Aged Methodist Pastor Says Farewell.

Rev. T. L. Jones Leaves Brownsville and Comes to Portland to Reside With His Children.

D ROWNSVILLE, Or., July 3 .- (Speial.)-Rev. T. L. Jones, the blind Methodist preacher, now nearly 80 years of age, in the ministry 50 years, has been living with his wife in retirement at Brownsville, but owing to falling health preached a farewell sermon and is now in Portland, where he went to reside with his children, a daughter and three

Since entering the ministry a Grants Pass in 1871, Rev. T. L. Jones has attended the Oregon conference each year without missing a rollcal each year without missing a rollcall. No other Oregon Methodist has such a record for continued attendance and long service. Fifty-two years ago Mr. Jones was married to Miss Baird, daughter of a pioneer who was killed by an immense grizxly bear on the present site of Grants Pass, Or. Mrs. Jones is still living, and what is more remarkable, there has been no death in the immediate family of husband, wife and four children.

Since his retirement from the ministry he has resided at Brownsville in

He is the author of a book entitled From the Gold Mine to the Pulpit." in which the veteran recounts his adventures from the time when in 1853. In company with his parents, he came claim near the present site of Eugene in a district then infested with Indians. His career in the mines of Idaho and southern Oregon merges into his conversion and entry into the ministry in 1871.

The blind paste.

The blind pastor of other days was honored by a great union meet-ing of the Brownsville churches, in which he preached a farewell sermon in his old pulpit at the local Metho-dist church. The congregation packed the building. After preaching he was sed to his old pastor's chair and as the people filed by, he bade each one good-by individually. The choir sang his favorite hymns, "Like a Tender Shepherd Lead Us" and "Happy Day."
