

EXTENSIVE COURSES START

Portland Center Will Have 13 New Courses.

WORK ON SOUND BASIS

Total of 40 Subjects Embodied in Curriculum of University. Classes Open Tomorrow.

With 13 new courses added to an already large curriculum, the State university will begin the winter term of its Portland work tomorrow night. The 13 new courses make a total of 40 that will be given in the Portland center next term, and are as follows: Education—“Problems of Childhood,” given by Dr. H. W. De Busk of the faculty at Eugene; “The Psychology and Hygiene of Learning,” by Dr. De Busk, and “Problems in Social Education,” by Miss Celia Hager, dean of the school of education at Eugene. Dr. De Busk and Dean Hager did not attend the opening ceremony. The former is the well-known specialist in child psychology. Psychology—“Social Applications of Psychology,” by Miss Celia Hager of the department of psychology faculty at Eugene. Miss Hager will also continue her course in elementary psychology and abnormal and borderline psychology, which drew large enrollments last term. Social applications of psychology will be taught Saturday nights, and will include mental measurements with their application to social problems. Dramatics—Two courses in play producing by Fergus Reddie, head of the department of dramatics and public speaking at Eugene. Mr. Reddie has transferred his residence to Portland for the coming term, but will go to Eugene each Monday to teach. Returning Wednesday night, he will be at the service of Portland for the remainder of the week. Public Health—A course by Dr. H. J. Sears of the University of Oregon College of Medicine, in which personal and public hygiene will be taught and bacteria studied insofar as the more important communicable diseases are concerned. The course is intended primarily for social workers. History—“Social and Civic History of the United States,” by Dr. Joseph Schaefer, head of the department of history at Eugene, the objective of which is the elucidation of the civic and social principles which underlie industry. Dr. Schaefer will analyze American social history along the lines of “great industries,” “Masters of History,” “Synthesis of History,” “Some Chapters in a Forgotten Great History,” by Dr. George Rebec, director of the Portland center. The Czechoslovak course will contain only six public lectures, beginning Monday, January 6, at 8 P. M. in the Central library. The course is open to the public without charge. Art Instruction—“Composition and Design and Lettering and Manuscript Writing,” by Miss Esther W. Wood, director of art instruction in the Portland public schools. Economic and Social Legislation—by Dr. Edwin C. Robbins, a detailed study of certain reconstruction labor problems. Dr. Robbins returned to the Oregon faculty from the University of Minnesota last fall. In the fall term 51 courses were given in which the average attendance was about 20. Two were discontinued for lack of enrollment and one through the inability of the instructor to attend. Eugene this term, while one expired with the fall term. The remaining 47 are going on through the winter term. The Portland work of the university being this year on a substantial basis in both attendance and continuity of work. Winter classes will be held in the Central library (liberal arts), the Oregon building (commerce), the Presbyterian church (public speaking and choral work), and Lincoln High school (art). The courses in commerce in the Oregon building will be as follows: Foreign trade, beginning and advanced commercial, Spanish and mercantile, French and English. The Portland Center faculty: business law, Frank Hilton, Portland lawyer; advertising, C. B. Couche, head of the Couche advertising service of Portland; principles of accounting and cost accounting, J. E. Whitfield, Whitcomb & Co., Portland; salesmanship and sales management—business organization, C. Edmonds of the university faculty. The first full course professional school of the university to be established in Portland was the Portland school of social work, Dr. Franklin Thomas, director, which will resume classes Monday morning. The first class will be a public lecture given by Dr. Edward Devine, professor of social economy in Columbia university, New York.

NOTED CONTRALTO TO SING IN PORTLAND WEDNESDAY

Carolina Lazzari, of Metropolitan Opera, to Appear at Heilig—Voice Quality is Dramatic in Tenderness and Sympathy.

CAROLINA LAZZARI, SENSATIONAL CONTRALTO, WHO WILL SING HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Lazzari is a revelation. She is tall and statuesque, and her voice is that of a silver trumpet. Without visible emotion or apparent effort her voice fills big auditoriums clearly and distinctly, and yet never seemingly loud. She must have the vocal organs of a Caruso. The New York World critic said: “Carolina Lazzari deserves, on her accomplishment, recognition equal to Galli-Curci.” The opportunity of hearing this new metropolitan contralto during the first season of her New York engagement will be welcomed by all Portland music lovers and students of the voice, as Lazzari's progress has been most sensational. Oregon lodge No. 1, directed by Arnold Apland, appeared in fancy drill. The floors on either side of the main street had asked for a few hundred New Year gifts in the line of bundles of clothing, books, pictures and anything that can be sold. “The workers of the Red Cross shop have determined to stay with the shop so long as the Red Cross needs funds,” said Mrs. G. T. Trompald, director. “But, really, things are pretty perilous just now. We are pathetically poor in Portland. Give us things we can't sell them. And when we can't sell them we can't supply the Red Cross with funds to carry on.” “Once upon a time we used to be able to make a clear profit of $100 a day for the Red Cross. We should like to be able to do that in 1930.” The Red Cross truck will call for any bundle, whether it be of newspapers, magazines or more valuable articles.

LODGE MARKS 25TH YEAR

UNITED ARTISANS ENTER-TAINED AT AUDITORIUM.

Judge Robert G. Morrow Reviews Accomplishments of Organization; Supreme Master Speaks.

A pretentious musical program was presented at the city auditorium last Thursday night, when the United Artists of Portland gathered to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the lodge. The occasion brought out a number of lodge members and friends sufficient to crowd the building to capacity. “America,” sung by the audience, under Walter Jenkins' direction opened the programme with a patriotic air. Frederick W. Wood, who had entertained with pipe organ selections. An appreciated number was the “Piano scene from Il Trovatore,” sung by Mrs. Eloise Hall cook, soprano, and H. E. Hudson, tenor. Judge Robert G. Morrow addressed the assembly as chairman, welcoming the lodge members fraternally and reviewing accomplishments of the Artisan organization. H. S. Hudson, supreme master Artisan, spoke. “The Miller's Wooling” and the quart song from “Rigoletto” were sung by the anniversary quartet, Mrs. Fred Hammond, Mrs. E. J. Ivers, G. R. Thomas and H. E. Hudson, with Miss Ethel Trisac at the piano. Charles Bresler gave a reading, which was followed by “Carmina” and “When a Maid Comes Knocking at Your Heart” by Comes Knocking at Your Heart, by the anniversary quartet. A drill corps from Liberty assembly, directed by E. F. Bennett, and a drill corps from Hood River Women Hear That Sons Are in Danger at Shows. HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 3.—(Special)—In an address before the Hood River Women's club on causes for the delinquency of boys and the parole system, Circuit Judge Fred W. Wilson of the Dalles laid the blame largely at the door of some of the moving picture shows and the idle moments spent around pool halls. “The Elks lodge has instituted Oregon has no penal institution, except the penitentiary, for educational punishment of delinquent youths.” Dentists Hear Paper. At the semi-monthly meeting of the Multnomah County Dental Society Friday night Dr. H. A. Laby read a paper on electro-therapeutics as applied to dentistry. He explained that a valuable addition to the X-ray in diagnosing the conditions of the teeth is the use of the stereopticon in connection with the X-ray. Dr. Laby brought out the fact that by the proper exposing of the film and applying it to the stereopticon the reading of the film is accurate. This avoids mistakes often made which may cause the needless extraction of good teeth. Elks Want Gymnasium. ROSEBURG, Or., Jan. 3.—(Special)—The Elks lodge has instructed its committee on building to obtain estimates on the cost of constructing a modern gymnasium in an unused portion of the lodge temple here. A recent canvass of the members resulted in an almost unanimous vote in favor of the installation of a gymnasium. Lang Syns Lodge to Meet. Members of Lang Syns society of Portland will gather at the Benson hotel on Saturday night, January 31, for dinner and a program. Five hundred invitations have been sent out. Life-Saving Lecture Tonight. Professor Leslie R. Mutch will give the first of his series of lectures Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Highland Baptist church, East Sixth and Alberta streets. The subject will be “What to Do to Save Life When the Physicians Have Given Up.”

WINTER HIGH LIVING COSTS

Prize Letter Competition to Present Facts.

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED

The Oregonian Will Publish Best Letter Submitted Each Week. Comparisons Desired.

One way to strike back at the high cost of living, not a body blow, perhaps, but at least a release of facts that should aid in the tyrant's downfall, is to enter The Oregonian's prize letter contest on the subject of “High Living Costs, Food, Clothing and Shoes.” For the best letter submitted each week, a cash prize of $10 will be paid, with an additional prize of $5 for the second best. Publication of the prize-winning letters, with others of merit, will begin in an early issue of The Sunday Oregonian and will be continued until all possible testimony has been procured.

In initiating the prize letter contest, The Oregonian has for its purpose the eliciting of actual facts relative to increased living costs as they pertain to individual families, during the six-year period beginning with 1924 and ending with the present. It is hoped that by this means the public will be able to see for itself where budgets have been kept for this period the figures can easily be compared and a concise comparison of the several years made. Exact Outlay Desired. Percentages are not wanted—in terms of actual cash expenditure. The Oregonian requests contestants to indicate the outlay each year for the principal items of family expense, such as fuel, food, clothing and shoes, segregating each item so that it may be compared with the expenditures of each of the former years. While we prize letters will be named and prizes awarded each week, The Oregonian reserves the right to publish therewith other meritorious letters submitted. In all cases the name and address of the contestant must accompany the letter. Enough such information will be withheld if desired in the publication of the letters.

Individual increases in certain items of expenditure, such as groceries, meat, etc., may be cited, and descriptions how the articles compared are also permissible, but above all the aggregate for each of the above-named principal items is what is desired. In judging the letters the value of the data submitted, the enlightenment afforded by the letter, and the exact figures, will transcend mere literary merit. The purpose of the contest is to draw forth facts, decorated or undecorated—facts that will speak for themselves. Comparisons. It also will be necessary for contestants to state the number of persons in the family, children and adults, classing as adults all of 18 years and over. The number of family members must be stated for each comparative year. It is desired that figures be given for each of the six years, 1924 to 1929, but if these are lacking in some instances, comparison between the former and the latter year will be made. Manuscripts must be limited to 750 words, less if possible, and should be in ink or blue-inking on the plain sheet only. All manuscripts should be addressed to Contest Editor, The Oregonian, Portland, Or.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?
Have You Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver or Bladder Trouble?
Pain or dull ache in the back is often evidence of kidney trouble. It is Nature's timely warning to show you that the trunk of health is not clear.
Danger Signals.
If these danger signals are unheeded more serious results are sure to follow: kidney trouble in its worst form may steal upon you.
Thousands of people have testified that the mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, is soon realized—that it stands the highest for its remarkable curative effect in the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, you should have the best. Lame Back.
Lame back is only one of many symptoms of kidney trouble. Other symptoms showing that you may need Swamp-Root are: being subject to embarrassing and frequent bladder troubles day and night, irritation, sediment, etc.
Lack of control, smarting, uric acid rheumatism, bloating, maybe loss of flesh, sallow complexion.
Prevalence of Kidney Disease.
Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are among the most common diseases that prevail, they are sometimes the last recognized by patients, who very often content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease may constantly undermine the system.
Regular medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.
Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

Draws Like Hot Flax-Seed Poultrice

HEALS STUBBORN OLD SORES FROM BROKEN UP. Just like a hot flax-seed poultrice, Allen's Ulcerine Salve draws out poisons and germs from broken sores and ulcers and heals them from the bottom up. It heals in one-third time that common salves take. Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America, and since 1868 has been used by millions of people powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing because it draws out the poisons and heals from the bottom up. It is a salve because it keeps the sore open. One box of Allen's Ulcerine Salve drew out pieces of bone and lots of pus, and it healed up perfectly.—Adv.

Portland Naval Officer Returns From Service in Santo Domingo.

Dr. I. Dellar. Lieutenant I. Dellar, medical corps U. S. navy, who has been in service since the outbreak of the war, has just returned from a tour of duty in the West Indies.
