

THIRTY-YEAR SCHOOL GRADUATES TO GET AWARDS THIS WEEK

Baccalaureate Services Will Be Held Quite Generally This Morning and Commencement Exercises on Friday—Seniors Are Variously Honored

Examinations Hold Attention at Jefferson.

Final Tests of the Term Are About Completed—Debating Society Sets Semi-Annual Banquet.

BY LIONEL M. CLARK. WITH the approaching examinations, and end of the fall term, activities of the school have slowed up somewhat and given place to hard and intensive study. On Friday, January 16, the final examinations in Latin, pedagogy and romance language were held. On the following Monday the history and science examinations took place and on Friday, January 18, the term tests in English and mathematics were conducted. The term ends on January 23.

The dance given by the High Y club of Jefferson on Saturday night was a great success. The dance was held at the Madison club and a number of parents acted as patrons and patronesses. The music was furnished by a five-piece orchestra. It seemed to be depending on music for joy, so well did they play. PUNCH was served during the dance. A large number of students from other high schools attended the dance as well as the crowd of Jeffersonians.

The Pi Delta Epsilon Debating society has made arrangements to hold its semi-annual banquet on Wednesday night, January 21. The dinner will be served at the Benson hotel. At the end of each school term the society holds such a banquet as will be given next Wednesday night. At this banquet the officers who will guide the society through the following term are elected. The officers who will be succeeded by members elected at the banquet are: President, Chester Froude; vice-president, Joe Fraser; secretary, Bruce Yorkie Curry; treasurer, Paul Dehoning.

The money deposited by each student at the beginning of the term as a locker deposit was returned to the students this week. Each student was required to pay 25 cents at the beginning of the term as a locker deposit. This money was extended as an insurance against damage and if the locker was damaged in any way during the term the student's deposit was used to pay for repairing.

A short meeting of the Naemphi club was held in the auditorium at noon on Wednesday. This was a prelude to the open meeting held after school. The meeting was held at 3 o'clock, was a special meeting, to which all girls taking pedagogy 3, 6, 7 and 8 were invited. The meeting was a delightful one and showed the work of the club to great advantage. A programme of instructive talks and special selections was rendered by the various members and special speakers. The Naemphi club is an organization for the purpose of aiding all girls taking the teaching course. The benefits of membership were clearly seen by all visitors at the special meeting.

Basketball Squad Gets Busy at Benson.

Five Is in Trim for Interscholastic Series—Big Influx of Students Next Term Expected.

BY FRANK KING. BENSON'S basketball team will make its first appearance next week against Hill. From then on there is an interscholastic game each week until the season ends in March. It looks as if Scott, Dennis or Ferguson, forwards; Hill or Lennox, center; Giesy, Colt or Maloney, guards, will be the boys that start the game against Hill. A preliminary game was held recently against Christian Brothers business college in which Benson took first honors. The game was hotly contested with the boys fighting hard on both sides. Very little fouling was done, making it a clean game. The game ended with Benson on the long end of a 25-17 score.

Washington Senior Girls Entertain Mothers.

Women of Faculty Are Also Guests in Special Tea-Commencement Programme Numbers Announced.

BY ANNA L. McPHERSON. THE eighth term girls entertained their mothers and the women members of the faculty at a tea on Tuesday. A programme consisting of the following numbers was given: The room was attractively decorated, the color scheme being maroon and gold. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, combination vegetable salad, creamed veal on timbal shells, mashed potatoes, hot rolls and butter, pineapple sherbet, wafers and cream. After the banquet a dance was held in the gymnasium. The music was furnished by Ben Dorfmann, Warren Clark, Marcus Youngs and Edith Anderson.

Girls' Polytechnic Has 21 to Be Graduated.

Exercises Will Be Held in Couch School Auditorium—Seniors Please With Theatrical Efforts.

BY LELAH CHILDERS. TWENTY-ONE girls will be graduated from this school on Friday, January 23. The exercises are to be held in the Couch school auditorium. The graduates are: Ragna Andersen, Louise Blum, Edith Cobb, Lena Coe, Virginia Holden, Mary Hutchinson, Florence Marks, Mildred Mitchell, Elma Pease, Freda Pihl, Ella Weimer, Mildred Anderson, Nyla Smith, Louise Van Fleet, Mollie Wassenmiller, Lydia Hoffman, Bertha Albusch and Ella Erickson. About 35 are expected to graduate in June.

An interesting exhibit of the work of the first-term domestic art classes was displayed on Thursday. Among the garments made were kimonos, dainty undershirts and camisoles.

A joint party of the first-term girls and the members of the Benson Polytechnic school, was held on Thursday. A programme was furnished by the girls. The boys furnished the music for the dancing. Cream and cake were served for refreshments. Everyone had a delightful time.

The programme of the entertainment given by the seniors on Friday evening consisted of two plays, "Spreading the News" and "Three Pills in a Bottle." Between acts Miss Gene Wood's third-term gymnasium classes gave some old English folk dances. The officers of the junior class acted as ushers. After the programme dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

The gymnasium has recently been equipped with new wall bars and a balance board, which are very popular. Their use is to stretch and exercise the muscles of the body.

Miss Anna Iverson, the seniors' class adviser, gave a party for her registration pupils at her apartment house. All the girls attended and they spent most of their time playing games and talking to themselves. Refreshments were served.

MAETERLINCK CHEERED BY GOTHAM AUDIENCE

Presentation of "Blue Bird for Happiness" Nets at Least $30,000 for Charity—Brilliantly Marks Attendance of Society.

BY EMILIE FRANCES BAUER. NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(Special.) The "Blue Bird for Happiness" presentation has returned when it was most needed, and with its revival enhanced by the beautiful music of Albert Wolff. It brought to those who shared the great and joyous belief of poet, Maurice Maeterlinck. America is doing itself proud to honor the great Belgian poet who has long been a household word in this country. Perhaps no literary light that ever visited us has been the recipient of swifter recognition. Maeterlinck deserves this recognition because he has been for many years a soul-opener, a symbolist whose methods were a complete revelation. It was glorious to see him in the flesh, for we have long idealized him in thought, and it was a delight to realize that through an American public he should have experienced as much joy as he seemed to feel on Saturday night when, with his musical collaborator, Albert Wolff, and a long list of eager, willing and capable assistants, and above all Gatti-Casazza, responsible for the opportunity to give "Oiseau Bleu" a presentation, he participated in supplying at least $30,000 to charity. The "Blue Bird" had its first performance on a night outside the regular subscription series, so that there might be an advance of prices and the proceeds from the first four performances—the funds for the queen of the Belgians, the Millerand fund for French orphaned children, three Big Sisters organizations, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, and milk for children of America. Before the opening strains of the opera itself the audience arose to do honor to the performance of the national airs of America, France and ing much attention and widespread interest. Rev. F. C. Laslette is preaching on the "Twelve Apostles," and is interpreting the characters in the language and music of the United States and piano music by Claud Hurd and Mrs. Wagner. The chorus choir is under the direction of George W. Downs. Strangers are welcome. A get-together supper and symposium will be held Friday, January 23, at 6:30 P. M.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock at Grace Baptist church, East Seventy-sixth and East Ash streets, the pastor, F. W. Starling, will give a Blackboard Bible talk the forum Bible class on "What God Says About Sin." At 11 o'clock he will preach on the subject "Household Salvation." The theme of the sermon at 7:45 o'clock tonight will be, "A Tonic for Faith." Special music will be provided for these services.

The leadership of Charles D. Hageman. Visitors and strangers are cordially welcomed. The church is accessible, being located directly opposite the Montavilla school.

This morning in the East Side Baptist church, East Twentieth and Salmon streets, Major-General Mesdian, a New York soldier, and an Armenian, who was division commander in the old Russian army and whose work was very important in the world war, will speak at 11 o'clock in connection with the great educational campaign planned to precede the drive for funds for Armenia and near east relief work.

Tonight the pastor, Dr. Hinson, will occupy the pulpit at 7:30. He will theme "An Inspired Bible and a Returning Lord," which is the second sermon of a series that Dr. Hinson is preaching on the great fundamentals.

Dr. Hinson went to McMinnville on Tuesday, January 13, and returned every two weeks to teach at the student body of McMinnville college. The Sunday school of this church has been between $1000 and $1100 to the Armenian relief and still the money is coming in.

Outgoing Franklin Class Enjoys Fine "Prom."

Gymnasium Is Scene of Pretty Farewell Exercises—Social Program Formed, Known as Commercial Club.

BY ANNA KARAGOZIAN. THE grand finale of social events for the departing class of February '20 was the senior "prom" held Friday evening, January 9, in the school gymnasium. The young people made a delightful spectacle as they waltzed in and out among the dainty decorations of lavender and cream in the long line of the grand march, led by Robert Kuhl, class president. The music for the dancers was furnished by Sobie's orchestra. The public speaking contest was given by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Ball, Miss Emily B. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. George G. Ross, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. M. and Mrs. C. E. Wellington. The committee in charge comprised Esther Wellington, Missie Kowalski, Gertrude Lavery, Crawford, Jean McLean, Robert Kuhl and Ruth Jensen. The decorations were made by the committee of members of the class of June '20, and were declared by all to be most unique and beautiful. The committee was headed by Missie Kowalski, Thaxton Daniels, Evelyn Hogue, Helen North, Jeanette Bear and Ernest Gillard.

One Franklin faculty member who has won a reputation as Miss Margaret Garrison, instructor in public speaking, as she recently won the national prohibition oratorical contest. The purpose of the school circle is to give to the girls a chance to show their many talents and to give to the school a credit in the honor of the Parent-Teacher association of Franklin.

The commencement exercises of the class of February '20 will be held Friday evening, January 23, in the school hall. Though the class has not a great many members, it has been very active in school affairs and the absence of many of the members of the class will be keenly felt. It is expected that a few will return for post-graduate work and will go into college, but the majority into the swin of the world's work.

A new organization known as the Commercial club has been formed by the students of the commercial department. The purpose of the club is to interest the students in commercial work and to equip the department so it may offer more intensive office training. Officers elected are as follows: President, Marguerite Amato; vice-president, Bertha Schumacher; secretary, Mildred Anderson; treasurer, Orville Johnson; sergeant-at-arms, Errol Kingsley; editor, Helen North. The social committee is planning a party for the same date to be given February 13 in the gym.

The last assembly of the semester was held Wednesday morning, at which time Mr. Walsh led the student body in singing. The following are the real announcements. Frank Hallier, captain of the basketball team, announced the coming game with Jefferson on Friday evening, January 23. The boys' glee club rendered a selection. Mr. Walsh announced the evening of the school will give its annual concert on Friday evening. At the conclusion of assembly several of the students will give tickets for the musical entertainment.

Mid-Year Play by Seniors—Pleascs James John.

Students Successfully Present "She Stoops to Conquer"—Baccalaureate Service at Hand.

BY CHARLOTTE JONES. THE mid-year play was the chief event at James John this week. The production of "She Stoops to Conquer" was excellent. In the play there was a well-filled house on both nights, and that was well received by the audience. Stanley O'Connor, the manager, and the young Marlow; Harlan Hiatt, the stubborn Mr. Hardcastle; Gladys Hardcastle, the scheming Miss Sold; Harcastle, and Gladys Coon as mischievous Kate Hardcastle served in a manner in which they carried their roles. Paul Chatterton, as his "mother's angel child," Tony Lump-lin, was an especially mirth-provoking character. The remainder of the cast was equally well. The players, Rudy Anderson, Sir Marlow; Lowell Dotsen, Digory; Edith Hartnell, Constance Neville; Edith Fiele, madame; Clark, landlady; Lillian, servant; and George Walker, maid, all deserve creditable mention for their work. Music was furnished by a violin solo by Marford Westlander and a solo by C. O. Bay.

The fourth-term science class is studying "Kira to the Inland." All types of injuries are treated by members of the class. The science-3 girls are studying "The History of the World from the economic and appreciative standpoint. They are learning to appreciate such subjects as art and English through this study.

The inter-class basketball season for the boys opened Monday evening with the freshman-sophomore game. The freshmen defeated their opponents by a 27-15 score. The first game in which the regular team took part was played in Hillsboro Friday, January 16. The score was 15 to 13 in favor of the James John boys.

At several joint meetings of the sixth and seventh-term classes it was decided to give the graduating class a special party on Wednesday morning. Committees were appointed as follows: Entertainment, Ernest Daniels; refreshment, Edna Prichett; Nina Skales and Dorothy Rude; decorations, Elizabeth Jones; music, Edna Vandewall, Oliver Jessup, Lillian Tooley, Leona Boomister, Gertrude Weimer and Charles Jones; program, Maupin, George Miksch and Paul Sandifer.

Tuesday evening the Boy Scout troops of the high school held a rally in the high school building. There were about 20 scouts present. The contests between patrols the Wolf patrol was victorious. Refreshments were served. The boys were given for admittance to heaven or turning their backs to the world. The impersonations of the faculty members were excellent and no one overlooked the address given by the clever pianologue was given by Elizabeth Pinney. Last, but not least, was the catchy, snappy class song. The assembly on Tuesday afternoon was composed by a member of the literary class, and which was sung to the accompaniment of the piano. To finish the class day exercises were a huge success and created more laughs than any other entertainment of the year.

The first real basketball game of the Lincoln team this season was played Wednesday against a team from Hillsboro. The score was 42 to 21. Lincoln's first regular game was played on Wednesday with Commerce high.

A new art class in batik wash is being organized for the coming term. Work in batik, tied-and-dyed, shade dyeing, and other methods, will be given which will be taken up in the newly-formed class.

E. E. Schwartzauber has exhibited a set of posters in the west corridor of the high school building. The posters show various statistics concerning the study of sociology. They are of interest to all students who have never taken this subject up.

The bids for the January senior "prom" will be out this week. The "prom" will be given at the Statton hotel ballroom on January 24. The committee in charge is: Max Fendel, Harold King, Nina Jones, Charles Cook, Ruth Waldron, Catherine Ross and Minerva Holzman.

Lincoln to Graduate About 75 Seniors.

Sparkling Class-Day Stunts Given Before Entire School—Assembly Honors High-Ranking Pupils.

BY GEORGIA JACOBS. EACH day is bringing nearer the end of the semester, and the term's activities are winding up with a flourish, preparatory to the opening of the spring term on January 26. Members of the January class are occupied with plans for commencement. The class comprises approximately 75 pupils, most enthusiastic and energetic students of the school. They are without great regret that Lincoln bids farewell to them. The class has been one of the most brilliant in the history of the school. Of the 75 graduates in the class, over one-third are planning on going on to college. Of these, the straight academic college course seems to have been chosen by seven boys and 14 girls, and of the remaining students, two will take the engineering course, two the medical course, two journalism, one law, and one a special course in education. In place of the hoped-for class day of the school, the plans for which had to be given up, some very clever class day exercises were given before the school on Wednesday morning. The programme consisted of a class prophecy, some impersonations of the faculty, recitations, and class songs. The prophecy, called "The River Styx," was both clever and original. The impersonations of the members of the faculty, impersonated by Lawrence and the class, were excellent. The impersonation of the faculty members for admission into heaven or turning their backs to the world, the impersonations of the faculty members were excellent and no one overlooked the address given by the clever pianologue was given by Elizabeth Pinney.
