CHAMBER DRIVE GOES ON

CAMPAIGN GROUP NOT DISMAYED BY CHECK.

Approval of Plans of State Organization Voiced by Business Men of City.

Undaunted, though delayed in completion of the task of raising the Portland, quiet for the State Chamber of Commerce, the organization that has been directing and conducting the work will resume its campaign Tuesday morning. The Portland Chamber and the civic clubs of the city are solidly behind the state chamber in its plans for a campaign of land settlement, industrial development and encouragement of tourist travel with adequate facilities to care for the visitors when they come. A meeting of business men is to be called in the green room of the Oregon building tomorrow at which the situation will be considered and plans for the whirlwind finish checked up.

Approval of the campaign was voiced by O. W. Mielke, director of the Portland Chamber of Commerce yesterday. He said: "The Portland chamber wants to see the business men and citizens of the city get behind the movement of the state chamber. First of all the need of such an organization was recognized and financed in its inception by the state. When the expansion plan was proposed it received approval. The Portland chamber is and always has been anxious for the intensive development of the state."

A. J. Dale, another director of the Portland chamber, expressed similar sentiments when he said: "In my opinion some agency for the state at large is essential for co-operation of effort in an efficient way. The state chamber has undertaken to do this work in a forceful way. The budget outline indicates the purpose to exert a beneficial influence upon the whole state, in which the interest of Portland as a community is large. It was with a realization of the important state-wide work that needs attention that the Portland Chamber of Commerce got behind this campaign. We have a direct interest in its successful outcome."

"I consider the principles of the state chamber excellent. If it accomplishes the things outlined it will be of inestimable worth to the commonwealth, and is entitled to the support of every citizen who has the interests of the state at heart. Our resources are wonderful, but the potential wealth of Oregon has been barely scratched. We have room for a large population of industrious people, and to that class is offered opportunity of the most attractive sort. The programme of the state chamber is one that appeals to me as the kind of a movement that must be carried to success for the rebuilding of the whole state. The city will benefit in this by reason of the growth of domestic and foreign trade and increased production of the products of the farm, orchard and range, as well as the satisfaction of a large, prosperous and contented population."

Julius L. Meier, chairman of the executive committee having in charge the Portland campaign, likens the state to a business concern. He said: "Oregon is a business concern. Its citizens are the stockholders. Its elected officials are the directors. The Oregon state chamber of commerce is its selling force. The state does not differ greatly from a private business enterprise, in that both have goods to sell. It costs money to advertise, but the returns are worth it."

Membership in Scottish Rite bodies of Masonry in Oregon is growing by leaps and bounds. Usually only two reunions are conducted each year, when classes are admitted to membership. However, because of the large number of petitions received, it has already been found necessary to

EXEMPTION ACT UPHELD

Eugene Court Awards Verdict to Veteran, Sued While in Service.

EUGENE, Or., June 12.—(Special).—A decision of more than ordinary interest was made by Judge C. F. Skipworth of this city yesterday in the case of the Hodson-Feenaghty company of Portland against W. B. Ryan, also of that city.

Judge Skipworth held that the act of Congress that exempted soldiers and sailors during the war from attachment proceedings and other similar law actions is constitutional.

This is said to have been the only case of the kind decided west of New York since the act was passed by congress.

PROFITEERS ARE WATCHED

ROBBING OF VISITORS WILL NOT BE TOLERATED HERE.

Portland Ad Club to Assist in Preventing Merchants From Overcharging City's Guests.

The Shrine committee sounded the death knell of the profiteer in Portland yesterday—anyway so far as the conventions next week are concerned. The better-business bureau of the Portland Ad club was appointed to act as the Shrine committee's representative in checking up food and produce prices and all places "charging" prices for food or goods higher than those which have prevailed in the last 60 days.

Prosecution, if necessary, was threatened by Mayor Baker. The Shrine committee went on record as insisting that "prices shall not be increased during Shrine week, a practice, which if indulged in by any business house, properly and justly would brand it as a 'profiteer,' a title as repugnant to the true American as would have been the appellation of 'traitor' to the country two years ago."

"Months ago," said Mayor Baker, "the Shrine committee promised the 'shrine' of the country there would be no profiteering. 'In return the business interests of Portland made the same pledge to the city."

"Is that pledge being broken?" "Reports say that in several cases, at least, it is."

"Hence the better business bureau has been appointed to represent the Shrine."

"We shall prosecute, if necessary, but we think we shall not be compelled to do this for the citizens of Portland will come through with flying colors, we believe."

"But this is no time for a back-down. We must come through this time—and come through clean. The reputation of Portland and Oregon is at stake."

"Today it is a matter of honor, but if honor is not sufficient, we shall use force."

Reports were so serious that the Shrine committee appointed a sub-committee consisting of Mayor Baker, Dean Vincent, Dr. S. M. Strohecker and A. H. Lee, potentate of Al Keder, to deal with the question of alleged profiteering.

An edict was promptly issued by the committee which recited that Portland obtained the convention on the solemn pledge that foodstuffs, or other articles which might be required by visitors, would be sold to them at standard prices.

The committee asserted that at least three serious cases of alleged increase in food prices had come to its notice and declared that it will "insist on the same standard of prices as have prevailed for the past 60 days."

THE NEW SAVAGE TYPE

CONSIDERED BY MANY MOTORISTS THE BEST FABRIC TIRE ON THE AMERICAN MARKET

A NEW DEPARTURE IN TIRE CONSTRUCTION

My pride in our "D" Type Tire is as boundless as the waters of the Great Salt Sea, for in it my people have expressed the ideals of our House. Into it my people have put, as nearly as the wisdom granted them by the Great Spirit will permit, the utmost reach in quality of materials, perfection in methods and the highest point in workmanship. Know then, O Motorists, that in our "D" Type use believe the last word in quality fabric tire construction has been spoken.

It is the Great Chief of all our tires. Built in the Savage way to fulfill the needs of the present day motorists, it is big—as the lordly elk to the antelope, so is our "D" Type to any other fabric tire I know of in a corresponding size. In fact, it is over-size, even as a cord tire.

And because it is big, and has an extra ply of fabric, with pure gum friction between the plies, and all the way through is made of the finest raw materials that the bottomless purse of our chiefs can buy; and because it is built by hand, and has an especially woven breaker strip to absorb the road shock, and a breaker cover to help make it flexible; and because it has a tread more tough than the skin of the buffalo, and because the sight of it gladdens the eyes of all men with its grey tread, cream side-wall, and blood-red trade mark; and for other reasons as numerous as the quills on the porcupine, I believe it is the best tire on the American market. Your hearts would be filled with wonder if you knew how many are the motorists who agree with me.

I SALUTE YOU, O MOTORISTS! LITTLE HEAP HAS SPOKEN.

"Little Heap" as a character is symbolic of the Speeches "Savage" Tire Company. By birth he is a "Savage"; by adoption, a member of The House of Speeches. Wise for his years, educated in modern ways and imbued with the spirit of the organization he represents, the little "chief" is an authority on the construction of "Savage" tires and tubes. It is fitting that the sterling qualities and the sturdiness of his race are characteristic, too, of the products with which he is associated.
