PHYSICIANS TOLD TO EMPLOY METHOD MORE FREELY.

Officers Elected by Annal Convention of Oregon State Medical Association.

One of the least painful, most simple and efficient operations which physicians can employ in cases of cancer, cancer of the stomach, loss of cancer, cancer of the stomach, loss of blood and pernicious anemia is that of blood transfusion, and the fraternity should adopt this method with far greater frequency, Dr. Norman G. Pease told members of the Oregon State Medical association at the closing session of the 46th annual content of the story of the south of the safety of the boat. vention yesterday at the Masonic Executive to Take Part in Bridge

"Ten years ago, when we first adopted blood transfusion to save a patient's life, we worked throughout the night before the operation was completed," he said. "Now the entire operation does not take more than half an hour. There is no anesthetic, local or otherwise, no pain to either the person giving or receiving the blood and absolutely no danger." ## FRAUD GLEAR, SAYS COURT

SISTERS ENGAGE IN LAWSUIT INVOLVING $15,000.

Accounting Ordered by Court in Connection With Sale of Lease and Furniture.

That it was very apparent to the court that there was fraud in the known J. Rufus Wallingford to blush with cuvy was the remark of Cir-cuit Judge H. H. Belt yesterday as he ordered an accounting asked by Mrs. Della Jones of her sister, Mrs. Clara Waring.

At the close of the installation.

Cyrus Walker of Albany, aged retiring chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Howard, who left the position of secretary after 22 years of service, were presented with gifts in token of the appreciation of the grange.

S. J. Lowell, master of the national grange, declared that there is too much class criticism and too many accusations of profiteering. "There rever was a time in the history of the world when a day's labor would bring the laborer as much food as at the present time," he said. "Also there never has been a time when the farmer has received so much unjust criticism as now."

He asserted that shorter hours higher pay and cheaper food are the three fundamental causes which can bring famine to the nation, and in conclusion deplored the high nervous tension of modern life, which, he said, is rapidly making the old-time family life a thing of the past.

Mrs. Della Jones of her sister, Mrs. Chara Waring.

It all concerned the possession of furniture' and the lease of the Morton apartments, King and Washington streets, which the sisters had purchased jointly in 1918 for $7500. Mrs. Jones maintained that Mrs. Waring conspired to freeze her out of the place prior to a sale for $15,000.

From the evidence, it appeared that Mrs. Waring sold the furniture and lease, apparently, to Dr. H. S. Collins of Colton & Collins, manufacturing druggists of Oakland, Cal, in July, 1919, for an unsecured nole for $7500, and Mrs. Jones was paid $1500 as her one-fifth interest in the property, she having invested that amount originally.

On March 1, 1820, a sale was made to Robert Russell and J. Crawford for $15,000. Mrs. Jones insists that the first deal was fradulent and for the sole purpose of removing her interest, which she thinks would entitle her to $3000.
