Iceland's Independence Dates Only From Year 1918.

GEORGIA ONCE BIG STATE

San Marino Old in Freedom and Luxemburg Formerly in German Customs Union.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Applications by four of the smallest countries in the world—Iceland, the republic of Georgia, San Marino and Luxemburg—for admission to the league of nations, which are to come before the council of the league when it convenes shortly in Rome, Italy, have awakened interest in these lands and peoples.

Iceland, which until 1918 belonged to Denmark, has a population of approximately 250,000 and an area of 35,000 square miles. It was discovered by Norsemen in the ninth century and continued as a province until 1264 when it united with Norway. In 1389 it was taken by Denmark in whose hands it remained until two years ago when, full of resentment with the mother country, under the principle of self-determination Iceland proclaimed its independence. Christian of Denmark, honored his former colony by sending a warship to salute the Icelandic national flag. The Danish government, in 1913 forbade the manufacture or sale of intoxicants and the parliament of Iceland subsequently enacted a prohibition law making the 13 systems or parishes in the country's three main provinces forever "dry." Icelandic women have long had the right to vote.

Settlements Along Coast. Reykjavik and Akreyri, the principal villages of Iceland, are on the coast, which is a belt of rich pasture land. The interior is a vast plateau 2000 or more feet above sea level composed largely of sand and lava desert and practically destitute of grass or trees excepting a few hardy birches. There are no roads. For centuries Iceland was the center of volcanic eruptions, the lava fields covering an area of 4500 square miles. Georgia formerly an ancient kingdom, a part of Russia Trans-Caucasia, is populated by a people who call themselves Martli and who are known by neighboring Persians as Guri. The seats of government are Tiflis and Guria. In the third century they constituted the kingdom of Iberia, which lasted until 1424 when it was divided into three parts. In 1800 Georgia was incorporated into the Russian empire. The population of Georgia at the time she declared her independence of Russia, on May 26, 1918, was about 3,000,000. Eighty per cent of the Georgians are farmers. On March 17 last, the independence of Georgia was recognized by Italy. Under the Turkish peace treaty Batum is to become a free port.

San Marino, or Sanmarino, is not only one of the smallest but one of the oldest republics in Europe. It is enclosed by three Italian provinces and consists of a crest of mountain 2420 feet high on which is the town and some circumjacent terraces which form five villages. The population prior to the war was about 8000. San Marino furnished an army to the allies. The chief industry is agriculture, including the raising of silkworms. The legislature of the republic is composed of a senate of 60 members elected for life equally from the ranks of peasants, citizens and nobles. Two presidents are chosen by the senate every six months.

Luxemburg Held by Germans. Luxemburg, which lies between Rhinish Prussia, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine, and which was occupied by the Germans during the war, was made a grand duchy in 1814 by the king of the Netherlands. In 1867 it was declared neutral territory by the treaty of London. It has been occupied, however, since 1842 and until the signing of the Versailles treaty to the Zollverein of German customs union.

The population of Luxemburg before the war was approximately 200,000 living in an area of about 1000 square miles. Walloon French is spoken in a few villages but the language of the people is chiefly a German dialect. After the armistice the Germans evacuated Luxemburg. A revolution occurred but was suppressed. The American troops passed through the country and were well received. The grand duchess Marie whose abdication had been demanded by a mob, fled from the country and a republic was proclaimed. This new government, however, existed only a few hours. The parliament called for a plebiscite to decide the future form of government and a republic was voted for a restoration of the grand duchy, electing as grand duchess the Princess Charlotte, sister of Marie.

The DUO-ART, the Final Development of the Piano

The Duo-Art is the most remarkable development of the pianoforte—it is the piano of today and the future. Though the pathways of the keyboard are strange to your fingers—though you do not know one note from another, yet you may play the Duo-Art with consummate skill, with exquisite artistry. For the Duo-Art is the most marvelous player-piano—an instrument which provides you with wonderful "fingers of air" that will do your bidding faithfully.

A perfect and universal instrument for musical expression is the Duo-Art, and something tremendously more significant!

It brings unchanged to you the artistic musical expression of the greatest pianists of today. This is the epochal achievement of this wonderful instrument—that you, in your own home, whenever you choose, may hear Faderewski, Bauer, Ganz, Hofmann, Gabilowitch, Grainger, and scores of others. The Duo-Art Records and the Duo-Art Piano catch and preserve the delicate, transient beauty of great music, magnificently played, and reflect it like a wonderfully perfect mirror.

We cordially invite you to come in and hear the marvelous Duo-Art.
