

BIG DELEGATION OFF TO TRADE SESSIONS

Party of 150 Portlanders Go to San Francisco.

PORT BUSINESS SOUGHT

Representatives From Foreign Countries Also Will Attend; Committee to Greet Visitors.

Representative of the new spirit of Portland and of the part this port is taking in the commerce of the world, the largest delegation that has ever gone from this city departed last night to attend the seventh annual national foreign trade convention which will be in session at San Francisco, May 12-16, inclusive. On a special train of the Southern Pacific the party is scheduled to arrive at San Francisco tomorrow at 9:30 A. M. The complete personnel includes more than 150 persons, about 20 of whom are women. Most significant is the fact that it is largely the heads of institutions connected in an important way with shipping development as manufacturers, exporters and in the operation of ship lines who are the delegates to this gathering, with M. H. Houser, general chairman, at its head. Portland was represented at the meeting of the foreign trade council, which met in Chicago last year by a delegation of only 16.

Portland Man Is Officer.
A. C. Callan of Portland was selected vice-president of the council and will be one of the Portland men who will preside at one of the group sessions of the week. All of the men who participated in the convention last year have been boosters for a strong representation at the 1920 meeting and nearly all of them will be present when the gavel falls at the opening of the session.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce, in connection with its vigorous and effective work in "putting the port in Portland," has promoted interest in the convention as a great opportunity to make known the facilities and resources centering on the Columbia and Willamette rivers. The chamber will be represented by President Van Duzer, Executive Secretary Dodson and four directors. George L. Baker, mayor, will officially represent the municipality, and the Port of Portland and commission of public works will practically their full personnel in attendance.

Many Countries Represented.
The Portlanders will endeavor to impress upon the representatives from the more than 20 countries bordering the Pacific ocean that Oregon is in attendance that business blossoms for them in Portland.

En route southward conferences will be held on the train relative to some of the important problems of the Pacific coast that will be up for discussion and recommendation during the course of the convention.

Tuesday evening 40 members of the Portland delegation will be guests of K. Doh, manager of the Toyon Kisen Kaisha, at a dinner party at the St. Francis hotel.

According to information from William Hammer, chairman of the Foreign Commerce club of San Francisco, a committee from that organization will greet the Portland men, probably at Benicia.

The delegates on the special train were:

- H. B. Almsworth, A. A. Ayr, A. H. Ayer, A. H. Allen, T. J. Armstrong, J. Arnold, George L. Baker, N. J. Blasen, J. H. Board, George N. B. Boren, J. B. Brown, R. C. Ball, W. Q. Bateman, C. E. Multnomah and Clackamas Counties.

Dr. Earl Smith.

I wish to show my appreciation and want to cite the fine support extended me by members of the medical profession the moment I made known that I would seek re-election as county coroner. In last Sunday's Oregonian appeared the list of 123 physicians who had given personal endorsement to my candidacy and conduct of the office. This was by no means all the physicians of Multnomah county who approve my record, as many more have since been added to the list.
