

EXPLOSION'S DEAD ARE SENT TO HOMES

Military Escort Accompanies Three Bodies to Graves.

GOVERNOR HONORS DEAD

Trophies for Best Shooting and Excellence in Manual Arc Awarded by Executive.

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—Bodies of the three Oregon soldiers killed yesterday at artillery practice were sent to their homes today. The bodies of Corporal Edward Scott and Corporal Clyde Dinsinger were sent to Marshfield with an escort of eight men of their company and the body of Private Ralph Fraley was sent to Ashland with a detail of six men in charge. Captain William M. Briggs of Ashland and Captain Ben Fisher of Marshfield accompanied the escorts. The remainder of the artillery troops will not return until Monday afternoon, when their instruction period ends.

Enlisted men and commissioned officers of both the regular establishment and the national guard continued to give their testimony before the board of inquiry which is attempting to determine, if possible, the cause of the explosion.

Testimony Non-Technical. While all of the testimony was non-technical, the evidence today still further strengthened the fact that the explosion was in no way due to negligence.

Regular army men who appeared today stated that the guardmen followed instructions implicitly; were well trained in every respect and no mistake of theirs could be placed as the cause of the accident.

Tomorrow's report from the western department at San Francisco will begin arriving in response to a telegram sent from Camp Lewis headquarters yesterday immediately after the accident.

From those men, if any, officers said, would be learned the possible technical explanation of the accident.

It was predicted tonight that the board would continue its session until at least Monday night before all sides will have been heard.

Bodies Escorted to Trains. A formal train, headed by the fifth infantry band, Governor Olcott of Oregon, Colonel George A. White, Colonel W. C. Davis, artillery commander, Colonel Creed C. Hammond, Colonel Dentler, Major Dusenberry and other officers of the national guard and army marched behind the bodies in the procession. Governor Olcott expressed his deep sorrow to the companies whose comrades were killed.

All the Oregon men injured are now up and about. Sergeant Peter Mirason, who pulled the lanyard at the time of the fatal shot was fired and was knocked unconscious by the gun explosion yesterday, marched in the escort.

Governor Olcott visited the injured in the hospital here last night and today visited all the companies, expressing his sympathy to the comrades of the dead and injured men. The governor and Mrs. Olcott will return to Oregon tomorrow.

Troops Pass in Review. The troops were reviewed this morning by Governor Olcott with his staff and Colonel Poore, commanding officer of this camp. Before the review presentation of a silver cup was made to company D, 5th infantry, was made by Governor Olcott. This cup was offered by Majors J. E. and Frank H. Drake to the company of the 5th infantry making the greatest improvement during the camp of instruction. The governor also presented medals to Sergeant Cecil Fuller of Portland as the soldier best drilled in the manual of arms and to Corporal Ben L. Kingery, Medford, for the best score made on the target range, not including those who won places on the national team.

Guard Pleases Governor. Governor Olcott expressed himself as highly pleased with the showing made by the Oregon guardsmen and said that he would return to Oregon with renewed enthusiasm and pledged himself to increased efforts toward building up the Oregon national guard. The governor will return home tomorrow after spending three days in the post inspecting all the units and going into every detail of the work being done by the Oregon troops.

The splendid showing made by the Oregon soldiers at this camp is in a large measure due to the splendid type of instruction given by the officers in charge of the organization, Colonel Dentler, the senior inspector-instructor in the 5th infantry, and army circles as one of the ablest officers in the United States army, while Major Dusenberry and other officers of the artillery, has had a wide experience in this branch, commanding the 58th artillery regiment which saw service on several different fronts in France.

Colonel White Active Charge. Colonel White, adjutant general, who is in active command in camp this year, has had a remarkable military record. Commencing his military career with the Spanish-American war, he has worked continuously since to improve the status of the citizen soldier. As adjutant general he put Oregon first in military affairs. He commanded a troop of cavalry on the Mexican border and in the late war was on General Pershing's staff in France, receiving honors from both the French and American governments.

Colonel Hammond, in command of the 5th infantry, is also a veteran of the Spanish-American and world wars and has probably 25 years experience in regular army and militia work. A large proportion of the other officers in both regiments and staff corps are seasoned veterans of wide experience.

One Brother at Encampment at Time of Explosion.

ASHLAND, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—Private Ralph Fraley, who was killed by the gun explosion at Camp Lewis Friday, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fraley, street commissioner of Ashland. He was nearly 23 years of age and was one of the first to enlist from Ashland. He went to France in the sixty-ninth, where he served six months. He leaves his father, mother and three brothers. The eldest brother, Charles Floyd Fraley, recently went to Roumania to engage in Y. M. C. A. work. Another brother, Earl J., was at the encampment with him.

MOSLEMS MAY BOYCOTT

HINDU HELP WANTED TO GET EASIER TREATY TERMS.

Britain is Object of Scheme Prepared to Force Issue in Far East.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Drastic action through a "non-co-operation movement" is planned in India among the Moslems with Hindu assistance to force the government to take action toward securing such modification of the Turkish peace treaty as will make it more acceptable to the Moslem world, according to advices received here today by the Indian information bureau.

On August 1, it is stated by M. K. Gandhi, a prominent leader in India of the Satyagraha (passive resistance) movement, the newly devised "non-co-operation" movement is to be put into effect by that time a favorable reply is not received from the Indian government. This movement, should the plans for it become effective, would be carried out in four progressively serious stages, thus:

- First—Giving up all titles and honors conferred by the crown;
Second—Resignation from all government offices and from the legislative branch;
Third—Resignation of officers and soldiers from all army duties;
Fourth—Refusal to pay taxes.
The Moslems do not hold that the treaty as it now stands will injuriously affect Moslem prestige all over the world. They also hold that the sultan, as their religious head, should have complete control of Constantinople.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

Irritability, oversensitiveness, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, dizziness—these are symptoms of nervous exhaustion, neurasthenia. Very often the patient feels best and brightest at night. Rest seems to bring no refreshment. The nervous system fails to recuperate. This distressing condition is caused by worry more often than by any other one thing. Overwork and worry invite the disorder.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia or bloodlessness is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail at 60 cents per box. Begin the treatment at once before your condition becomes chronic.

A useful book, "Diseases of the Nervous System," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.—Adv.

BABY HOMES SCORED BY HUMANE OFFICIAL

Refuge Only Place That Would Take Bruised Babies.

CHILDREN WILL RECOVER

Mrs. Swanton to Equip End of Dog Kennel to Accommodate Injured Kiddies if Necessary.

Three babies, all dirty, all hungry, all in actual pain from recently inflicted bruises and cuts, remained in the office of the Oregon Humane society in the courthouse from 11 A. M. until 5 P. M. last Thursday with only a dog as kind-hearted attendant. Bought at a corner candy store, without regard for their fitness for children of tender years, the babies had been bought at a makeshift pallet of coats and a blanket on two wooden office chairs—solely because Portland baby homes were full. The little sufferers unless application for their entrance came through official channels.

Public indignation over the case of the "farmed-out" babies taken from the home of Mrs. Rita A. Mathus by humane society officers is expected to cause a radical change of policy in local baby homes, so that future emergency cases will be taken care of promptly without the interference of red tape.

Most of Thursday afternoon was spent by Mrs. F. W. Swanton, general manager of the humane society, on the telephone endeavoring to locate a baby home which would take the youngsters, bathe them, dress their injuries and give them clean clothes until they were claimed by their mothers. She was unsuccessful, and when places were found for two baby sisters, for whom the mother had not called, it was through the efforts of Rev. W. G. MacLaren, who succeeded in placing them temporarily in the Louise home, a rescue refuge for fallen girls.

Tots Cared For. The Louise home had facilities to care for the tots, aged 1 and 3 years, as many of the girls at that institution had babies.

The Waverly baby home, the Albertina Kerr nursery and the Children's home in South Portland all flatly refused to open their doors to the waifs without authority from the president or secretary of the institution or the court of domestic relations. None of the officers could be found, and Mrs. Swanton did not wish the children placed there by order of the domestic relations court because of the knowledge that the mothers might claim them at any time and should not be prevented by red tape from doing so.

"We have never had a tag day of any kind," declared Mrs. Swanton yesterday, "but we have a kennel for injured animals, and I am going to try to raise enough money, if necessary, to have one end of the kennel equipped to care for hurt babies, if baby homes of this city do not alter their regulations so that they can take care of emergency cases."

Concerning her efforts to place the suffering babies last Thursday, Mrs. Swanton said yesterday: "Without any thought but that the babes would be welcomed and cared for at any of our baby homes, I did not even telephone at first, but took the youngsters direct to the Albertina Kerr nursery. The matron there was a trifle indignant that I should have presumed to bring the children there at all."

She said she simply could not take them in unless I had a permit from the court of domestic relations. And further, she said, there was a mump in the nursery, though she did not give that as the chief reason for refusal.

I told her that it was not a question of putting the mutilated, dirty and hungry little children there permanently, but only to let them be cared for, fed and given a place to sleep until their mothers could call for them. She was firm in her refusal. I asked her if she had anything babies could eat, as the youngsters plainly were hungry. She brought me some Graham crackers for the children, and we left.

Back to the humane society offices I came with the children. It was hot and stuffy there, and curious people thronged the rooms. I telephoned the Waverly baby home. The matron there told me, 'I cannot accept children unless you get a permit from the president or secretary of the home.' I tried to telephone Mrs. Allison, but whoever answered the telephone said she was out of the city. I then tried to get the secretary, but could get no answer to my calls.

Refuge Provides Home. "Then I tried the Children's home in South Portland. The matron there referred me to the president or secretary for a permit, but frankly commented, 'We are full to the doors, anyway, and couldn't take the children, even if you get the consent of the officers.'"

"It was then about 3 o'clock, and I telephoned Mr. MacLaren, and he agreed, and he promised to get me a place for the children within an hour and a half, and I left the matter in his hands. He made the arrangements with the Louise home."

Little Edna and Verna, Felton Romanski are still at the Louise home. The telephone has been kept busy by interested persons willing to take care of the children. The mother has been to see them, but has not yet made arrangements for their removal. The terribly swollen eyes of Edna are reported better, and neither child is expected to suffer serious after-effects.

"MONEY" MADE TOO EASILY

Ingenuous Machine Displayed After Arrest of Operators.

SPOKANE, July 17.—An ingenious "money-making" machine which apparently manufactured money with rapidity, ease and in unlimited quantities was on display here today following the arrest yesterday of two men who were bound over to the United States grand jury on charges of photographing United States obligations.

The pair, Charlie Filles and Tom Garvelos, police and federal authorities assert, operated the machine before credulous countrymen and were making fine progress in selling it, until they photographed real currency, which they pulled from the "business end" of the contrivance. Sight of the brand-new currency, the officers declared, always resulted in a riot over who should have the privilege of buying the machine. Incidentally the new money brought about the arrest of the "makers," who were held under $5000 bonds.

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—Captain Thomas S. Haynes, one of the best known citizens of Grays Harbor, mysteriously dropped out of sight at Olympia a week ago Thursday, and, despite energetic search in various cities, no trace of him has been found, and no clue as to his possible whereabouts or the cause of his disappearance has been uncovered.

That he has been made way with, or has met with serious accident, is the belief of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Haynes, and his brother, Harry, who has been directing the search.

Captain Haynes had business in Tacoma and Olympia Thursday, July 8. He took the 11 A. M. automobile stage for the Sound, buying a ticket for Olympia, intending to stop off there to transact his affairs and then go on to Tacoma. He expected when he left to be home the following evening, or not later than Saturday. The last heard of him was when he
