

CHANGE OF CEDARS CONTROL IS DENIED

Roberg's Request to Remove Mann Not Granted.

MAYOR TAKES ACTION

Health Officer's Letter Advising Change at Same Time Lauds Handling of Institution.

Although City Commissioner Mann in charge of The Cedars is also in charge of the city health bureau...

Mayor Baker has refused the request, stating in a letter to Dr. Roberg that no city board of health now exists...

When informed of the situation Commissioner Mann expressed his satisfaction that the state health officer had recognized the efficiency of the management of the Cedars.

Need of Change Not Seen.

"If the place is being operated properly, why change?" asked Commissioner Mann. "As a matter of fact, as long as the state is furnishing medical directors at the Cedars there was nothing for the city health officer to do, but as soon as I was informed that the state medical director had been withdrawn I instructed City Health Officer Parrish to take charge of the medical end of the institution."

"I have a notion, whose work is most efficient, in charge of the Cedars. The Cedars and its management have received the plaudits of government men interested in the eradication of social diseases...

Letter Refers to Meeting.

"At a meeting of the state board of health held June 21, 1920, the question arose as to how the Cedars Detention hospital was being managed."

"It was ascertained that this hospital was not under the city board of health authorities. The secretary of the state board of health was directed to address a letter to you, calling attention to the fact that the Cedars is in every way a public health activity."

Could you inform the board as to just why the Cedars is not under the control of the city board of health?

"It was the attitude of the state board that the Cedars should function in the same manner as other normal health activities, namely, under the city board of health."

Layman as Manager Suggested.

"Matters of quarantine, detention and treatment are essentially phases to be considered in connection with the Cedars. These phases normally come under the direction of the local health officers."

Portland Realtors Pleased

Local Men Honored at Annual Interstate Convention.

Ira E. High, president of the Boise (Idaho) Realty board, who was elected association for the coming year at Spokane, where the annual convention of the association came to an end last night, is a member of the realty firm of High & Fritchman of Boise, and is one of the active leaders of the profession in his vicinity.

Portland, which sent a delegation of nearly 100 realtors to the convention, won recognition in the election of Coe A. McKenna, a well-known local realtor, as vice-president, and in the re-election for the fourth consecutive time of Paul A. Cowgill of this city as secretary of the association.

Other vice-presidents chosen were C. T. Cross of Victoria, G. M. Elliott of Tacoma, L. D. Blodgett of Three Forks, Mont., A. J. Marbury of Caldwell, Idaho, and H. H. Farman of Calgary.

Further distinction was won for the local delegation when W. H. Ross, a Portland real-estate dealer and a member of the party, won the five-minute speaking contest, in which a representative from each city was called upon to tell of the beauties and advantages of his home town.

Roscoe was sent to the national convention at Kansas City in June and ranked fourth among the speakers from all parts of the country.
