

couver, B. C., besides their active participation in the grand floral parade, will be guests of honor at an international patriotic concert and reception to be given in the public auditorium on Friday afternoon, June 25, at 2:30 o'clock.

Members of the Red Cross motor squad, who were so active in war activities, will again participate in civic activities as they drive the marshals in the grand floral parade on Thursday. Those giving their services are Misses Katherine Hoyt, Gretchen Klosterman, Johanna Rosendale, Butterfield, Alberta Blair.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Menefee and Theodore B. Wilcox at Port Worth, Tex., last Wednesday was a social event of much interest. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox went immediately to southern California and will sail for Honolulu on July 1. They will be in Portland about September 1.

Miss Ruth Sellwood and Edward Verlein will be married Thursday at 4 o'clock in the residence of the bride's cousin, Dr. and Mrs. Sellwood. Rev. W. A. M. Breck will officiate. Dr. Sellwood will play the organ. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Stanborough of Bond.

Of decided interest was the marriage of Drake C. O'Reilly and Nina McKelvey Miller, solemnized in Pittsburg on Thursday.

A dinner for 65 was given Monday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Meier, who have recently returned from New York and Europe. Mrs. Arthur M. Sellwood entertained Friday at luncheon for Miss Margaret Hewitt. Covers were laid for Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Stanley Jewett, Mrs. Kurt Koehler, Mrs. Irving L. Webster, Mrs. Mortimer Hartwell, Miss Sally Adams, Miss Hewitt and the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Koehler gave a dinner Thursday evening for Miss Hewitt and Guy Zander. The marriage will be an event of this week.

Dr. Andrew Hall will entertain for Miss Hewitt and Mr. Richards tomorrow evening.

Mrs. S. S. Menefee entertained the board of directors and the nurses of the Visiting Nurse association at her country place on Friday. The luncheon and outing was ideal.

Mr. Percy Lee Menefee was hostess on Wednesday for Miss Esperance Girardelli, who is her guest at the Menefee residence on Fairview boulevard. Assisting at the tea hour were Mrs. L. B. Menefee and Mrs. Jack White, and assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Nancy Zan Scott, Mrs. A. Van Rosendaal, Mrs. Holt Cookington and Miss Dorothy Strowbridge.

At the home of Mrs. William Gadsby last Sunday an interesting christening service was held. The children baptized were Walter Moore Gadsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gadsby; Margaret Alice, Daisy Bell and William Benjamin Gadsby, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadsby, and Nellie Florence Vessey, daughter of M. M. Vessey and the late Captain Chester Vessey.

The Misses Florence and Mary Holmes have returned from college and a number of informal social affairs are being planned in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hill will entertain for them in the near future.

It takes more than cloudy skies and occasional showers to dampen the ardor and drivers of horses that are entered in the Portland horse show, which opens on Monday, June 21, and continues until Friday, June 25, at the Multnomah club field.

Known men and women devote part of each day to training their mounts for the big show. The horses are put through their paces usually at the Hunt club grounds at Garden Home, and also at the riding academy.

Harness, bit, bridles and stirrups are being furnished for the approaching show, and every part of horse trappings, including smart vehicles and attractive carts are being given a vigorous refurbishing. For quality and style both in animals and equipment the night horse show will eclipse all predecessors, as the best and finest specimens from California, British Columbia, Oregon and Washington will be exhibited.

On two evenings during the week the younger class will be featured, when the Junior Hunt club members will participate in drills, polo playing and various exciting games.

Interest centers in the military stunts and drills that the artillery detachment from Corvallis will give during the five nights. Effort is being made to have the royal mounted police of Canada, a squad of whom is expected to participate in the Rose Festival and Shrine parades, appear on the horse show programme in a special number.

The various organizations and societies are planning to attend in groups, occupying entire sections each evening. For these occasions the association will put on special features apropos of the particular organization or club attending.

Monday will be society night, and on that occasion everyone will do their smartest gowns and hats, and entertain their friends in boxes or line parties. Special music will be provided and the new riding togs of the exhibitors will vie with the regalia of the spectators.

Different orders of the visiting Shriners will attend in groups on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, as guests of the Horse Show association. For them there will be musical features and other special attractions that will make the Portland horse show a memorable one.

The sale of boxes speaks a gala week, as society will be hosts to hundreds of visitors, choosing to entertain their guests in line parties as well as in exclusive little groups in the boxes. Many no-host parties are being planned, and if the enthusiasm and interest so far displayed are indications, the week will be resplendent of gaiety and interest.

Society will formulate plans this week for the entertainment of the charming equestriennes who will arrive about mid-week to remain until after the show. Mrs. Wayne W. Keyes (Bernice Baker) of Tacoma will reach here Tuesday to be the house guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jenkins. Mrs. Keyes will exhibit four handsome horses, and as she is equally popular here and in Tacoma, she will be delightfully entertained. Little Doris McCleave, who captured not only blue ribbons last fall in the horse show, but also the society of Portland, will arrive Wednesday, accompanied by her father. They will be domiciled at the Campbell-Hill hotel during their sojourn.

Mrs. Martha Dandridge Bowers of Santa Barbara, another charming ex-sultor, will be here Friday or Saturday; Captain and Mrs. W. E. Sharp of Corvallis and Captain and Mrs. Hartwell, also of Corvallis, will precede the artillery detachment, who will participate in the horse show. They will arrive Friday evening and will visit friends in Northrup street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Green of Moberley, Mo., the former to act as judge of the horse show, are due here on Friday, and they will be domiciled at Alexander Court.

Professor F. W. Wilson of the University of Nevada, who will act in an official capacity, will also reach here by Saturday.

Miss Marguerite Templeton was hostess Friday when she gave a luncheon at the Benson Hotel for Miss Elizabeth Boyd, who arrived a few days ago from her home in Chicago. Sixteen covers were marked with exquisite hand-painted place cards. The table was elaborately decorated with a beautiful floral design. The guests included the following: Madamame Eldon Furnish, Harry Hutchings, Starrett Dinwiddie, Henry Boyd, Jay Coffey, Harriette Eliza, Charles Siskin, Elizabeth Beacock, Polly Kerr, Gretchen Smith, Louise Linthicum, Mary Warrick, Marie Michener, Genevieve Gutierrez, Elizabeth Richardson.

Miss Mayme Helen Flynn was hostess on Sunday at a musical and 4 o'clock tea at the Hotel Multnomah when she honored some of her young piano students. About 70 of the substitute set were guests.

A programme was presented by Frances Prudhomme, Aileen Monks, Venita Tichenor, Julia and Helen Kaufman, Dorisleigh Gordon, Olga Levit, Audrey Davis, Irwin Fulop and James Forester.

Mrs. Esther Joseph of San Francisco announces the engagement of her daughter, Therese, to Charles Siskin Cohn of Portland, Or. Miss Joseph is a popular member of the younger set of San Francisco. Mr. Cohn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cohn, and is a recent graduate of the law school of Leland Stanford Junior university.

The three plays which won in the competition of the drama league will be given at the little theater on successive nights of Monday and Tuesday, June 23 and 24. Many line parties have already been made up to see these plays written by Portland people. Mrs. Dent Mowrey has selected the casts, and rehearsals have started under the direction of George Nathan.

The cast for "Backgrounds" by Susie Aubrey Smith, will be Mrs. Sam May, who will take the part of the widow; Miss Dorothy Hall will take the part of the French girl; Earle Murphy the man of 20, Robert McGill the man of 30 and George Nathan the man of 40.

"In Back-Door Neighbors," by Mrs. Edwin Seely Parsons, Jean Bradford will be played by Miss Kate Shaffer. May Bradford by Ruth Graham Case.

The Pleasure of Making Music

Practically everyone likes to make music. Man is born with a craving to express something within him, in musical tones of some sort, something that he is unable to express in any other way.

This is the secret of the wonderful popularity of the Player-Piano. Of all the pianos made in this country last year, it is said that over 60% were Player-Pianos!

Watch the owner of a Player-Piano—some middle-aged business man—after dinner in the evening! Note the manifest pleasure it gives him to play the old favorites of his youth; how his body moves and sways as he hurries the music a little here, slows it up there, softens this passage, swells out on that, just exactly as though he were doing everything himself, instead of simply controlling the expression.

Then see the young folks with a Player-Piano; now using "song-rolls" with the words of popular songs printed on them; now dancing to the snappiest, most cleverly played dance tune of the day.

It is a versatile instrument—the Player-Piano—responding with suitable music for every mood and every occasion. And it is no wonder that so great a number prefer the Player-Piano of today, to the silent Piano of yesterday.

We carry the Aeolian Company line (makers of the famous Pianola and the marvelous Duo Art) and offer a most varied line of Player instruments at a wide range of prices. Our convenient payment terms make owning a Player-Piano an easy matter. There is so much joy in owning a Player, for every member of the family—why not come in and see us about it today?
