CHILDREN'S DIET BETTER

Many Familles Double Order to Give Proper Food to Tots; School Statistics Tabulated.

When the Oregon dairy council, the teachers and club women interested in the subject of child welfare ins Oregon discovered that one-fifth of the school children of Portland were getting no milk in their regu-har diet, they viewed the situation with alarm and straightway commenced active work to raise the percentages of milk-users. As a consequence in many districts the boys and girls now receive at least a pint of milk a day and many families have

As the survey progresses through-out the state it is found that in the rural districts many schools report one-third of the children are without milk as a part of their diet.

Use Is More General.

Dr. D. W. Mack, chief dairy and milk expert of the bureau of health of Portland, said yesterday that Portland has high-grade milk and that families are doubling their use of milk. As a result, the health rec-ord of the city's children is said to be good and the rate of infant morrailty is low. He declared that the milk survey and the educational work of the dairy council is of great value to the city and state.

A surprise of the milk survey was the showing that in Marion, Marion county, the home of Vive la France, Oregon's world farmons Leave who
