

Miss Antoinette Mears, whose engagement to Willis Ashley was announced Friday.

The snow storm upset many plans for dinners, dances, teas, luncheons, and all social activities in Portland are almost at a standstill. One of the largest and most enjoyable winter sports parties was given Thursday night when a group of young married couples managed to procure a sleigh and six horses. Armed with snowshoes and skis, they went out to have supper with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Corbett at the Corbett country place on Elk Rock.

The engagement of Miss Antoinette Mears and Willis Ashley was announced Friday afternoon at an informal tea for which Miss Elizabeth Peacock was hostess at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Peacock, in Lovejoy street. The guests were received by Miss Peacock and Miss Mears. Miss Helen Honeyman and Mrs. Gorrell Swigert presided at the tea table.

Miss Mears is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mears and granddaughter of the late C. H. Prescott and Mrs. Prescott, who are among the prominent families of Portland. Willis Ashley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ashley and grandson of one of Portland's pioneer families. The wedding date has not yet been set.

Miss Winifred Byrd, the well-known pianist and Salem girl, was a much-entertained visitor last week. On Sunday after her concert, which was a brilliant success, Mrs. Leslie Scott entertained for Miss Byrd with a small tea of 20 guests. On Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis Simmons were hosts in honor of Miss Byrd at a large reception at the Simmons residence in Alameda Park.

During the evening Carlos Botelli, the San Francisco tenor, and Albert Gillett gave groups of songs, with Mayme Helen Flynn at the piano. Presiding at the supper table were Mrs. A. F. Kerry, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Edwin Sears, Mrs. John F. Logan, Mrs. John Clatsop, Mrs. Lawrence Lambert and Mrs. Dent Mowrey.

On Monday the New England Conservatory club, of which Miss Byrd is an honorary member, entertained for her with a luncheon at the Benson hotel, when covers were laid for 20. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Schultz were hosts for a small and intimate dinner Monday night in honor of Miss Byrd and Mrs. Marie Gould, other guests being Miss Katherine Stump of Monmouth and Mr. and Mrs. David Beasley Campbell.

Mrs. John Peters entertained most delightfully on Tuesday afternoon with a smart and small tea in honor of Mrs. Etta Hanson, who will leave for New York tonight. Mrs. Peters' apartment was lovely with holly and Christmas decorations. Her guests were Mrs. E. Lou Barnes, Mrs. James Honeyman, Mrs. C. S. Jackson, Mrs. Frank Loneragan, Mrs. Harry Nicholai, Mrs. David Beasley Campbell, Mrs. Russell Sewell, Mrs. John Keating, Mrs. Ella Mitchell,

Mrs. Leonard J. Kaufman, who was Mrs. Helen Black, before her marriage, which was a smart social event Wednesday of last week. Portland alumnae of the sororities of Delta Delta Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Phi, and an invitation has been extended to all the students and alumni of the state institutions at Seattle, Pullman, Corvallis, Read and Eugene, who will be in Portland during the holidays. Friends and high school students who are interested in college affairs also are invited. Stunts will be put on by the various colleges and the Multnomah Athletic club quartet will sing college songs.

Two fine orchestras have been secured: Mr. Darby's and Mr. Prasp's of the Portland hotel. The orchestras will play in the two ballrooms, the music in one alternating with the music in the other. It is expected that 1000 persons will join at this big college get-together Christmas ball. Some college groups will entertain with rushing parties, entertaining at dinner before going to the ball.

A dancing party of much interest to many people will be held Thursday, December 18, when the Kiwanis will give a most delightful entertainment. They will have dancing, cards and a programme. This affair will be given at Professor Ringler's hall at Broadway and Main street. The affair will be informal and the public is invited to attend. The patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pier, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Etheridge, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hewitt and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lawrence.

This dance is the beginning of the preparations for the international Kiwanis convention to be held here in June, when between 400 and 500 visitors are expected to attend as delegates from the United States and Canada. Cards are being received announcing the engagement of Miss Gertrude Isbell, daughter of Mr. Ella G. Johnson, to Mr. Ellsworth E. Berquist of Oakland, Cal. Miss Johnson is the daughter of ex-Assemblyman E. B. Johnson formerly of this city.

Mrs. A. H. O'Reilly, one of Portland's charming widows, and her five daughters.

"On a Christmas Eve" is a more conventional story of Christmas time. On Monday, December 22, Miss Nina Greathouse will present three one-act plays, which will be the first offering of Drama League talent. In the light comedy, "Enter the Hero," the leading feminine role will be taken by Mrs. Irving Lupton. Mrs. Lupton, who will be remembered as Miss Hildreth Humason, has done some exceptionally fine acting in previous Drama League productions, especially in "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," in which she played with Frank Branch Riley. She will be supported in "Enter the Hero" by Louise Littell, Mrs. Warren and Stanton Bowditch. The tragic note of the evening will be sounded in Witter Byrner's "The Little King," based on an episode in the life of Louis XVII of France, and "Food," a satire on the H. C. L., will conclude the programme.

Society women are taking an active part in the annual sale of Christmas seals for the benefit of the anti-tuberculosis work in Oregon and are giving their time to the sale of the little holiday stickers in the downtown booths. Mrs. Lewis Mills was chairman for the participation in the booth sale of the board of directors of the Visiting Nurse association. On account of the storm last week a number of the women from this group will fill extra booths this week. Those who are giving their services to this work are: Mrs. Robert G. Dieck, Mrs. F. S. Montague, Mrs. James B. Honeyman, Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman, Mrs. J. D. O'Brien, Miss Gretchen Klosterman, Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Miss Kate Mather, Miss Katharine Gile, Mrs. R. J. Marsh, Mr. Sigmund Frank, Mrs. A. P. Biles, Mrs. James B. Kerr, Mrs. J. Frank Watson, Mrs. William Heller Ehrman and Miss Virginia Wilson.

Mrs. J. Baber and daughter, Avie Mae Baber, have just returned from a three weeks' visit at North Beach and are on their way to California to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sawyer will leave Portland for San Francisco the first of the year to make their home for some time. Their many friends here hope that Mr. Sawyer's business affairs will permit them to return to Portland to live before a great while. Mrs. Ralph Hoyt was a charming hostess for tea Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. William Thompson, who has come to Portland recently from Pendleton, and Mrs. Judd, also of Pendleton, who expects to make her home here in the near future. Mrs. Joseph Coulson Hare and Mrs. William Bothwell Hare were hostesses for a bridge party of four tables at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Coulson Hare Saturday of last week. This was the first of a series of bridge parties. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and holly. Those who enjoyed this affair were Mrs. R. E. Watkins, Mrs. Katherine Daly, Mrs. A. R. Shannon, Mrs. N. U. Carpenter, Mrs. C. E. Newcombe, Mrs. C. E. Runyon, Mrs. Fred Kirby, Mrs. H. T. Donivan, Mrs. Charles E. Boss, Mrs. B. F. Weaver, Mrs. Edward Fraley, Mrs. C. C. Stout, Mrs. G. M. Clark, Mrs. Cora Puffer and Mrs. Frank McCrillis. The prizes were won by Mrs. Frank McCrillis and Mrs. Raymond E. Watkins.

Mrs. Robert S. Farrell entertained Saturday with a charmingly appointed luncheon and theater party in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Marion. Luncheon was served in the grill of the Hotel
