Covernor Cox to Talk at Boise September 15.

Non-Partisan Leaguers Keep Both Old Parties Guessing-Reports of Indorsing Democrats Rife.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 11 .- (Special.) --Governor Cox of Ohio, democratic presidential candidate, will be in Holse September 15 after addresses at Weiser, Fayette, Ontario, Nampa and Caldwell. The democratic state committee is making elaborate prep-acations for his reception. One hunored young men and women who will cust their first ballot this year are to act as special escort on the evenrion of that date, when he will de-liver an open-air address at Cody park. Democratic leaders from all parts of the state, including candi-dates for congressional and state of-fices, will be present. Gavernor Cax will be given a rousse reception, which, politically, will senify nothing. The people of Idaho believe any man big enough to be a andidate for president is entitled to very courtesy, and republicans and democrats alike will be found weloming the governor of Ohio. After eaving here he will go to Pocatello, making a series of rear platform peeches through the southern portion of the state.

Harding to Open Campaign. Republicans expect to fire their opening campaign gun September 17 when Governor Harding will be the pain speaker. He is the first weaker to come to this state He will discuss the is sees of the campaign, with special Governor Cox.

Both parties are active in establishing and getting headquarters into working order. State Chairman John Thomas of the republican committee has announced the appointment o Colone E. G. Davig, first vice-chair man, to be in charge of state head-quarters, while Thomas is on the road. Davis was candidate for United road. Davis was candidate for United States senator at the Pocatello convention and contender for the nomination against Frank R. Gooding, the successful candidate. State head-quarters have been established in the Empire building. A speakers' bureau will keep speakers on the stump from now until November and tons of its rature will be mailed to the voters State Chairman J. P. Pope of th democratic state committee has se lected his executive committee, a follows: M. Alexander, former gov ernor of the state; Frank Martin former attorney-general; J. T. Penc. former state chairman; James I Hawley, former governor, and S. I Davis, a prominent business man of Non-Partisans Also Active. The Non-Partisan league is also active and keeps republicans and democrats guessing. Reports have been in circulation for some time that H. F. Samuels, candidate for United States senator, would retire, the in-According to one story, an agreement was made to withdraw him prior to his nomination by the leaguers, but Samuels was not consulted with regard to the matter, and it was not his understanding that, following his nomination by the league, he was to withdraw. Bets are posted here that, he will withdraw.

Similar reports are in circulation that S. D. Fairchild, league candidate for governor, will also withdraw to allow the league to throw its support to Walters, democrat. maily republican, and can elect its candidates against the field. Past Elections Analyzed.

Approximately 96,000 votes were cast in this state two years ago Four years ago at the presidential election 130,000 votes were cast. Two years ago Governor Davis, republican, received 57.625 votes to 38,499 for H. F. Samuels, democratic candidate, who was, in fact, the candidate of the Non-Partisan league, which cap year. Samuels received the undivided support of the leaguers and the di-vided support of the democrats. This accounts for the larger vote given to Davis. This year the democrats and the league both have # candidate for Their strength, therefore If the division continues, neither a democrat nor a non-partisan can be elected against the solid republican vote, declare experts who have given the situation study. The league claims to have at least 40,000 votes; that is, 20,000 actual members and two votes on an average to a family. They expect from 5000 to 10,000 sympathetic votes, which they declare will elect their candidates.
