

MISS CUMMING AND H. F. CORBETT WED

Society Attends Reception at Riverside Home.

CEREMONY AT TRINITY

Hundreds Gather to Congratulate Couple Representing Two Prominent Portland Families.

Bright sunshine, fragrant flowers and a large number of loving and admiring friends greeted Mrs. Hamilton F. Corbett yesterday when she arrived at her father's home on Riverside Drive shortly after the wedding ceremony at Trinity church.

The reception at Dr. W. A. Cumming's residence was held at 4:30 o'clock, and for this latter event several hundred friends assembled to wish the young couple great happiness and to congratulate the bridegroom who had won as his bride one of Portland's most attractive and popular girls.

The marriage was held at Trinity church chapel with relatives and a few friends attending, but the reception was a much larger affair. The day was ideal and the lawn and gardens of the Cumming residence presented a picture of fairyland beauty with flowers in bloom and pretty girls and handsome matrons.

The bride and bridegroom received in the living room standing before a bank of white flowers. Dr. Cumming, father of the bride and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett received with them. After the formal reception, the bride went out on the terrace and, surrounded by an admiring group which included some of the little children of the Elliott and Henry Ladd Corbett families, she cut the cake.

Dorothy Strowbridge, who was enchantingly lovely in a yellow voile frock and a becoming blue hat, discovered that she had drawn the button, Mary Robertson found the ring in her piece of bride's cake and Rhoda Rumelin drew the good luck token. The children who held the court train and were the bride's only attendants were attractive. Anne and Lora Leadbetter, Caroline Corbett and Helen Elizabeth Corbett were bridesmaids. The lace and punch were served at booths on the lawn. In many respects the wedding reception suggested that of Helen Ladd and Alan Green.

Mrs. Green Serves Ices.

Mrs. Green was one of those who served yesterday, presenting the popular table where ices and crushed strawberries and dainty pastries were served. It was distinguished gathering, with all the prominent families represented. Mrs. Robert Lewis was present after being away from Portland for several seasons. Sally Adams was one of the greatly-admired young women present. She wore a stunning gown and hat of white georgette. The gown was trimmed with a bead motif. Mrs. Elliott Corbett was lovely in pale pink and a dainty Dresden flowered crepe meeter with a summy hat. The little children all wore white, the girls being in the simplest of frocks of sheer material.

Mrs. Sharp was stunning in pale lavender. Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright wore a golden colored gown, vastly becoming. Mrs. Donaldson wore a black tulle. Miss Henrietta Failing wore a summy gown of black figured French voile with ivory background. Mrs. Cyrus Dolph was handsomely dressed in black and white. The young girls had the newest and prettiest of colors and styles, all harmonizing and contrasting just as the gay spring and summer flowers did in the gardens.

Bridal Gown Handsome.

The bridal gown was handsome, of the conventional ivory satin. The veil was of rare lace and the band of orange blossoms on the bride's brow was cleverly arranged. The fact that the marriage united two prominent families and that both Mr. and Mrs. Corbett have many relatives among the leading men and women of social distinction and among those who have a prominent position in civic affairs made the marriage one that interests a large number of persons.

Both families have relatives in eastern cities, too, and from these as well as from local friends and relatives came a shower of good wishes.

HIGH INTEREST ASSAILED

Senator Owen Gives Views on Liberty Bond Decline.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Senator Owen, democrat of Oklahoma, Friday made public a letter to Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, in which he expressed his views recently expressed by the governor that increased discount rates ordered by the reserve board would tend to reduce liberty bond prices.

"If money was cheap and credits were available at low rates," said Senator Owen, "it is perfectly obvious that these bonds would go to par, and just to the degree that the banks of the country raise the rates to very high artificial figures, to that degree liberty bonds and victory bonds will assuredly fall in market value."

High interest rates on call money, the senator declared, threaten public confidence and industrial depression.

HOOVER SPOOFING, SAYS HI

"I have opposed the present covenant of the league of nations. My position is known to every voter. Mr. Hoover, in his usual indiscreet fashion, is now seeking votes for my adversary. The only inference that can be drawn from his veiled references is that he wishes them to vote for General Wood. The general believes in some vague and indefinite reservations, the exact nature of which he will not reveal, but he thinks the matter ought not to go to the people, and that our people anyway haven't consented to vote intelligently upon it. How little these gentlemen know the citizenship of the West! I leave the issue with the good people of Oregon."

UNIVERSITY GETS TITLE

OREGON CO-EDS DEFEAT AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE TEAM.

Both Willamette Aggregations Win Unanimous Decisions Over Corvallis Representatives.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 15.—(Special).—By defeating Oregon Agricultural college debaters on both sides of the question in the dual contest held here and at Corvallis Thursday night, the women's debating team of the University of Oregon won the championship of the state. The affirmative speakers for Oregon, who won a 2-to-1 decision here, were Elaine Cooper of Portland and Edna Sparling of Victoria, B. C. The negative team, which won, 3 to 0, at Corvallis, was made up of Elizabeth Wakefield of Long Beach, Cal., and Wanda Daggatt of Portland.

Speculation on the figures just announced in the dual debate to be held with the women's team of the University of Washington here and at Seattle next Tuesday night. This will be the first debate held with the women of the University of Washington since 1917. The subject will be "Resolved, That American labor should organize and support a political party of its own." Miss Moore and Miss Helen Hoover represented the university in the local debate, while Miss Myrtle Mason and Miss Lorelei Blatchford were the university representatives in the Corvallis contest. The latter made up the affirmative team.

Although women's debating was inaugurated at Willamette only this year, five out of six contests have been won by the local women. The first debate of the season, a dual contest with Oregon Agricultural college, was won by the local women. The second, a dual contest from Pacific university, McTavish college and the Oregon Agricultural college.

MEXICAN PRESIDENT FUGITIVE IN WILDS

Chief Said to Have Escaped to Mountains.

OBREGON SENDS MESSAGE

Rebel Officers Ordered to Offer Safe Conduct and Told Not to Injure Aged Executive.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Venustiano Carranza, constitutional president of Mexico, was pictured today by Alvaro Obregon, who forced him to flee from the capital a week ago, as a fugitive in the mountains somewhere between Mexico City and Vera Cruz.

Official reports on the fight near San Marcos between the revolutionary forces and a few loyal detachments of Carranza's army were lacking, but press dispatches from Vera Cruz also told of Carranza's escape through the revolutionary lines apparently acting at rest all reports of the deposed leader's surrender.

There were indications that the revolutionists' attack had not been pressed due, it was believed, to Obregon's orders. Obregon had sent a messenger to Carranza to offer him safe conduct to leave the country if he desired to surrender, and strict injunction was placed on the revolutionary officers not to injure the aged president if he was captured.

New Menace Now Appears.

Obregon's report said Carranza, accompanied by a small escort, was making for the surrounding mountains, but that he was being pursued. While American officials regard the escape of Carranza as the possible basis for a counter-revolution, the belief that he would be able to avail himself of the opportunity was not widely expressed.

A greater possible menace to the revolutionary government, it was said, appeared to lie in the adjustment between revolutionary leaders, Pablo Gonzalez, Obregon, Adolfo de la Huerta, Antonio Villareal, Manuel Palaex and others.

Tax Payments Withheld.

A clear understanding on this hardly could be expected before May 24, the date announced for the convening of the special session of congress when a provisional president is to be named. It was said that revolutionary representatives rejected their assertions that Palaex, who has collected tribute from oil operators about Tampico for four years in defiance of the Carranza government, is in accord with the new revolution and its leaders. American business men are observing their studies with sharp attention, the more so since there is now due in the oil region nearly $2,000,000 in taxes. Carranza has had to wait, probably awaiting more definite indication, it was said, as to who would receive payment.

Some progress toward a restoration of communication lines in Mexico was reported today.

LEGION DRIVE PROCLAIMED

GOVERNOR CALLS ATTENTION TO EX-SOLDIERS' "PUSH."

Addition of 1,000,000 New Members in National Campaign During Week Is Goal.

Governor Olcott yesterday issued a proclamation drawing attention of ex-service men to the "push" for new members to be carried on nationally this week to fit the goal of 1,000,000 new members.

The addition of 1,000,000 new members will bring the total enrolled strength of the legion to 2,500,000. The governor urged all Oregonians to assist in the drive by the success of their efforts. Oregon expects to enroll a large percentage of the ex-service men. In the nation, the drive will close on Monday, June 1, the end of the month.

These dates will be observed generally in Oregon, although in Portland the legion men do not expect to begin their effort until next week.

"It is with pleasure," said Governor Olcott, "that I may lend the endorsement of this office to the plan of 'America's Legion week' which, during the dates I have mentioned, the mighty membership movement is to be put forward. I earnestly urge all Oregonians who have the welfare of their country and their state at heart to give such assistance and co-operation as will aid in the nation-wide movement the magnificent success which it deserves to be."

SLAYER FINED, PAROLED

Tillamook Man, Whose Auto Killed Walter Smith, Assessed $500.

TILLAMOOK, Or., May 15.—(Special).—Charles Blum, who pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, was sentenced tonight. He was fined $500 and paroled for a period of eight years.

Walter Smith, son of a rancher of Tillamook, was the victim of Blum, a rancher who also lived on the Miami road. The body was found in Blum's garage, covered with articles of odd clothing and a trail in the dirt indicated it had been dragged 300 feet from a spot where Smith's wagon was wrecked in the collision with an auto driven by Blum. Blum is said to have been intoxicated at the time.

night for Seattle as $15,852 have brought to light many diversified opinions of the census bureau, the town's increase, the town's failure to show a greater increase and in some instances bitter disappointment. Speculation on the figures just announced has ranged from $35,000 to $50,000. The former figures were the general minimum, and a few wagers were placed that the census would not go below those figures. Census Enumerator R. Erioff is out of the city, but before leaving he issued a written statement telling why the census figures are not as big as it was generally believed they would be. He gave the following reasons: "More stringent rules for the exclusion of transients and the prevention of duplications. Under the same conditions, the census of 1910 would have shown fewer names.

27 BRIDGES ARE LISTED

SOME FINISHED, SOME UNDER WAY, SOME CONTEMPLATED.

Two Overhead Railroad Crossings Included in Road From Salem to California Line.

SALEM, Or., May 15.—(Special).—Twenty-seven bridges and two overhead railroad crossings on the route of the Pacific highway between Salem and the California line, for which contracts have been awarded by the state highway department, have been completed during the past week, are under construction or contemplated within the next month, according to C. M. McCullough, engineer for the state highway commission, who returned here today.

South of Ashland, four concrete spans are under construction, as is an overhead railroad crossing near that city. The cost of the latter structure is $25,000. At Tolo an overhead crossing has been completed, as has the Rogue river arch near Gold Hill. Work on two concrete bridges between Gold Hill and Rogue river has just started, while the bridge over Graves creek is under construction.

Between Roseburg and Oakland eight concrete bridges are under way. South of Ashland, four concrete spans are under construction, as is an overhead railroad crossing near that city. The cost of the latter structure is $25,000. At Tolo an overhead crossing has been completed, as has the Rogue river arch near Gold Hill. Work on two concrete bridges between Gold Hill and Rogue river has just started, while the bridge over Graves creek is under construction.
