across. Sometimes the checks are made up blus fashion, which is always the most becoming way when a wom an is short, or rather broad for he height. Not a few ginghams show checks running both ways, perhaps on the bias in bodice and ruffles, and on the straight in skirt and sleeve Or ngain the skirt may be blas, with pockets cut on the straight, and the bodice on the straight with bias trim-mings. This alternate arrangement sives great variety and often decided style to a simple frock. It takes a little more material to cut a whole frock on the blas for there are man; small sections that cannot be used for anything but facings, but a gingham frock is not a very costly cos-tume in any event, for most of the ginghams are much lower in price than they were last year.

Style Added by Accessories.

The very smartest sort of gingham frock is rather plain and very well tailored—and made of a pattern that is not too exaggerated. And the touch of distinction that "makes" such a frock is the neckwear. A woman of wery good taste whose clothes are always so smart that they are forever being copied by other women, has just had made a little morning frock of lavender and white checked ging-ham—in a rather small check. This check is made up on the blas. The check is made up on the blas. The skirt has three tucks and the waist has surplice fronts and elbow sleeves finished with two-inch facings of the binanced with two-men larings of the gingham. A sash with a small, crisp bow at the back finished the waist-line. The gingham cost 50 cents a yard and six yards were used-$3 for the material. But to wear with this frock the woman purchased a $12 set of collar and cuffs. The acces-pories are of sheer handkerchief linen exquisitely hand-embroidered in eyeexquisitely hand-embrondered in eye-let and scallop pattern, and the ex-clusiveness of that collar and cuff set will set apart that simple little fliag gingham frock and make it one of the most distinctive morning costumes at any place where it appears this summer

Organdy Combines With Gingham, If you want a gingham frock that is obviously and unnistakably of this year 1920 select one with organdy trimmings. Some of the new ging-ham costumes are almost half or-gandy. It is the very latest notion. Organdy is used, not handkerchief linen, though the latter material is so very fashionable this year. Linen is among the aristocrats this sum-mer. If it is used, it is used all by itself-and nothing is smarter. But

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), ap- ply it at night when retiring: use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and dig-	ting trusses, guaranteeing satis- faction in every instance. The Seeley Spermatic Shield Truss is the best, usually closing the open- ing in ten days.
