

12 COAST MEN GET WESTERN CHAMPS

Two ex-Western Athletes Also Considered.

FIVE FROM MULTNOMAH

Spearow, Murphy, Payne, Wells and Merchant May Wear Club Colors at Meet.

There are at least 12 Pacific coast athletes who have a chance of being selected on the American track team to go to Antwerp for the Olympic games and there are two ex-Pacific coast men, now members of eastern university teams, who also have an exceptionally good chance. The latter two are Carl Johnson of Spokane, now at Michigan, called in the east the greatest American athlete today, and Harrison Thompson of Los Angeles, attending Princeton university, national all-round champion.

The other 12 coast men are Ralph Spearow, "Mose" Payne and Johnny Murphy of Portland, all representing the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club; Charles Paddock of the University of Southern California; Morris Kirksey of Stanford; H. Bihman and R. Caughey of the University of California; Jack Merchant of the University of California; Eldon G. Jenne, Washington State college; Dink Templeton of Stanford; Willard "Jesse" Wells of Stanford and Henry Williams of Spokane.

Five May Be From Club. Five of these athletes would likely wear the colors of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club as well as of the United States, they compete in the games and five of the 12 athletes are Oregon boys. Spearow, Murphy, Payne, Wells and Merchant are now lined up with the winged-M institution, while it is said that Eldon Jenne, the Princeton State pole-vaulter, will also join.

Following are the events the 12 stellar Pacific coast athletes specialize in: Paddock, Williams and Kirksey, sprinters; Bihman, Caughey, shot putters; Merchant, broad jump and hammer throw; Jenne and Spearow, pole vault; Templeton and Murphy, high jump; Wells, distance, and Willard, hurdles.

Murphy at Notre Dame. Johnny Murphy of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and now at Notre Dame is the present national high jump champion and in his few leaps this year which have won him the notice of coast and field followers in this part of the country he recorded sensational marks. Murphy is a natural jumper, broad jump, high jump, he has made marks ever since he attended grammar school here.

Henry Williams, colors of Multnomah club last season, is the present 220-yard national champion and also the same ability in the Pacific coast trials is a clinch to get to the finals in Boston anyway. Paddock already is practically a sure thing in this season being consistent in both dashes.

Kirksey is another who rates with the best sprinters in the country. He showed his heels to the eastern athletes in the intercollegiate games at Philadelphia. He was pulled a tendon and was forced to withdraw. He has two defeats by Paddock against his high jump, but his work in the 100 yards entitles him to consideration.

Jenne Looks as Hope. Eldon G. Jenne, of Pacific Coast fame, has announced that he will not have time to enter competition this summer in Pacific coast events, but he is doing the best vaulting of his career in workouts this season. It is a shame that he hasn't the time to compete in the Olympic trials, but with Jenne doing 13 feet 3 inches the coast will have a chance to place in the event.

"Here" Bihman, with 48 feet 3 1/4 inches, shows the best shot put so far in this country. Caughey, on his inter-annual record, has a good chance of selection. Templeton of Stanford is nearly on a par with Murphy as a high jumper and has some great marks to his credit.

Up until Wells turned in his great feat in the east, when he won the intercollegiate low hurdles title, it was thought that he was the coast's best of any one with a chance in the hurdles, but Wells' victory gives the outlook a new look. He is now in Portland visiting his folks.

Const Best in Field Events.

Outside of Payne there doesn't seem to be a distance runner on the coast who figures against the eastern stars, and the same applies to the middle distance men. The coast shines the best in the field events, and is stronger in that department than in any other. The coast sprinters at this time are supreme, but there are a number of high-class men in the east including Scholz and Murckinson, who are sure of being picked.

It practically is settled that the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club will send only two men south, said to be Mose Payne and Jess Wells. The Oregon Agricultural college miler, it will mean that any one else from here would have to go on his own, rather than line up with some other club. It was originally thought that the outfit in charge of staging the Pacific coast trials in Pasadena, June 28, was going to pay the competing athletes' railroad fares, but it later developed that such was not the case, hence the cutting down of prospective teams.

CARPENTIER'S STOCK RISING

Ring Followers Pleased at Match With Battling Levinsky.

If the reputation which Georges Carpentier has acquired as the world's weight boxing champion, has brought with him to this country is not another case of the American public being deceived, he should have no difficulty in winning the proposed match between himself and Battling Levinsky. Certainly news that he was to engage in a bout has added considerably to his popularity over here, for there were many ring followers who rather regretted the fact that he was making a lot of money without so much as drawing on it.

While the announced intention of Carpentier in coming to this country was for the purpose of fighting Jack Dempsey, the world champion, and morally there was no call for him to take on any one else, it still is a fact that the American public is entitled to know something about Carpentier as a ring man before he meets Dempsey. Fighting Carpentier is a man who has been in the ring since he was 14, and has won 100 fights, 85 of which were by decision. He has been in the ring since he was 14, and has won 100 fights, 85 of which were by decision. He has been in the ring since he was 14, and has won 100 fights, 85 of which were by decision.

tier is unable to get by Levinsky, there is every reason in the world why he should not be matched against Dempsey.

If Carpentier is able to dispose of two or three good big men in impressive fashion, it will go a long way towards popularizing his match against Dempsey. If that event ever occurs and it is possible to popularize a match in which an American who failed to respond to the call of his country is a principal.

COMISKY AFTER COLLEGE BOY

White Sox Dicker to Turn Corn Husker Professional.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 12.—The Chicago White Sox are dicker for the services of Pitcher John Pickett, captain of the University of Nebraska baseball team, who held the University of California to one hit last week, struck out 14 and won his game, 1 to 0. The Cornhusker hurler has pitched three shutouts this spring and is rated as one of the great college pitchers of the year.

Although not ready to announce his willingness to break into professional baseball, Pickett has been offered the Comiskey team the inside trade. Pickett is a right-hand six-footer and his fast ball has puzzled every college team he has faced this season.

COLLEGE CHAMPS VIEWED

TEAM'S CHANCES CONSIDERED FOR EASTERN HONORS.

Quartet of Schools Said to Stand Out From More Ordinary Collection of 1920.

NEW YORK, June 12.—There are at present four teams that stand out prominently in the race for the mythical championship of the eastern colleges. These are Georgetown, Holy Cross, Lafayette and Penn State. It is almost a certainty that the winner of the title will be one of these aggressive teams. Each has a splendid record to date, and each is favorably rated with the most formidable teams of past years.

Georgetown lost two close games to Cornell and the University of Vermont, at the beginning of the season, but it has since compiled a remarkable string of 17 consecutive victories, and now bids fair to lead all its rivals when the present campaign comes to a close. The Washington collegians have defeated Holy Cross, Princeton, Fordham, Yale, Lehigh, Navy, the University of Pennsylvania, Boston college, Washington and Lee, and other equally strong teams.

In the 20 games played thus far this season, Georgetown has scored 158 runs to its opponents' 45, and is probably the heaviest hitting team in the east. It also has won 12 of the best pitchers in the college world in Hyman and Reynolds, each of whom has been a big factor in the many triumphs that the team has gained this season.

Former manager of the Pittsburg Pirates has developed one of the most formidable teams of which Penn State has boasted in recent years. The Blue and White aggregation has sustained but three defeats and has registered 11 victories.

Gramley, the Penn State pitching ace, has been successful in six of eight starts, and has yet to be beaten. He has turned back to Fordham, Syracuse, the University of Nebraska, the Michigan Aggies and Delaware.

The Princeton nine now rules a strong favorite for the championship. It is probably the best team in the east, having won 10 of 11 games, and is expected that the Yale team will give the Tigers a hard fight for the title.

RACER BOUGHT FOR SADDLE

Royal Mack to Trot on Central Park Bridge Paths.

C. K. G. Billings of New York has purchased of Thomas W. Murphy the noted trotter Royal Mack, 2:04 1/4, and is planning to import him to the grand circuit, for use as a saddle horse. The speedy bay gelding arrived from Massachusetts, and is said to have 1000 miles on the Central park bridge paths during the next few weeks.

The new owner of Royal Mack is keeping him at Durand's riding academy, where he has three other fast trotting saddle horses, two of which recently arrived from Virginia. They are in charge of Peter Hastings, who has had charge of Mr. Billings' famous saddle horse Urian.

TOLEDO OPEN WILL SEE BEST GOLF TALENT IN COMPETITION

Quimet Says Coming of Abe Mitchell Means That Best Field That Has Ever Competed in United States Will Come Together.

BY FRANCIS QUIMET.

NOW that Abe Mitchell is coming over for the open championship, there is a greater interest than ever in this affair. It will unquestionably bring together the best field that has ever competed for the United States title, and there are so many players, and so many scheduled to play the out-come may be anything. While we rest our fondest hopes on Walter Hagen, there are a dozen other players, breds capable of winning the crown, not to overlook a few of our amateurs.

The fact that Jerry Travers is making an effort to get back into form means much to American golf. Should Jerry strike his stride and appear at Toledo in his old form he will be a competitor who will require a lot of beating. Travers has the tournament experience to help him through the long grind of the week, and the right temperament. He will be a splendid bulwark for the American public in the event of turning back the English invasion.

Evans Not Back Number.

One reads and hears so much about Evans these days that it is hard to believe that he is a back number. Evans has won several of the best of the year's and splendid record is by no means a back number. Chick has won the shot in the bag down to perfection and has lost none of his cunning. I learned that in our battle with him last summer, he was the other man's game all the way through. Chick labored under a big handicap, but Evans was ready to meet him both the amateur and open titles. I doubt if golf will ever see a man so good as Evans.

Then there is Davy Herron and Bobby Jones. Both are ready to play at the present time but both sawing wood and working at all times to smooth what they can. Should Herron play in the open and set anything like the pace he maintained all through the season, he would be a world class player. The best golf of Mitchell, Vardon, Ray or Hagen to beat him. No amateur ever got a more consistent clip

MEET THE O'DOWD BOSS

Battler to Start Training for Ortega Bout.

158 POUNDS AGREED ON

Afternoon of Bout—Aggressive Contest Is Expected.

Mike O'Dowd, recently deposed middleweight champion of the world, and his manager, Paddy Mullins, are due to arrive in Portland Tuesday from New York to round out the former champion's training sessions for his ten-round decision match with Battling Ortega of Oakland in the main event of the June 24 boxing card at the Milwaukee arena.

The O'Dowd-Ortega match should be a replica of those two great battles between Joe Gorman and Young Brown, only the men are bigger and there is more chance of one of them going down under a fusillade of blows before the end of the battle is reached.

O'Dowd Said to Be Aggressive. O'Dowd is credited with being one of the most aggressive world champions in history, and has high hopes of regaining his title from Johnny Wilson before many more months have passed, and if it comes right down to it, Paddy Mullins is still claiming the title for his boy on the basis that the bout with Wilson was fought at the eastern weight limit. However, there will always be a dispute until the two men meet again and settle their differences.

Ortega is rated as one of the greatest 158-pounders in the game, and has beaten everything that has ever invaded the Pacific coast, and tackled him. He holds decisions over some of the best-known welterweights and middleweights in the game.

O'Dowd and Ortega have agreed to make 158 pounds at 3 o'clock the afternoon of the bout. Matchmaker Frank Kendall announced the following matches as part of the card: O'Dowd vs. Young Brown, Allie Nock vs. Frank Gallagher, and Danny Edwards vs. Frankie Garcia.

Dispute Over Brown. There seems to be some dispute as to who has Young Brown signed for this season. Brown, who has been Jimmy Gallagher has agreed to let his boy box on both June 22 and 24, but before the fight is made, a boxing commission said last night that he had Brown signed to meet Earl Smith on the first lap and right on the second.

Allie Nock and Frankie Murphy are slated to box eight rounds and have evened the score. Catcher took the afternoon of the bout. Murphy has appeared twice before in the city, and has won both times. He is and Johnny McCarthy, while Nock has fought here once, taking on Earl Smith on the first lap and right on the second.

Three six-round bouts will round out the card with Danny Edwards and Earl Smith meeting in the top preliminary match. The other two matches have not yet been made up, but several contests are under consideration. One is between Johnny Fiske vs. George Brandon and Baby Blue vs. some opponent. Fiske is certain to be used on the card.

"Comet" McLoughlin to Try Again. Maurice E. ("Comet") McLoughlin is probably the most popular player in the history of American tennis, and there was more than a little interest in his return to the game. He was the national champion, which he held in 1912 and 1913. In those days McLoughlin's play was a model of perfection, and he has probably never been equaled. It was the fact that he was a player, both in this country and abroad.

They're selling stock in the Seattle ball club. Laughing or investing?

Under the Norwegian plan of skating, the inside lane on one trip around and the outside one on the next trip, McLoughlin was sent away to the inside lane on the first lap and Mathieson was flagged to the other lane. The Norwegian refused to take the order of the flag man and took the inside lane. Other officials and spectators then ran out and stopped the race, and the race was called off.

McLean's manager also declares that his claims were taken up by the Swedish papers, and when the films about the American's contention, the pictures were barred in Norway by government officials.

The pictures were taken by a Swedish photographer and are due in this country any day. They will be shown at the Seattle exhibition to New York newspaper men to bear out the claims of the Americans.

In McLoughlin's defeat, Scanlon asserts. The manager brought back with him a contract whereby McLoughlin was to be the kind of a star, a pistol or flag. The pistol start was decided on, but when the skaters got ready to start, the flag was substituted. The starter gave the word in Norwegian. Mathieson understood it, got away to a good start, while McLoughlin was waiting for the flag to drop.

McLean lapped Mathieson in the 5000-meter race and was beaten in the 500-meter by one-fifth of a second and two-fifths of a second in the 1500 race.

Sports of All Sorts. THE best trap shots from eight western states will compete next Sunday in the opening series of the Pacific coast zone shoot. It is the largest trap tournament ever held on this coast and will be shot at Walla Walla, Wash. The shoot will decide the amateur and professional champions of the zone, and the winner will come to the front at any time any day. We need our best golfers for the task there. Every one brought to the starting line when the big event began.

It is remarkable how many young golfers are forging to the front. Last year I brought a dozen to Pittsburgh, titleholder. This year will be more evidence of the same sort of thing. Already the name of the name is being brought to attention by the splendid play brought to play by H. G. Davis III, of the Hill tennis champs. Last week Marion Wheaton won the varsity tennis championship after a strenuous match with Irma Frazier. The latter girl was only a freshman and both opponents played remarkable tennis, though the experience of Miss Wheaton, though her steadier play, eventually won.
