Miss Maude Stock Banks of Los Angeles Who Will be in Portland Shine Week With Her Mount Confidence.

Edwards. They have named their act "Their Night Out."

George Natanson, former leading man of the Alcazar stock company, has an act on the program.

Sponsors for the program are Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and Mrs. Theodore Wilcox. The general committee in charge consists of Mrs. Cameron Squires, Mrs. Alan Green, Mrs. Rose Ireland, Mrs. Henry W. Metzger and Miss Mayme Helen Flynn, chairman.

Another attractive act has for its personnel Mrs. David Honeyman, Mrs. Arthur Sherwood, Mrs. Gilbert Durham, Mrs. John Leader, Miss Dorothy Strowbridge, Miss Louise Lathicum, Miss Louise Lathicum and Mrs. William Burgard.

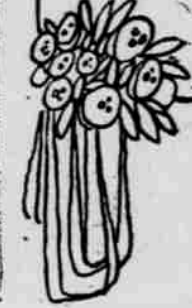

The headline act of the Orpheum has been obtained. Miss Nellie V. Nichols has this act, and is nationally famous as a comedienne, with a large stock of original jokes and the latest song hits. Frank McGettigan, manager of the Orpheum, aided in obtaining this addition to the program. One of the biggest features of the vaudeville show will have 45 persons in its cast, local singers having leading roles and many prominent society girls and well known club men taking part. Among these are Mrs. Deade Ireland, Miss Louise Lathicum, Miss Katherine Hoyt, Miss Elizabeth Ducey, Miss Susan Chenery, Miss Marjorie Hall, Miss Katherine Laidlaw, Miss Mayme Helen Flynn, Miss Sallie Adams and Miss Jean Skene. Among those of the Portland Opera association who have volunteered their services are Mrs. Eloise Hall Cooke, Mrs. Mischa Peis, Miss Nina Drossel, J. Ross Fargo, Randolph Thomas, Harvey Hudson, Ballard Smith and Fred Newton. A number of sub-debutantes will appear in this act. Among them are Miss Marian Bowles, Miss Barbara Stansfield, Miss Dorothy Shea and Miss Mollie Green. Others who will aid are Duncan Strong, Ernest Tucker, Clarence Brazelle, Jack Driscoll, Reed Elsworth, Roland Lockwood, Charles Coghlan and Roland Honeyman.

Box holders for the event are Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mrs. Elliott Corbett, Fred Swigert, Mrs. Cameron Squires, Hans Frohman, Mrs. Mary Schorrough, Mrs. Frank J. Cobbs, Mrs. L. A. Lewis, Mrs. C. H. Davis, Mrs. Julius Meier, Mrs. J. N. Teal, Mrs. Thomas Barnes, Eric Hauser and Mrs. Ned Devereau.

Among the interesting June weddings will be that of Miss Mary Helen Buckley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Calvin Buckley, to William Henry Daughtrey Jr., which has been announced for June 21. The marriage ceremony will be read by Dr. E. H. Pence in the Westminster Presbyterian church in the presence of a large number of the younger set of Portland. Several out-of-town guests are expected. Among these will be Miss Adelle Buckley of Los Angeles, Miss Ruth Bamford, who will act as maid of honor, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clark, brother-in-law and sister of the bride elect, from Joplin, Mo., and Mrs. Doris Smith Noble. Miss Buckley has chosen for her attendants Miss Bamford of Seattle, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Margaret Versteeg, Miss Janet Peter, Miss Elizabeth Wiggins and Miss Lucille McClung. Raymond F. Buckley, her brother, will act as best man, while the following have been chosen as ushers: Richard Ransom, Robert Burnside, Elton Magill and Glen Francis.

Mrs. Charles T. Chamberlain and Mrs. Sam P. Lockwood entertained with a luncheon for Miss Buckley at the home of the former on Friday noon. Guests at the affair included: Mrs. John Mortimer Bruhn (Pauline Wolfard), Miss Janet Peters, Miss Elizabeth Peters, Miss Margaret Versteeg, Mrs. Carrie Lee Chamberlain Wood, Miss Katherine Lockwood, Miss Edna Pence and Mrs. Henry Buckley.

Cards for several other teas and luncheons honoring Miss Buckley will be out this week and next. Miss Buckley is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, having been initiated into the University of Oregon chapter which she attended during the winter of 1918 and 1919.

Miss Helen Drain was a charming hostess on Wednesday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Herbert Garr Reed, when Miss Kathryn Hershberger, Miss Drain's house guest, was the guest of honor. The tea tables were gay with pink gladioli and about the drawing room were huge bowls of golden dahlias. Receiving with the hostess were Miss Hershberger and Mrs. Reed. Miss Marie Howell and Mrs. Daniel Myers presided at the tea table, assisted by Miss Alberta Kirkwood, Mrs. C. W. Houseman and Miss Louise Ingram, who cut ices.

Miss Hershberger has been the motif for many informal affairs, which included a trip over the highway yesterday.

One of the most interesting weddings of this season among the younger college girls was that of Mrs. Roy Cowles McDaniel, who was married last night to Augustus Bruce Bailey Jr. of Portland. The ceremony took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McDaniel, 27 North Twenty-fourth street, with Dean E. T. T. Hicks of St. Stephen's pro-cathedral, officiating. Promptly at 8 o'clock the bridal procession formed. Three shades were carried out in the very effective costumes of Miss Gretchen Colton, Miss Margaret Bronough, Miss Rosetta Klockner and Miss Thelma Thompson, who were the bridesmaids. The first two mentioned wore frocks of blue while Miss Klockner and Miss Thompson were in costumes of peach. Miss Adine Solberg of Seattle, who was maid of honor, wore orchid over cloth of silver which introduced the third shade. The attendants carried picture fans of single ostrich plumes and caught onto the edge of Miss Solberg's fan were
