his ratification plank.

On the labor problem and profiteering only the beginning of a disagreement was in evidence. On the profiteering issue, however, both William Jennings Bryan and Attorney-General Palmor will have ideas of their own which may bring out a stiff alignment more or less along administration and activation less than the control of t tion and anti-administration lines.

Mr. Bryan, as usual, seemed likely tonight to be the stormy petrel of the platform fight. He took charge to-day of the prohibition forces, lined up support for his league of nations right and made himself quite generally the chief subject of speculation among the friends of President Wilson and the Virginia platform in-

Three Courses Open

On prohibition three courses are pen. Mr. Bryan and his supporters vant an affirmative declaration for the enforcement and preservation un changed of the existing half of one per cent Volstead act. A group in which the New York and New Jersey delegations for the present are taking the lead are in favor of a liberaliza-tion of the law, for which they say a way has been opened by the su-preme court's opinions. Still a third Heartened by the action of the Pennsylvania caucus in refusing to in-struct its representative on the resstruct its representative on the res-olutions committee to urge a modi-fication in the Volstead act, the drys committee by Maryland delegates, and he declared that he would work to gain adoption of a platform plank to include a plank commending the law. At the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the platform is brought in. At the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the platform is brought in. At the declaration of high moment was applied a run ringing that no casuist would place two interpretations upon any deliverance, and I believe the convention will give us such a platform and name candidates whose records will be guarantees of portion itself.

Nobody professes to know what candidate Mr. Bryan favors. No one think the platform should say anything on the wet and dry issue. Believe the convention will give us such a platform and name candidates whose records will be guarantees of portion itself.

The exact position to be taken by the platform is train forces may favor.

But at every turn of the road, as a seeker after information searches the platform is prought in. At the doll not recover and ringing that no casuist would place two interpretations upon any deliverance, and I believe the convention will give us such a platform and name candidates whose records will be guarantees of the country are definitely pledged.

The would like to see a short platform, so clear and ringing that no casuist would place two interpretations of the platform was applied and the platf ervationists, apparently were at sixes and sevens on a programme. Senator Reed, an irreconcilable from the start, said he did not know whether he would present his views to the committee or if finally seated as a dele-gate, whether he would ask for a vote on flat rejection of the treaty in the

The group urg-ing that course argued that the re-publican platform at least had presented an issue by condemning the president and upholding the senate and that the wise course would be for the democrats to take that issue into their own hands. The declaration outcomplish such a purpose. Some of the senators who left President Wilson last March to vote for ratification with the republican res-

Irish republican government, is on his way here to lead the fight for a plank for recognition of the republic, and in a telegram to his San Francisco friends he declared that nothing less would be satisfactory to him.

The text of his proposed plank follows:

"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our nation, we reassert the principle that all governments de-rive their just powers from the con-sent of the governed;

"We advocate the continuance of our long-established and lawful practice of according recognition without intervention and in all cases where the people of a nation, as in Ireland, have by free vote of the people set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obe-dience we will support the recognit. dience, we will support the recogni-tion of that government.

Divorce Is Arranged.

It is that the divorce was an arranged affair and that Cox was utterly innocent of any wrong-doing. But it will be obvious that a defense based on the ground that the man was right and the woman wrong, though the man consented to the award of the decree to the woman, cannot well be made. But whether made or not, it is evident that the fact that there was a divorce and that it is already under discussion here has greatly disconcerted the Cox management. The Glass proposal is for ratification without nullifying reservations and that suits Wilson, but it does not suit Bryan nor sundry others like Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator Jim Reed.

Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator
Jim Reed.

At this writing Reed is trying to break into the convention as a delegate from Missouri, with dubious prospects of success. His Missouri credentials may be all right, but his White House credentials are not, and that probably settles it. In a broad way, the only fight on here except for the presidential nomination, is between Wilson and Bryan. It takes a majority, not two-thirds, to control the organization and there can be little doubt that Wilson will win over Bryan. Yet there is no way to stop
