorkville court yesterday, varied the session by violin selections. He played "Turkey in the Straw," "The Blue Danube" and other melodies reminiscent of his fiddling youth for 10 minutes while the courtroom filled with persons who seemed variously moved by the innovation.

Oscar Davis, a negro hallboy and telephone operator of No. 234 West 131st street, stood accused of stealing two violins from the store of Joshua Nicholson of No. 365 Third avenue. Assistant District Attorney O'Shaughnessy contended they were antiques and worth $1840. Attorney Robert Donahue, for Davis, asserted they were just "plain fiddles," worth less than $25 each.

Magistrate Sweetser qualified as an expert and ordered Davis charged with grand larceny on the $1840 valuation and held him in $2000 bail for the grand jury.

SALEM IN CONFERENCE

inite information from the southern school itself regarding its athletic and other policies.

Freshman Games Limited.
Freshman football teams were limited to two intercollegiate games in one season. No limit was placed on the number of high school gridiron games which the freshmen may play.

It was decided that all freshman football activities cease two weeks previous to Thanksgiving day.

Instead of medals and cups for winners of the annual conference track meet, it was voted to present the team winning the most number of points with a plaque.

A committee from Spokane representing the junior chamber of commerce appeared before the conference with a proposition to finance one or more conference football games each season, to be played in Spokane. It is the committee's desire to make Spokane the athletic center of the inland empire.

The conference was assured the new organization would protect the institutions against any financial loss. Stadium field will be fixed up, they said, to accommodate 10,000 persons, and no rental charged for the use of the field.

One Traditional Game Allowed.
What is regarded as one of the most important pieces of legislation in the annals of Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference circles was enacted today when a resolution was adopted providing that no member of the conference may play more than one traditional gridiron contest each season. The legislation was aimed directly at the universities of Washington and California, the two largest institutions of learning on the Pacific coast, who have for many years alternated on gridiron contests.

As the new rule stands the traditional games of the conference are University of California, University of California, University of California versus Stanford university, University of Washington versus Washington State college.

Each to Play Three.
Heretofore California put across its annual tussle with Stanford, which this year drew close to $50,000 in gate receipts, and then played Washington in Seattle, thus giving the two largest schools two big money-making games to the detriment of the other four schools.

As the rule now stands each school will play three conference games with a fourth contest optional. The rule breaks up the California-Washington combination and places all institutions in the conference on an equal basis. It prevents Washington and California playing each other every year. California and Stanford will journey north once each year, and one of the Washington and Oregon schools will alternate and go south to California and Stanford every other year.

It was decided to eliminate the hammer throw in the conference track and field meet, but it left the event optional as regards dual meets.

Handling of gate receipts at the football games suffered a revision after many years of squabbling, when it was voted to give the visiting team a guarantee of expenses for 20 men, or 50-50 option of the net gate receipts in the past. The universities of Washington and California have staged the large crowds and paid the visiting teams bare expenses. The committee on order of events for track programme for the conference meet recommended that the events be run off in the following order: One hundred-yard dash, mile run, 440-yard run, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard dash, 880-yard run, 200 low hurdles, two-mile and relay.

The recommendation was adopted. Stanford university at Palo Alto, Cal., was awarded the annual Pacific

FINDS RELIEF FROM ATTACKS OF RHEUMATISM

Suffered Great Pain for Years Until He Built Up His Blood and Drove Out the Poison.

The poisons of rheumatism are in the blood. Building up the blood and making rich in oxygen burns out these poisons.

In rheumatism the blood becomes thin with great rapidity and no permanent recovery is possible until the blood is made pure and red.

"I suffered from rheumatism for six years," relates Mr. Barney Rulman of No. 1216 North Western avenue, Oklahoma City, Okla. "The pain was chiefly in my legs, shoulders and back and sometimes I was so badly crippled that I was unable to rise with grand larceny on the $1840 valuation and held him in $2000 bail for the grand jury.

Work and Save!

The Road to Prosperity and Happiness

Because of lack of production, lack of ambition to accumulate, drawing all the pay possible for the least possible labor performed, this is responsible for our high prices. When we all get ready and willing to do a full day's work, then we will begin to produce and then prices will come down, and not before then. Gray's are selling good Suits and Overcoats today for Forty, Fifty and Sixty Dollars that are worth more than that wholesale. Better come and make your selections from the stock on hand, thereby saving from $15.00 to $25.00 on the Suit or Overcoat you'll need.
