

FIGHT FOR OREGON ELECTORS TO COME

Presidential Candidates Are Sounding Sentiment.

TRIO CONTESTING STATE

Pointeexter and Harding Are Only Two Republican Candidates Who Are Not Active Here.

Organization of clubs is the main activity of the respective state managers of presidential aspirants at present. Dow W. Walker is skirmishing around the state organizing clubs for Wood; Joe Dunn is performing a like service for Lowden, and James S. Stewart has been gathering groups of Johnson boosters.

The contest in Oregon is between Wood, Johnson and Lowden and which is in the lead depends on the point of view. It is believed, however, that Wood has the edge at present. Anyway, there are more Wood clubs in existence than of any other variety.

Mr. Stewart returned during the week from a conference with the Johnson managers in California. They figured that Oregon is safe for Johnson, and Mr. Stewart agreed that it would be if the antagonist of the league of nations makes a good trip here and does some spellbinding. It was agreed at the San Francisco conference that Senator Johnson would put in one week in Oregon, a period in which he will be able to invade practically all of the centers of population. It will mean roughly, 21 or more speeches in the state.

Johnson May Appear Here. Senator Johnson is hustling now in the states where there are more delegates than in Oregon, which has but ten, but ten votes are not to be overlooked, and so the senator will be advised to dash across the continent, from wherever he is, and put in his best weeks for a week in Oregon some time in May. As the pet child of Mr. Stewart, he decided Friday to go out and boost for it and also for the educational millage measure. During his absence, which may be a month or more, the Johnson campaign will be directed by Sanford McDonald, who has been associated with Mr. Stewart in the Johnson campaign from the beginning.

The Wood campaign has been moving swiftly in Oregon for the past month. Clubs have been springing up like mushrooms in all parts of the state and former service men are interesting themselves in the Wood candidacy, notwithstanding the impression that the former soldiers do not want a military man for president. General Wood will plead his own case before the greater people before the primary campaign and he will also have his cause advocated by Theodore Roosevelt Jr. Both General Wood and Mr. Roosevelt are expected to be good crowd-getters.

Lowden Depends on Dunn. Governor Lowden will not stump Oregon. He is depending on the executive ability of Joe Dunn. The governor does not intend contesting with Pointeexter for the Washington delegation, nor with Johnson for the California delegation, so he does not feel justified in making a trip to the Pacific coast to talk to the Oregonians and ignore the Washingtonians and the Californians. Notwithstanding his physical absence, Governor Lowden is present in the spirit and the Lowden propaganda is being spread as rapidly as possible. C. Y. Tenenow of Medford, who made a report to the Lowden headquarters the other day, declares that the Lowden appeal is of the slow but sure order and that Medford, Ashland and all the southern Oregon districts will come in strong at the finish.

Just what Senator Pointeexter intends doing in Oregon is a problem. His manager at Washington, D. C., has announced that he has not abandoned the state to Wood nor to anyone else, and that he will visit Oregon some time in May. A state manager was promised to get on the job last week, but so far there has been no trace of him.

And Harding propaganda is also being sifted through the state. There is no regular Harding headquarters, but the aspirant has many personal friends in the state and they are talking up his stock. It will be some time in the early part of May, apparently, before the fight for Oregon's ten delegates becomes really exciting.

55 CADETS TO GO SOUTH

Oregon Units to Send Men to Be Trained at Presidio.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 13.—(Special.)—Fifty-five cadets from the University of Oregon will attend the Reserve Officers' Training Corps training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco, next summer. It was announced at military headquarters here today. Captain R. C. Baird, commandant of the Oregon unit, has forwarded the application to the war department for this number. Seven more applied to the commandant but were disqualified through lack of sufficient training. The camp will be held from June 21 to August 2. All expenses of the men will be paid by the government. The cadets will be accompanied to California by officers of the local unit.

CANNED BEANS KILL HENS

Klamath Falls Woman's Family Did Not Eat Product.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 12.—(Special.)—Although regretting the loss of all the laying hens in her flock, Mrs. Susan Johnson is glad that she fed the chickens the home-canned beans which caused the casualties, instead of giving them to her family. When the jar was opened the appearance and odor of the contents disgusted Mrs. Johnson against them and she threw them in the chicken yard. Next morning 13 hens were dead. Three setting hens, which remained on duty while the others were eating, were the only survivors.

He seeks a divorce through the local courts.

The couple were married in Oklahoma City November 26, 1902, and have seven children. The husband asserts he has been caused mental distress by his wife's treatment of their children, which he alleges was unwarranted.

The adoption of by-laws, election of officers and cementing of the admirers of Leonard Wood for president was effected at a meeting here on Thursday evening.

Boyden's Newark-Made Shoes for Men Quality Supreme at a Saving

OUR orders for spring footwear were placed early with the manufacturers, which enables us to give our customers shoes of a high standard of excellence at a very reasonable outlay. At all times we invite comparison of prices with other footwear of equal quality. When it is remembered that shoes of only mediocre quality that a few years ago sold at $3.50 to $5.00 the pair are now priced at $12.00 to $15.00 the pair, it will be plain that shoes of the high quality that this store carries has, in comparison, made only a modest advance.

FROST IN DECEMBER IS CAUSE OF HARM

Outdoor Gardens Examined by Rose Society.

QUICK ACTION SUGGESTED

New Bushes Set Out Within Next Few Days Will Yield Good Blooms This Season.

More damage was done by the December frost and blizzard to Portland roses than was at first thought, according to H. J. Blaesing, president of the Portland Rose society, who, with a number of the prominent professional and amateur growers of the city, has been making careful investigations in the outdoor gardens.

Many of the tender varieties have suffered severely and should be pruned to within six inches of the ground. Mr. Blaesing stated yesterday, while some of the older bushes have been killed outright or so severely injured that they should be replaced with new stock. This coming week is given by the rose authorities as the proper time to prune, and those who have not already done so are advised to fix up their bushes at once. Those who pruned their bushes several weeks ago or earlier are advised to look them over again carefully and make sure that they have cut back as far as the green wood.

New Bushes Are Desirable. In order to replenish the rose gardens and to provide the greatest possible number of blooms this June, when the city is to be flooded with visitors for the several conventions, those whose gardens have been depleted by the cold weather are urged by the Portland Rose society to plant out new 2-year-old or 3-year-old bushes. Such plants, if set out within the next few days, will yield a goodly number of blooms this year.

In view of the fact that the stocks of roses are somewhat low and that all varieties cannot be obtained at this time, Mr. Blaesing has prepared the following list of plants, which are recommended as being particularly desirable for outdoor planting in Portland. All of these varieties can be obtained from Portland nurseries, if announced.

Columbia, Ophelia, Los Angeles, Madame Edouard Herriot, Madame Celeste Souper, Florence Pemberton, General MacArthur, Killarney, Brilliant, Irish Elegance, Richmond, Perle d'Or, Cecile Brunner, Baroness Rothschild, Lyon, George Arend, Grus au Tepitz, Lieutenant Chauris, Maman Cochet, Frau Karl Druschki, Mrs. Aaron Ward, Lady Hillingdon, Joseph Hill, Duchess of Wellington, Pharis, Urich Brunner, Madame Caroline Testout, Mrs. John Laing, Francis Scott Key, Juliet, Jonkheer J. L. Mook, Gloire de Lyonnaise, George Dickson, Lillian Moore.

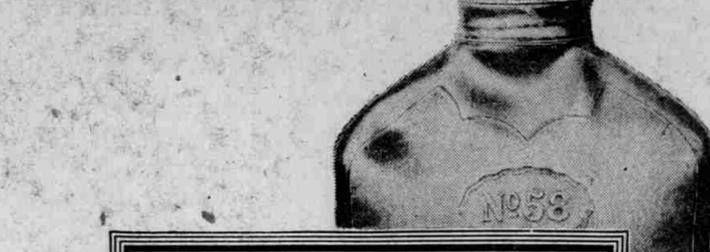

No Time Should Be Lost. Such new plants as it is desired to set out should be planted as soon as possible. Mr. Blaesing states. A hole plenty large should be made, the bottom being filled with well-rotted soil if possible, and the remaining soil with which the hole is filled made up of a mixture of the ordinary garden dirt with some good fertilizer. The plants should be placed in the ground solidly. Special care should be taken in watering after the leaves come out. The sprinklers should be kept away from the foliage as much as possible, but the ground should be thoroughly soaked once or twice a week, if the season is dry, in order to get the moisture to the roots.

Rev. Eugene Bolla Dies. The Rev. Eugene Bolla died at St. Vincent's hospital yesterday at 1 o'clock. He was 54 years of age, was a native of Turin, Italy, and was ordained in Oregon 31 years ago. He was for some years a missionary in eastern Oregon and for 20 years was chaplain of St. Mary's academy and college. Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's cathedral Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

Property Changes Hands.

SILVERTON, Or., March 13.—(Special.)—The store building on the corner of Main and Water streets, owned by Mrs. E. J. Brown, and occupied by George Custer for more than 20 years, was sold yesterday to E. C. Olsen. Mr. Olsen will get possession May 1.
