

SUMMER SESSIONS
BEGIN NEXT WEEKStudents Offered Classes in Many Subjects.

NEW LECTURERS COMING

University Credits Given Those
Registering and Completing Required Work.

The fourth summer session of the University of Oregon to be held in Portland will open June 21 at the Central library and Lincoln high school. It will continue six weeks.

Dr. George Rebec, director of the summer school, has announced a large and varied programme with classes in art, music, education, sociology, chemistry, biology, French, Spanish, psychology, English, public speaking, history and Americanization. These classes are open to everyone, and university credits will be given to those registering and completing the required work. The registration fee is $18. The classes will meet daily, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday. Morning hours will be given preference on the schedule.

Social History Courses Offered.

Dr. Harry E. Barnes of the new school for social research, New York City, will offer two courses in social history. Dr. Barnes is considered one of the most famous of the younger historians in this country, having held positions with Columbia university and Clark university, where he has accepted a professorship for the coming year. In recent years he has devoted a good part of his time to research work, and is today one of the greatest authorities in the country on the social and economic aspects of the great war. This is his first visit to the Pacific coast.

Dr. Barnes will be in Portland the first three weeks of the summer session, later going to Eugene.

Lectures in Civics Given.

Another lecturer who is being brought to Oregon for the first time by the university summer school is Dr. Edgar Dawson, professor of education at Hunter college, New York City. Dr. Dawson has been giving a series of lectures in civics and Americanization at the University of California in Berkeley during the spring semester. He is the author of a book just being published, which will be used as a civics text in many of the state schools. Prior to his coming to Portland he has been at the university in Eugene giving a three-weeks course. Dr. Dawson served with Dr. Joseph Schafer, late head of the history department at the university, on a national committee of eight members appointed to revise the course of study in civics and history in the schools.

An entirely new department of the Portland university summer school will be the school of music conducted by Dr. John J. Landsbury, dean of the school of music at the University of Oregon. Courses for teachers in the school music, sight-reading, literature and technical problems of the piano, harmony and other branches will be given.

Last year there were 330 registered students in the summer school. Present indications point to a registration that will reach the 400 mark. Persons interested may call the Portland office of the university, 652 courthouse, Main 3575. Bulletins will be sent upon request, or any questions answered relative to the summer session.

MINSTRELS TO BE GIVEN

EX-SERVICE MEN TO BE SEEN
AT BAKER THEATRE JUNE 17.American Legion, Department of Oregon, Backs Show to Be Given
Under Its Auspices.

Realistic trench and overseas scenes painted by a practical comedian and trained in France, musical and histrionic talent chiefly from the ranks of ex-service men will be featured in the "American Legion Minstrels and Overseas Revue," to be staged at the Baker theatre next Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 17 to 20, under the auspices of the American Legion, department of Oregon. Forty men will participate in the ensemble and no expense has been spared to make the entertainment attractive.

Billy Foy, who, with Billy Bryan, has been directing the entertainment, directed and appeared in two all-soldier companies in France during the war and was in charge of all soldier amusements at the Palais de l'Esplanade, Paris, for more than six months. Musical ensembles are being directed at nightly rehearsals by Walter Jenkins, with Foy and Bryan in charge of the comedy, specialty and minstrel acts.

Matt Lenore, who painted most of the scenery used in overseas shows and was in camouflage work in France, has prepared the scenes for the various acts, more than two months being required in their painting. The result is said to surpass scenes in "The Great War" and war plays. The opening scene is a company "bun" tent billed in France near the front, with Foy and Bryan in the trench scene, and the third internal and external scenes at Toul. Lenore also is acting as stage manager.

Foy, Bryan, Casey Jones and Jimmy Walker were selected for end men in the minstrel. Frank Honesty will be interlocutor. Orchestral accompaniment will be by Jerry Stone's "doughboy jazz orchestra." "Audience acts and a comedy sketch will follow the minstrels.

More Than $25,000 Spent in Permanent Improvements; Throngs Attend Dances.

Merry crowds from Portland attended the opening of Columbia beach for the 1920 season last night. The big amusement park on the Columbia river is wearing an entirely new dress. On the beach the illuminated Ferris wheel, the merry-go-round and the boardwalk and its scores of amusement features, are ready for the throngs. The mature railway, overhauled and redecorated, again will provide fun aplenty for the children. Last night the dance floor of the pavilion, which is the largest in the northwest, was thronged with pleasure-seekers. There are new amusement concessions galore, many of them direct from big fun factories of the east where they made big hits. The sea-speedboat has been practically completed and will be tried out in the near future.

More than $25,000 has been spent in permanent improvements at the park during the winter months, the dance-hall has been renovated and redecorated. In the "American Zoo" the animal houses have been completed

DRINKING FOUNTAIN GIVEN

FORMAL PRESENTATION MADE TO COLLEGE.

Jewish Council of Women Donates Memorial to Late Mrs. Rose Jacobs-Selling.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 11.—(Special.)—The gift—a drinking fountain—of the Portland Jewish Council of Women, as memorial to Rose Jacobs Selling, a graduate of the college in 1872, was a commencement feature at the college. Mrs. Selling died about a year ago.

The fountain was presented by "Bob" Johnson of Corvallis, on behalf of the Portland council. J. K. Weatherford, president of the board of regents, in accepting the gift for the college, told how Mrs. Selling, then Rose Jacobs, and he were classmates for four years, and receiving their degrees together in 1872. Mr. Weatherford told how the father of Mrs. Selling had been one of the earliest and most earnest supporters of Oregon Agricultural College.

The fountain is of stone and bronze with the giver's name. It is in front of the administration building. Mrs. Charles Kohn, sister of Mrs. Selling, and Miss Caroline Harris, representing the Jewish Council of Women, were present from Portland for the dedicatory ceremonies.

The Best Way of Practicing Dentistry

THERE is only one way to practice good dentistry at a moderate price to patients, and that is on a large scale and according to a system. Dentistry has too many branches and too many details for one man to do it well alone in a small office.

There is extracting, filling, treating, artificial plate-making, crown and bridge work, examinations, receiving patients, bookkeeping, collecting, record-keeping, buying supplies, paying bills, and many other business details to be looked after.

Under the E. R. Parker System a number of Registered Dentists, mechanical dentists, graduate nurses, stenographers, bookkeepers and attendants work together in much the same way as banks and other successful business enterprises are conducted.

Each has some particular kind of work to do, and thus becomes expert at it, doing it better and in less time. Advertisements are put in the papers telling what good dental work is done by this modern system, and many patients come in and have their teeth cared for.

In this way better dentistry is given for less money, because where the practice is large, the price can be made smaller. This way of practicing dentistry is the modern way and the best way.

You are invited to call and see what an improvement has been made in dental work under the E. R. Parker System. When you call, your teeth can be examined and reliable advice given without charge.
