The churches of Portland are look-ing forward with great anticipation to the visit of four Protestant clergymen from Northern Ireland, who will be in Portland on Sunday, February 1. and Monday, February 2, 1920. These visitors constitute the official delegation from the Irish Protestant churches to the sister churches of America. Their mission to America is to tell the people of the dangers and evils of the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland.

The Presbyterian representative is the Rev. William Corkey, M. A., pas-tor of Townsend Street Fresbyterian church in Belfast. He is a graduate in the British army and wears a decoration for his war work. A man of wide experience in various forms of social and religious activity.
