MAYFLOWER SAILS AGAIN

MILES STANDISH AND ALDEN ARE AMONG PASSENGERS.

Southampton, England, Folk Celebrate Departure 300 Years Ago of Fathers for America.

SOUTHAMPTON, July 24.—Garbed in doublets and buskins, a daring band of adventurers with their wives and children marched solemnly to the shore of Southampton Water and embarked on two fragile ships bearing the names "Mayflower" and "Speedwell."

The people sang "God of our fathers, be the God of the succeeding race." This was the termination of a realistic pageant celebrating the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers 200 years ago.

The pageant, in which 400 persons participated, was enacted in the shadow of the Mayflower monument erected by American descendants of the Pilgrims in 1913.

LONDON, July 24.—Labor's scheme for the pacification of Ireland, presented to Premier Lloyd George by the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress, is based on the withdrawal of the present home-rule bill from the house of commons and the substitution of dominion home rule with provisions whereby the latter council will have the option of accepting.

When J. T. Thomas, general secretary of the national union of railwaymen, expressed optimism regarding the dominion scheme, Mr. Lloyd George said: "You may know more than I do. I am very sure that things are going to happen on the other side, and things will become very much worse and very much sterner. They must know that we cannot allow this to go on. Therefore, whatever anybody who is anxious for peace does, let him do it quickly. That is all I have to say."

Mr. Thomas, as spokesman for the committee, said they believed the present situation in Ireland was due first to the refusal of the British government to recognize the constitutional claim which Ireland made for self-government, and second, to the failure of the government to deal with those who openly supported similar rebellion a few years ago.

Mr. Thomas declared there never was such an opportunity to make peace as now, and the trades unions believed that dominion home rule was the solution. It was useless to proceed with the present bill, which failed to recognize Ireland as a nation. If the government would concede this, then British labor would ask the Irish people if they would accept. Mr. Thomas declared himself absolutely sure of success.

The premier replied: "I have already said I was prepared to discuss with the responsible leaders of Irish opinion any plans for the settlement of Ireland, subject to two conditions. The first was that we could not agree to secession in the American sense, and the second was that we must have self-determination for the north-east."

PORTLAND EXPECTS FULLY 2000 BUYERS

Mayor Baker Issues Proclamation to Merchants.

DATES SET, AUGUST 9-14

Committee Arranges Long List of Entertainments for Benefit of Many Visitors.

Backed by a proclamation of invitation from Mayor Baker, and with a long list of entertainment features scheduled, the annual buyers' week, August 9 to 14, promises to be the most successful held in history.

More than 600 retailers from all parts of the coast have already accepted the invitation to attend, and it is expected that the total number registered for the week will approach the 2000 mark.

The crowd remaining behind made sorrowful good-byes and Goodspeeds. One cried: "Reckon America be a long way off." The crowd stood waving farewells to the ships put out to sea. The adventurers replied: "Reckon none of us will be back by the ending of this sailing of the Mayflower."

The people sang "God of our fathers, be the God of the succeeding race." This was the termination of a realistic pageant celebrating the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers 200 years ago.

The pageant, in which 400 persons participated, was enacted in the shadow of the Mayflower monument erected by American descendants of the Pilgrims in 1913.

Prosperity Is Great. "Portland is enjoying a period of unprecedented prosperity. Our commerce has grown and is growing by leaps and bounds; our city is dotted with new factories, new warehouses and new industries, and we have a beautiful view of the coast in industrial supremacy. During buyers' week we plan to open our factories, new and old, our warehouses, our stocks and our beautiful city for your inspection. We invite you to spend the week seeing what we have done and what we plan. Your welfare and prosperity go hand in hand with ours, and it should be a week of mutual benefit."

In many lines Portland carries the largest jobbing stocks west of the Mississippi, and these goods are the result of every merchant who has trained buyers who know their markets. Some of the largest factories in the entire west are here. We want you to see them and their output. You will be pleasantly surprised. You will be able to buy here to extraordinary advantage. While you are laying in your stocks to meet the ever-growing demands you will give us the pleasure of becoming better acquainted with you personally in both a business and social way."

Reception to Be Given. On Monday and Tuesday of buyers' week visitors will register and will be at liberty to visit wholesale and jobbing houses. Transportation will be refunded to every merchant who makes purchases of more than $500 during the week.

Tuesday evening, while the men are being entertained with a high jinks the women will be entertained at the theaters.

Wednesday noon a luncheon will be given at the Lewis and Clark aviation field, where 15 aeroplanes of the Oregon, Washington & Idaho Aeroplane company will fly in military formation and do many stunts for the amusement of visitors.

Thursday river steamers will carry visitors to municipal terminal No. 4 for their inspection, followed in the evening by a dinner and dance on the docks.

A banquet by the Chamber of Commerce Friday night will be featured by an address by Frank Branch Riley, a sight-seeing tour through the city and over the Columbia River highway will conclude the week Saturday afternoon.

The executive committee for buyers' week is composed of Nathan Strauss, chairman; David T. Honeyman, A. J. Bale, F. A. Spencer, A. H. Meyer, Harry C. Huntington, George Lawrence Jr., O. W. Mielke, Paul De Haas, F. M. Seller, Henry J. Frank and E. N. Weinbaum.

The entertainment committee consists of Paul De Haas, chairman; O. W. Mielke, H. C. Huntington, E. Neustader, W. D. McWaters, Ralph Brackett, Frank Woodard and E. N. Weinbaum.

Former Senator 1847 Votes Ahead in Race for Governor.

DALLAS, Texas, July 24.—At 10:30 o'clock tonight an unofficial tabulation of 48,795 votes from 123 cities and towns gave Joseph W. Bailey, former United States senator from Texas, a lead of 1847 votes over F. M. Neff, his closest opponent for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The returns were slow in coming in, but political observers here will give basis for a prediction as to the possible leader, nor change the expectation that a run-off primary August 23 would be necessary.
