

PALMER RIDES GIVE WINE AWAY FREELY

Attorney-General's Habitat Is Improvised Barroom.

BRYAN IN PREDICAMENT

Under Unit Rule, Dry Exponent Faces Necessity for Voting for Wet Candidate.

BY CHARLES C. HART.
Washington, D. C., Correspondent for The Oregonian.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—(Special.)—Because he is bound and gagged under the unit rule so far as his vote is concerned, and although Jennings Bryan must vote for a wet candidate, he is one man who rises above the other 1995 delegates. For he is not always right, but he is eternally honest and not afraid to speak his convictions.

No Charles F. Murphy, no Tom Taggart, no "Bathhouse John" or Dennis Egan is telling Mr. Bryan where to head in. He will be heard in this convention and one of the tools of the biggest bosses was heard to say this morning:

"The programme of this convention should allow one day and a half for the quelling of old Bryan's rant, after that we can get down to business and nominate our candidate, not Bryan's."

Root of Bolshevism Detected.

Observe the preliminaries of this convention for a half day and then one can detect the root of bolshevism. It is just such performance as is going on here that breeds the germs of the Lenin-Trotsky epidemic. Bolshevism, of course, is not the cure, but men in their anger and desperation are wont to turn to impractical remedies.

Bolshevism is fully accounted for on the basis of what is happening here. The bolshevist may aptly be compared to the fellow driving a nail, who, having slugged his finger, instead of the nail, buries the hammer through a costly plate-glass window to punish the inanimate object which innocently caused his pain. But the thing that is going on here is neither inanimate nor innocent. It is brazen and merciless.

Even the candidates have distinguished that it is the bosses and not the delegates with whom they must deal, and thus they are making their appeal. Candidates who have heretofore been dry to the outside world are making it clear to the bosses that they are wet.

Some Are Respectable.

It is said here quite frequently that you can identify an upstanding supporter by his nose and a Cox man by his breath. That is not altogether true because there are many very respectable men here supporting Governor Cox. These, however, are mostly men who believe in the prohibition of every citizen to carry a little flask on his hip or that the alcoholic content legalized by the act should be extended somewhat.

The Cox followers are foaming to-day like old-fashioned German lager cooled to 38 degrees Fahrenheit. But there is a hot foam. The reason is that their attention has been called to a statement issued by William Jennings Bryan in which he says that the Cox candidacy is an insult to the 15,000,000 who will have the ballot in the November elections.

Mr. Bryan Accused.

Mr. Bryan is accused of referring in this way to the Cox divorce troubles. The McAdoo boom rises and falls today according to the edition of the San Francisco papers you happen to purchase. The edition says McAdoo leads and then only develops for him in its news columns a strength of 18 votes, while another edition carries the flaming headline, "Combine Made to Defeat McAdoo." I am making no predictions because one never can tell who will finally obtain the favor of the three or four men who dominate this convention, but I do not believe McAdoo will be nominated. Postmaster-General Burleson's declaration for McAdoo will not help him.

A newspaper friend in whose judgment I have always placed much confidence told me today that the nominee will be either John W. Davis of West Virginia, the ambassador to the court of St. James, or Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national committee. Davis does look like a safe compromise and Cummings like a good possibility because there is no doubt that practically all of the Palmer votes could be delivered to him. All of the bosses like Cummings because he has abided in their favor on virtually all the big questions of organization in this convention. It is therefore counted that if Taggart and Murphy should suddenly decide to consolidate their delegates with the Palmer delegates in support of Cummings the verdict of the convention would be near.

Bosses Try Camouflage.

The light that has been turned on the bosses of this convention has seemed to make it necessary on the part of these political despots to effect some camouflage to their coarse work. For instance, it was announced this afternoon that Boss Taggart had decided to call the Indiana delegation together and have the unit rule discarded and permit the delegates to vote their own sentiments. This move of course is transparent because Taggart knows that the delegates which he selected would not in a single case vote contrary to his wishes. Furthermore, the situation is such that the bosses see the mistake of throwing all their blocks of votes into one grand pool. In an early ballot it will be necessary to feed the votes in a few at a time, increasing the number for the bosses' choice on each succeeding ballot in such a way that it will look as though the nomination has come about by a form of popular evolution.

The women delegates from Washington state were entertained this afternoon at the Palace hotel by Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago, the chief of the woman's section of the William O. McAdoo campaign. The guests were Mrs. Emma A. Houseman, Seattle; Mrs. J. M. Simpson, Spokane, and Miss Edna Crangle, Seattle.

Boy Praised by Police.

Geoff Muir, 18-year-old employee of Wiley B. Allen company, received commendation from Police Sergeant

OLCOTT LAUDS PORTLAND

COMPARES SHRINE CONVENTION WITH EXPOSITION.
Executive Declares Advertising Value to State Beyond Computation.

MRS. W. W. SMITH PASSES

NATIVE OF POLK COUNTY DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Funeral Services Are Conducted at Sheridan and Burial Made in Bethel Cemetery.

SHERIDAN, Or., June 26.—(Special.)—In the recent death of Mrs. W. W. Smith here, there passed a native of Polk county and a member of one of the oldest pioneer families of Oregon.

Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Josephine F. Murphy, she is born and reared in Polk county, and was the wife of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Branson, and was born in Polk county January 12, 1857. Here she was reared and at the age of 19 years was married to W. W. Smith. They resided in the county until 1904, when they moved to eastern Washington.

Mrs. Smith was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. White, in Sheridan, when her death occurred on June 17. Funeral services were held last Sunday from the Christian church, of which she was a member, with Rev. A. J. Hunsaker conducting the services. Burial was in the pioneer cemetery at Bethel beside her three sons.

Besides her widower she is survived by four sons—Carl E. and J. W. of Walla Walla, Wash., and Ben E. and Cecil W. of Bickleton, Wash., and two daughters, Mrs. H. L. White of Sheridan, and Miss Nina Smith of Bickleton, Wash., and six sisters, Mrs. Sarah Barges and Mrs. R. J. Harris of Yamhill county, Mrs. Holt Stockton of Polk county, Mrs. S. E. Dille and Mrs. Laura Helger of Sheridan, and Mrs. Ross Rowell of Touchet, Wash., and one brother, Ephraim Branson, of Salem, and four grandchildren. They were all present at the funeral.

Pioneer Children to Meet.

The annual reunion and election of officers and directors of the Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers will be held at Library hall Wednesday at 8 P. M. Members, pioneers and the public are invited. A musical and literary programme will be given by the descendants of the first families of Oregon as follows:

Mrs. Leslie Scott (soprano)..... Selection Address..... Colonel Robert A. Miller Aria, "Madame Butterfly"..... Miss Mary Neely Violin selection..... William Wallace Graham Group of songs..... Miss Evelyn Calbreath Pianist..... Miss Helen Calbreath

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Reading The Oregonian Classified Ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

OLCOTT LAUDS PORTLAND

COMPARES SHRINE CONVENTION WITH EXPOSITION.

Executive Declares Advertising Value to State Beyond Computation.

SALEM, Or., June 26.—(Special.)—"The convention of the Mystic Shrine and the ceremonial of the Rose Festival was a most wonderful success and will give Portland and Oregon unparalleled advertising," said Governor Olcott, in a statement issued here tonight. "The attention directed to this state hereby will rival and equal even that of the Lewis and Clarke expedition. Everybody seemed to have the time of their lives, and so expressed themselves. I have never known such an unanimity of sentiment."

The bringing of the Shrine to Portland and the housing and taking care of the 100,000 visitors was a herculean task and one that might well tax a much larger city than Portland. To many it seemed almost impossible of accomplishment. However, the Shrine has come and gone and the task is done—and done wonderfully well. Its accomplishment was only made possible by the active co-operation and sympathetic interest of all of our citizens.

"All Shrine men say it was the biggest event in their history of annual conclaves. They say this, not in answer to inquiring volunteers, but enthusiastically advance it themselves. Portland has set a standard for the future. The Shrine is a practical every community of the country was represented, and in consequence, Portland and Oregon hospitality, scenic and climatic wonders and natural advantages will be soundly advertised throughout the continent."

The visit of the Canadian royal northwest mounted police, Mayor R. H. Dale, of Vancouver, B. C., and the Kluge band of that city, all of whom participated in the festivities, was a marked feature of the Shrine and Rose Festival.

The presence of this famous organization of mounties marked an epoch in the history of the western hemisphere, inasmuch as it was the first time they have ever been permitted to cross the international boundary into the United States, thus extending and further cementing the bonds of friendship and amity that have existed uninterruptedly in 100 years of peace."

NEEDLE FELS WOMAN

HYPODERMIC DECLARED USED BY ALLEGED SHOPLIFTER.

Unknown Drug Temporarily Paralyzes Nerves of Detective of Seattle Store.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 26.—(Special.)—In a struggle with a shoplifter this afternoon in Rhodes brothers' department store, Mrs. Florence Unland, a store detective, was doped and made unconscious when the thief injected a hypodermic needle in her back. The unknown drug temporarily paralyzed the nerve centers. The woman who made the alleged attack escaped.

Nothing of value is missing from the store, according to store officials. Mrs. Unland was removed to her home, 117 Elmwood street, where it was said that she would suffer no ill effects from the experience.

According to Mrs. Unland's story, as reported to the police, Mrs. Unland trailed a woman through the store until she saw her pick up a valuable fur coat and start off with it. Mrs. Unland arrested the woman, she said, but the latter whipped out a hypodermic needle and plunged it twice into Mrs. Unland's back, paralyzing her so that she dropped to the floor unconscious.

Mrs. M. A. Colman of Lincoln, Neb., who is visiting with friends in Seattle, told the police that she saw the attack. She was one of the first to reach Mrs. Unland's side.

VISITING POLICE PLEASED

Royal Northwest Boys Taken Over Columbia River Highway.

"We're simply delighted," declared the members of the Royal Northwest Mounted police and of the Vancouver (B. C.) police band after they had been taken over the Columbia river highway by the Portland police yesterday.

Police machines and cars of members of the department were used for the trip, Chief of Police Jenkins and the "boys" taking this means to show the visitors their appreciation for their participation in the Rose Festival. They were taken as far as Eagle creek and return. Luncheon was enjoyed at one of the roadhouses on the way back.

The visitors were guests at a hall given in their honor at the Portland hotel last night.

TRAVEL IN WAGON HOME

Vehicle Conveniently Arranged for Return to Utah.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 26.—Henry Lock and wife, accompanied by their son, Jack, and Otto Waggoner, who have been spending the winter and spring in Portland, were in Oregon City today on their way to Ogden, Utah, where the Lock family will visit the old home of Mrs. Lock. They are making the trip in their little house, constructed on wheels and drawn by two horses.

The house is well arranged for traveling purposes. It consists of folding beds that close into the wall when traveling, folding table and chairs and windows at the sides, while the front and rear door give plenty of ventilation. An awning has been placed over the rear door and the little porch will allow plenty of room.

Hood River's Fire Loss $17,129.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 26.—(Special.) The report of the state fire marshal, covering the year ending March 31, 1920, gives Hood River county's total fire loss for the year as $17,129. Thirty-seven outbreaks of fire were reported in property on which an aggregate insurance of $716,501 was carried. Overheated and defective chimneys caused seven of the fires. Rubbish and sparks caused 16.

Luncheons to Be Resumed.

Trails club luncheons will be resumed Wednesday noon of this week. Registration of members and guests for the Squaw mountain trip over July 4 should be made before July 1. The Squaw mountain trip begins at Etanaka and ends at Tawney's and is a summit-ridge journey all the way.

Police machines and cars of members of the department were used for the trip, Chief of Police Jenkins and the "boys" taking this means to show the visitors their appreciation for their participation in the Rose Festival. They were taken as far as Eagle creek and return. Luncheon was enjoyed at one of the roadhouses on the way back.

The visitors were guests at a hall given in their honor at the Portland hotel last night.

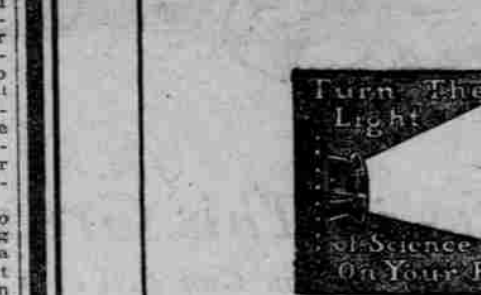

TRAVEL IN WAGON HOME

Vehicle Conveniently Arranged for Return to Utah.

Woodard, Clarke & Co.

Woodlark Building Alder at West Park

Learn the Joys of Foot Comfort

You need not experience tired, sore and tender feet when some one of our standard Foot Appliances—either Dr. Scholl's or the Wizard devices—is used and fitted for the comfort of corns, callouses, bunions, enlarged joints and broken-down arches.

We examine and diagnose foot trouble free in our Truss and Elastic Hosiery Department—SECOND FLOOR.

Ex-Service Man You Will Need Life Insurance

Reinstate Your War Risk Insurance before your chance expires and get net rates and That Total Disability Clause.

S. & H. Green Trading Stamps

the trip, Chief of Police Jenkins and the "boys" taking this means to show the visitors their appreciation for their participation in the Rose Festival. They were taken as far as Eagle creek and return. Luncheon was enjoyed at one of the roadhouses on the way back.

The visitors were guests at a hall given in their honor at the Portland hotel last night.

TRAVEL IN WAGON HOME

Vehicle Conveniently Arranged for Return to Utah.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 26.—Henry Lock and wife, accompanied by their son, Jack, and Otto Waggoner, who have been spending the winter and spring in Portland, were in Oregon City today on their way to Ogden, Utah, where the Lock family will visit the old home of Mrs. Lock. They are making the trip in their little house, constructed on wheels and drawn by two horses.

The house is well arranged for traveling purposes. It consists of folding beds that close into the wall when traveling, folding table and chairs and windows at the sides, while the front and rear door give plenty of ventilation. An awning has been placed over the rear door and the little porch will allow plenty of room.

Hood River's Fire Loss $17,129.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 26.—(Special.) The report of the state fire marshal, covering the year ending March 31, 1920, gives Hood River county's total fire loss for the year as $17,129. Thirty-seven outbreaks of fire were reported in property on which an aggregate insurance of $716,501 was carried. Overheated and defective chimneys caused seven of the fires. Rubbish and sparks caused 16.

Luncheons to Be Resumed.

Trails club luncheons will be resumed Wednesday noon of this week. Registration of members and guests for the Squaw mountain trip over July 4 should be made before July 1. The Squaw mountain trip begins at Etanaka and ends at Tawney's and is a summit-ridge journey all the way.

Police machines and cars of members of the department were used for the trip, Chief of Police Jenkins and the "boys" taking this means to show the visitors their appreciation for their participation in the Rose Festival. They were taken as far as Eagle creek and return. Luncheon was enjoyed at one of the roadhouses on the way back.

The visitors were guests at a hall given in their honor at the Portland hotel last night.

TRAVEL IN WAGON HOME

Vehicle Conveniently Arranged for Return to Utah.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 26.—Henry Lock and wife, accompanied by their son, Jack, and Otto Waggoner, who have been spending the winter and spring in Portland, were in Oregon City today on their way to Ogden, Utah, where the Lock family will visit the old home of Mrs. Lock. They are making the trip in their little house, constructed on wheels and drawn by two horses.

The house is well arranged for traveling purposes. It consists of folding beds that close into the wall when traveling, folding table and chairs and windows at the sides, while the front and rear door give plenty of ventilation. An awning has been placed over the rear door and the little porch will allow plenty of room.

Hood River's Fire Loss $17,129.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 26.—(Special.) The report of the state fire marshal, covering the year ending March 31, 1920, gives Hood River county's total fire loss for the year as $17,129. Thirty-seven outbreaks of fire were reported in property on which an aggregate insurance of $716,501 was carried. Overheated and defective chimneys caused seven of the fires. Rubbish and sparks caused 16.

Luncheons to Be Resumed.

Trails