

POLICEMAN NO FAKE, HUSBAND DECLARES

James McNulty, Defendant in Divorce Suit, Answers.

WIFE'S STORY IS DENIED

Interrupted Tete-a-Tete in Hotel Room Described—No Sister Involved, He Says.

Counter charges of a sordid nature are made in the answers of James McNulty to the allegations in the divorce complaint of Mrs. Louise McNulty, filed in the circuit court Thursday. The new charges recorded yesterday are in the nature of an answer rather than a cross-complaint. McNulty asking only that the case brought by his wife be dismissed.

To the assertion of Mrs. McNulty that her husband forced her to marry him to evade unpleasant publicity as the result of a plot in which she was placed in an embarrassing light, McNulty says that the interruption of a tete-a-tete in a hotel room was not planned by him and that the policeman who appeared on the scene and advised marriage to avoid a scandal was not a party to any plot.

No sister involved, he says. Mrs. McNulty had maintained that McNulty persuaded her to go to the Chamberlain hotel ostensibly to see his sister, whom she knew, that he locked the door of the room to which he took her, and was engaged in a struggle with her when a supposed policeman arrived on the scene, knocked on the door and demanded entrance.

McNulty admits going to the hotel with the woman who is now his wife, but says it was not the first time they had been together and that no sister was involved.

"Plaintiff is an experienced woman, having been previously married and divorced," he asserts. He goes on to say that he made love to her at divers places, before marriage, the first time being at the home of her father in Linnton in January, 1919.

The McNultys were married at Vancouver, Wash., August 15, 1919.

Wife Likes "Jazz," Husband Says. That Mrs. Meta Buckman is fond of "jazz" and would prefer to give up her husband rather than semi-weekly dancing, is the charge of Oliver W. Buckman in a divorce action filed in the circuit court.

Mrs. Buckman goes to dances twice a week and does not want her husband to go along, saying he spoils her evenings, according to Buckman, who alleges further that there is a man whom she meets at most of the dances whom "she always knows where to find, even if he is in town."

On one occasion, Buckman charged, his wife tried to shoot him with a pistol. The Buckmans were married at Vancouver January 1, 1920.

Other divorce suits filed yesterday were: Clarence vs. Agnes J. McShane and Bertha vs. Vernon Hopkins.

SEVEN CANDIDATES FILE

Hoquiam City Attorney to Run for Superior Judge.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—With the opening of filings this morning at Montesano, seven candidates for county offices filed with the county auditor, filing closes August 14.

W. E. Campbell, city attorney of Hoquiam, will run for superior court judge.

F. L. Thurber, Hoquiam, asks election as county commissioner from the third district to succeed Leslie Hubble.

Frank Glenn, Satsop, will run for county commissioner in the first district to succeed J. B. Kirkaldie.

Robert E. Wiley, Aberdeen, will seek a second term as county assessor.

Elmer L. Gibson, Montesano, now deputy sheriff, will run for sheriff to succeed Jefferson Bartel.

O. M. Nelson, Montesano, is candidate for county attorney to succeed J. E. Stewart.

Oliver Dunning, Montesano, will run for county treasurer to succeed John E. Orton.

All candidates except W. E. Campbell will run on the republican ticket.

BODY MAY BE WAITRESS

Friend of Mrs. Edna Bond Thinks Body May Be Hers.

An investigation was started yesterday to determine if the body of a woman reported by Mrs. Beesie Carbone to have been seen in the woods near the Tualatin river bridge is that of Edna Bond, waitress, formerly employed at the Hotel Dalles at The Dalles, who disappeared a week ago.

George A. Miller, a friend of Mrs. Bond, took the matter up with the internal revenue office yesterday, with a view to making a thorough investigation of the report.

AGREEMENT LOOKED FOR

Mine Owners' and Operators' Troubles Near Settlement.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 17.—Prospects for an agreement early next week on an award satisfactory to both mine owners and mine operators were reported favorable today by members of the federal commission created to investigate wages and working conditions in Washington coal mines for the purpose of making an application in this state of the nation-wide coal strike settlement. The commission is required to report July 24.

Moose Clubrooms Fraised.

A. C. Filler, treasurer of Bellingham lodge 453, Loyal Order of Moose was a Portland visitor Saturday and called at the club rooms of the local organization. Mr. Filler said he had visited many Moose clubs throughout the United States and that the Portland club was one of the finest he had ever seen. "It merely exemplifies the progressive spirit of the city," he said.

Kelso Man Injured.

KELSO, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—C. C. Johnson of this city was seriously injured yesterday when he fell backward from a wagon in which he was riding. In falling his foot caught and he was dragged for some distance and injured by the wheel. Mr. Johnson was injured in a logging camp accident several years ago, from which he never fully recovered.

CAMP GIRLS' DOG GONE

PROTECTOR DISAPPEARS FROM COLLEGE CAMPUS.

Police Chief Orders Search for Missing Pet and Arrests May Be Result.

Up to a few days ago girls belonging to the Y. W. C. A. camp at Reed college felt secure from all danger.

Guarding the camp was a dangerous looking and efficient German police dog, known as Princess. Intruders attempting to gain admittance to the camp failed, for Princess allowed no visitors unless they were vouched for by the girls of the camp.

Then the dog disappeared. Whether it was stolen or just strayed away is not known, but the camp girls are anxious to obtain its return.

In the first place the dog served as the sole protector of the camp and in the second place it was loaned to the girls and unless it is returned, these girls, all of whom work for their living, must pay for it.

Princess is a dog of good size, of sable color and wolf-like appearance. Chief of Police Jenkins has assigned an inspector on the case with instructions to find the dog if possible, and if it can be established that it was stolen to cause the arrest of the guilty persons.

Any information concerning the dog can be given to Miss Edie White, secretary of the camp, who can be reached on the telephone by calling Sellwood 1229.

MASONS TO BUILD AGAIN

Seattle Plans $2,000,000 Home Because of Great Growth.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—After having virtually wiped out the indebtedness on the Masonic temple at Harvard avenue and Pine street, burning a $100,000 mortgage in token thereof at a banquet this evening, the Masonic fraternity of Seattle has squared away to acquire a new and much larger home than the one now occupied. The present temple cost $250,000 and is now worth $500,000. Yet so greatly has the order grown since occupying it less than four years ago that it now needs a $2,000,000 home.

The Masons have decided on it and, if all goes as they expect, Masonic Temple, incorporated, will have the new building in readiness to welcome the Knights Templar in their triennial convocation of 1925—that is, of course, providing Seattle can land the convolve, as it is in a fair way of doing.

NUDE BATHING PROTESTED

Catholic Priest Voices Dislike for Civic Practice.

The practice of permitting small boys to go swimming in the nude in various municipal bathing pools was protested yesterday at the office of C. T. Keyser, superintendent of parks, by Father Gregory Robie of Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The reverend father declared he was

GOLD FOUND IN OLD MINE

Large Vein of Quartz With Good Milling Value Developed.

DOWNIEVILLE, Cal., July 17.—(Special.)—One of the biggest strikes of gold quartz in Sierra county in several years has been made in the Comet mine in Jim Crow canyon. The strike was made in January, but has been kept a secret until now.

Development work in the Comet disclosed a vein of quartz and sulphuret from 35 to 65 feet in width, all carrying good milling values with occasional streaks of high-grade. The deposit has been followed 175 feet, but neither end has been found.

The strike is regarded as of the greatest importance and there is every indication of a big mine. The Comet is an old mine and has yielded considerable rich ore in former years.

GASOLINE THIEVES BUSY

Tank of County Rock Crusher at Dee, Or., Emptied.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—Thieves emptied the gasoline tank of the county rock crusher at Dee, delaying road work of the district. Officials are watching for gasoline bootleg operations and hope to apprehend the thieves.

The gasoline famine here remains unrelieved, but the Standard Oil company hopes to make allotments tomorrow in case of arrival of a car tonight.

Mills to Resume Operating.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—The mills of this section, which have been closed since July 1 on account of car shortage, probably will be in operation within a few days, although the car situation has not greatly improved. The Bohemia Lumber company's mill at Row river was to have resumed today and the J. H. Chambers and Western Lumber & Export company's mills here probably will resume Monday.

Pass Highway Not Yet Open.

BEND, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—The McKenzie pass highway will not be opened until the end of the week, more, it was learned today from the contractors at Windy Point. The only cars which have passed the big rock cut being made at that place have been hauled over by block and tackle by the road crew. Some motorists are using the Santiam pass road in crossing the mountains from central Oregon, but the heavy grade on the west side makes a return trip there almost impossible.
