

MAGNATE PRAISES NUMBER OF COAST

Edward Hines Makes Tour of Northwest Sections.

NO DEALS CONSUMMATED

Millionaire Lumberman Says Trip Taken Merely to Appraise Resources at Present

"Every time I look at your coast timber I think there is something wrong with my glasses. I would take 100 Wisconsin logs to equal some of the trees I have seen in this state," declared Edward Hines, millionaire lumberman of Chicago, who is in Portland on the last leg of a two-week inspection of coast timber which included Puget sound, Everett, Coos Bay and Portland districts.

Mr. Hines is head of the Edward Hines company of Chicago, one of the largest lumber companies of the world. He is accompanied on his western tour of inspection by Charles Hall, timber buyer for the company; M. L. Hudson, timber expert, and Judge W. S. Bennett, attorney for the company.

Mr. Hines stated that the company had not consummated any deals involving the purchase of an interest in the west, nor was there any immediate intention of doing so.

"We own no timber in the west at present, but we will be forced out to the west in the near future," said Mr. Hines. "We have followed the rearing timber line in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Mississippi, and when we come to the west it will be the end of the trail."

The Chicago lumber king would not admit that there was any significance in the fact that the Hines company in the west was simultaneous with that of the executives of the Long-Bell company of Kansas City.

Rate Rise Held Reasonable

In commenting on the proposed rise in freight rates and its probable effect on the lumber industry in the west, Mr. Hines was of the opinion that the proposed increase was equitable and would not seriously affect the movement of lumber east.

CANNING MAY DECREASE

Banks Refuse to Make Advances Other Than for Sales Made.

The refusal of the federal reserve banks to advance credit to canners and packers beyond an amount actually covered in each instance by sales made, will result in a short fruit pack this year and a consequent high price for canned goods.

STATE REPUBLICANS TO SPEED CAMPAIGN

Call Issued for Executive Committee to Meet.

WOMEN ON EQUAL PLANE

Personnel Announced by Mr. Tongue Shows No Discrimination in Conducting Party Councils.

With the appointment of the executive committee of women and men and the issuance of a call for the executive group to gather for organization this week, Thomas H. Tongue, Jr., republican state chairman, is preparing to speed up the campaign in Oregon. Headquarters will be opened in the Morgan building, probably, where Chairman Day of the Multnomah county committee, and the republican congressional committee also will be quartered.

Members of the committee have been called by Chairman Tongue to meet at the Imperial hotel, Portland, Friday, July 30 at 2 P. M. At that time the committee will select a secretary, treasurer and publicity manager and arrange for getting the state campaign on its feet and ready to go. The executive committee consists of 21 members, including the chairman, secretary and treasurer, and Ralph E. Williams, national committee member, and 10 are women, selected from various points throughout the state. This will be the first presidential campaign in which women have been invited to take such an active part and they will not be considered as an auxiliary to the main body, but will be on an equality with the men in the war councils of the party.

Personnel is announced. Chairman Tongue announced the personnel of the executive committee yesterday as follows: Mrs. F. O. Northrop, Mrs. E. E. Runyon, Mrs. Lee Davenport, Mrs. A. M. Bible, Mrs. Julius Louison, all of Portland; Mrs. Wilson D. McNary of Pendleton, Mrs. C. T. Bishop of Salem, Mrs. Frank L. Chambers of Eugene, Mrs. Louis Peruzzi of Ashland, Miss Anna Lang of The Dalles, and the following state committeemen: Clyde G. Huntley, Clackamas county; W. P. O'Brien, Clatsop county; George Neuner, Jr., Douglas county; Roy D. Smith, Hood River county; Dr. T. W. Harris, Lane county; S. E. Notson, Morrow county; Bruce Benson, Union county; Daniel Boy, Willamette county; W. L. Toose, Jr., Yamhill county; Joseph E. Dunne, Multnomah county; and S. S. Smith, Jackson county.

Of the male contingent it can be said that they are and have been the active republicans of their respective counties for years. Several of the members have been serving on the executive committee for the last four years and longer. Representation has been spread over the state, so that every section has been recognized, and in making the selections, Chairman Tongue was also governed by the availability of the members, and he appointed men and women who can and will attend meetings of the executive committee when called and who can devote a great deal of time to conducting the phases of the campaign for the next four months.

Women are prominent in republican work. Mrs. Northrop was a candidate for delegate to the republican national convention and attended that gathering as an alternate. Mrs. Davenport has been identified with civic movements and republican politics for a number of years, as has Mrs. Louison. Mrs. Bible and Miss Lang have been in club work and are known throughout the state. Mrs. McNary of Pendleton and Mrs. Bishop of Salem are members of families which have been in the forefront of republican work in Oregon for a generation. Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Peruzzi and Miss Lang are recognized as leading republican women in their respective districts.

Chief Menace From Fire

The investigation by Commissioner Barbur of the protests against E. L. Bolton for a nuisance at East Eighth and East Couch streets has revealed that the chief menace is from fire. The protestants charged that wood and rubbish were piled in the lot, but the chief of the bureau of buildings reported that wood had been piled there for the last five years, and that the chief difficulty was from small boys who congregated there and smoked. The matter will be referred to the fire marshal for report and recommendation.
