I understand it has been raid by some democratic leaders that Washington will elect a democratic senator, and that Washington and the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain states are for the league of nations. This opinion evidently comes from those who do not live in that section and are not familiar with conditions.

Ference Manager Mitchell and I decided to pitch Alexander, though he had pitched but three days before and it was another 24 hours until his turn should come.

We know that Alexander is a man above all suspicion, and we felt that with our premier pitcher in the box we were doing all we could, if there were any foundation for the charges, sons for the difference between the LaFoliette of 1905 and th LaFoliette of 1915 and later are not a part of this story.

from getting the nomination. All the information agrees that Lenroot is making a good fight on a high plane. They all say that his exposition of the league of nations and of other national issues is clear, temperate and sound. That would be characteristic qualities to the discussion of any public question. ton, Ky., to place bets.

According to the published statement tonight, half a dozen strangers appeared in Clincinnati Monday night and tried to place bets at even money that Philadelphia would win Tuesday's game. Suspicion was aroused, it is said, when a hotel clerk was told to gather all bets he could get that Philadelphia would defeat the Cubs. One man is said to have held a commission of $3000, but only succeeded in placing $200.

while La Follette, of course, is an irreconcilable.

La Follette is undoubtedly a power in his state. Every once in a while, for his state. Every once in a while, for Misconsin that La Follette was down and out, but at nearly every election his faction comes out dominant. The group of delegates from Wisconsin who, in the republican national convention in June, from the first ballot to the last, cast a solid block of 24 vites for La Follette for president, is sufficient proof of the latter's strength sufficient proof of the latter's strength with his people. He will probably succeed in beating Lenroot. If he loes, the country can take assurance from the fact that the man who will surely get the democratic nomination next Tuesday is a good man for whom those republicans who oppose La Fol-lette can vote with satisfaction. Dr. Reinsch Idealist. The single candidate for senator in the democratic primaries next week by President Wilson. He was formerly dean of the political science depart ment of the University of Wisconsin He is a self-made man, of German parents, described as a "scholur and idealist." He will undoubtedly make a strong appeal to the independent voter and to professional and busi-ness classes in both parties.

If the outcome of these Wisconsin primaries next week, and of the elec-tion later, should be the supplement ing of a republican with a democrat in the senate, in the person of Dr. Reinsch, persons whose point of view is non-partisan will be well enough pleased, and yet the country would be the loser by the defeat of Lenroot. Lenroot's greater experience, with ter years in the house and two in the senate, makes him to that extent the more desirable candidate, even i comparison with Dr. Reinsch's equall high character and intelligence.

Lenroot Rated High. Here in Washington persons wh watch the senate closely and are con persed for high quality in its movership count Lenroot among the f six or eight senators, and regard him desirable to keep in the senate per-manently. He is diligent in his duties, utterly without any affiliations that make him partial to special interests of any sort, with a well-trained and accurate mind. In addition to Wisconsin, several other states will name candidates for the senate next week. On Monday Colorado will nominate a democrat and a republican who in November will contest for the seat of Senator Thomas. Senator Thomas has refused to be a candidate for re-election.

Other Contests Coming.

On Tuesday one of the most interesting and important senatorial primaries in the country will take place in New Hampshire, where Senator Moses is trying for renomination. Also on Tuesday will be held the Nevada primaries to determine the successor to the present democratic senator, Henderson. And on Wednesday will come one of the most picturesque contests in the whole country, the race in Georgia, where Senator Hoke Smith is trying to come back and in the effort is encountering several ghosts of his recent political past. One of his opponents is the picturesque and pungent Tom Watson, but the more formidable one is Governor Dersey.
