the same systematic methods which American athletic authorities proved successful in the past, European naions are preparing for the Olympic games of 1920 in a thorough manner which bodes no easy victory for the United States athletes in the international track meet at Antwerp, Belgium, next Auguset. Campaigns for the development of teams, collection of funds and other important details essential to success in such an elabessential to success in such an elab-orate undertaking, are already under way, aided in several cases by government supervision and subsidies.

No better example may be cited than the plans and arrangements of the French, which involve a generous use of the army methods and system. Three classes remain mobilized of the great army of France at the present time. They are the class of 1917, boys aged 22; that of 1918, aged 21, and the class of 1919, youths of 20. Thus the flower of the French race, physically and from an athletic point of view, remains under arms. They are distributed in various garrison towns and departments of France. I is from among these three classes that abilitic France expects to recruit 30 or 40 first-class athletes to add to the already fair quota of men who are slated to represent France at Ant-

Programme Decided Upon. The following programme has been decided upon by the athletic directors of the French army, at the head of whom is Colonel See, chief of the Joinville school of athletics for the French army Elimination trials will be conducted in every regiment of the above three classes, each soldier making a specialty of the sport for which ie has shown the greatest inclina-ion and to which he has been pro-dounced fittest by the doctor of the regiment. These trials will occure af, ter three, four and perhaps six months of preparatory training under the eye of an athletic director. Soldiers who have shown class warranting their undergoing further training will be picked out and directed to one of the large centers nearest their billet. Strasburg. Lyons, Marseilles, Bordeaux and Paris. According to the schedule adopted According to the schedule activities the men chosen as being worthy of further trial will reach their various headquarters sometime in the spring. are already training in earnest and an Associated Press correspondent recently saw Tirard negotiate the 100 meters in 11 seconds flat, Seurin cover 200 meters in 22%. Carlaix run 1000 meters in two minutes 35 secand young Guillemot do 100 kilometers without being pressed in 23 minutes. These performances are very close to championship form.

Young Guillemot is considered as being the most likely successor to the famous J. Bouin. He is somewhat awkward in his style, but when it is realized that six months ago he had never competed in a race, the way in never competed in a race, the way in which he has been winning from all competitors lately would seem to in-dicate that with a little more expe-rience and training he will be a hard man to beat at Antwerp.
