CAROLINA LAZZARI, SINGER, PROVES VALUE OF PRACTICE

Famous Contralto, Who Will Appear in Portland, Achieves Success in Remarkably Short Time.

CAROLINA LAZZARI, WHO WILL SING IN PORTLAND JANUARY 7.

PORTLAND is to be included in the first western tour of the new contralto, Carolina Lazzari, who will sing at the Hotel, January 7, direction Steers & Coman. The marvelous suddenness with which Miss Lazzari achieved success, furnishes a fine example of the value of preparation. Unlike most aspiring young artists, she declined any number of engagements which might have given her prestige and refused to go before the public until she was absolutely ready to accept the best the opera or the concert stage had to offer. Her immediate and remarkable success in opera was duplicated in concert and now, in recital, she is one of the most sought-after singers of the day. Following her most successful season in opera, as well as in concert, she will appear this season with the Metropolitan Opera company. That she will be received with favor by the public as a member of that great organization is to be expected after her triumphs with the Chicago Opera association in New York and Chicago. She sings with a "gorgeous opulence of tone," as one critic has said. She is possessed of one of those real contralto voices, searching in its appeal, smooth, mellow and even in quality in all its registers and flexible to an extent which enables her to emit the varying tones with an ease that seems born of nature and not of art. She is a living exemplar of the old proverb that "practice makes perfect."

GEORGE A. EMERY DIES.—Early yesterday morning George A. Emery, long-time resident of Portland, died at his home, 631 East Broadway. Mr. Emery had been in ill health for considerable time and he retired as usual Friday evening but passed away soon after retiring. Mr. Emery was 51 years of age, and was born in Lanark, Ill. He was for the past 12 years connected with the New York Central railroad, first as traveling freight agent and then commercial agent. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Sue Emery and two children, Allen L. and Burdette. Funeral services will be held at the home, 631 East Broadway, on Monday afternoon.

THEFT OF BEDDING CHARGED.—The alleged theft of two quilts and a pillow from the store of Y. Sharp, Japanese, 243 First street, resulted in James McLagan and F. L. Cody being taken to jail Friday night by Police Sergeant Olesner and Officers O'Halloran and Korene. They will be tried in municipal court Monday. McLagan, who is charged with the actual larceny, is said to be a former inmate of Folsom penitentiary. Cody is charged with vagrancy. The two were identified by the Japanese, the police say.

W. T. STEPHENS INJURED.—William T. Stephens, 65, of 3511 Sixty-eighth street southeast, received a badly bruised head yesterday morning when he fell while attempting to board a street car at Grand and Hawthorne avenues. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. Mr. Stephens is employed at the Standifer shipyards in Vancouver.

PORTLAND ART ASSOCIATION.—Henrietta H. Falling will speak in connection with the Christmas exhibition at 3 o'clock at the Museum of Art, Fifth and Taylor streets, using lantern slides of paintings and sculpture of the old masters which illustrate Christmas subjects. Children are especially invited. Admission is free to everyone.

POSTPONED EXERCISES TO BE HELD.—The Sunday school entertainment of the Piedmont Presbyterian church, which was postponed on account of the recent storm, will be held today at 9:45 A. M. A sacred concert will be given in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

THE MASTER.—A wonderful discovery by which humanity is being blessed. He teaches you how to cure your own pyorrhea with a little help from the dentist. C. Smith Long, preventive dentist, Bush & Lane bldg.—Adv.

Week's Observance Will Open Tuesday at Corvallis and Close on January 2.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 27.—(Special)—Community life will be discussed from all its angles at a conference to be held here in connection with Farmers and Homemakers' Week, the first meeting being called for Tuesday, December 30, and the closing session will be held on Friday, January 2.

G. J. Kerna, professor of agricultural education at the University of California, will be one of the speakers. Others are Dr. B. W. DeBusk, professor of secondary education at the University of Oregon, Fred Bennington, county agent for Umatilla county; Miss Edna A. Cocks, professor of physical education for women; Miss Florence E. Pool, home demonstration agent for Jackson county; Mrs. Ida A. Kidder, college librarian, and Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Agricultural Society. Dr. DeBusk will speak on "Health and National Progress." Dr. Hector MacPherson of the college will discuss "Agricultural Education and American Citizenship."

Education and recreation will be taken up on Thursday with "The Home Project in the Schools as a Community Enterprise," by Dr. H. P. Barrows, professor of agricultural education; "Nutrition of the Child—a Rural Community Problem," by Dean A. B. Millam of the school of home economics; "Play Festivals and Recreation in Rural Life," by Professor Kern.

Faul V. Maris, state leader of county agents, will discuss "The Farm Bureau, a New Source for Community Solidarity," at the closing session.

SOMEONE'S OPPORTUNITY.

For Sale—One of the most desirable hotels on the Pacific coast, in Victoria, British Columbia—a city favored instead of thinking the hotel is situated in the heart of the city's activity. It is four stories high, with a frontage of 84 feet on the principal street. It is splendidly furnished and equipped in the most up-to-date style. The hotel is noted for its service and comforts. It has a spacious and inviting rotunda, which adjoins a magnificent writing and rest room. The bedrooms, 22 in number, are cozy and well arranged. This is an unusually attractive opportunity to secure a hotel where the possibilities of development and money making are excellent. As a home it affords many pleasing qualities. $25,000 is the first payment to secure this concern, and to the proper party terms could be arranged for the balance. For further particulars apply to HUGH MACDONALD, 1054 Broadway West, Vancouver, B. C.
