Students of City's Eight High Schools Complete Their Courses and Are Graduated With Felicitous Attentions—Many Annual Prize Awards Announced.

Commencement Conducted in Charming Setting.

Felicitous Exercises at Washington Staged in Beautiful Auditorium—Mr. Herdman Receives Chair.

BY ANNA L. McPHERSON.
THE 25th commencement was held at Washington high school in the auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday evening. The stage was beautifully decorated. Wall baskets filled with daisies, bachelor buttons and oriental poppies formed an effective background. Ivy was gracefully hung along the arch of the stage. Latin and ferns were banked in on the sides and sword ferns were used to cover up the footlights across the front of the stage. The decorations were very artistic and formed a beautiful setting for the exercises. The program was as follows: Processional, "Barcarole" (Offenbach); "America" (Hauptmann); Washington high school girls' chorus; address to the class, Dr. E. H. Pence; "The Wind in the South Today" (Prinold); "The Morning Sun" (Grove); "The Dawn" (Weaver); (Victor Herbert); Washington high school orchestra; presentation of diplomas by Mr. Herdman; "When Dawning Springtime" (Di Capua); girls' chorus; "Morning" (Scriabin); "Lullaby" (Debussy); orchestra; class song, by members of the class; "Auld Lang Syne"; by the class; recessional. After the exercises the members of the gymnasium. One hundred and twenty-eight students were graduated.

Possibility of Men Living to Be 1900 Years Old Discussed by Scientists.

Dr. Eugene L. Fisk's Startling Statement Leads Other Medical Men to Comment, Although Much More Conservatively.
FEW persons are fortunate enough to be the recipients of a gigantic birthday cake from which protrude 100 candles, in signification of the fact that they have reached the century milestone of life. But imagine the size of a birthday cake which would encompass 1900 such candles. The making of such a cake would not be difficult, you might suppose, but it is not within the realm of possibility that there will ever be an occasion for such a token. However, a well-known physician of New York city, Dr. Eugene D. Fisk, is certain in his belief that time will yet come when men will live to the ripe old age of 1900 years.
