

SUSPECT IN MURDER MYSTERY VANISHES

Police Say Revenge One of Motives for Denton's Death.

WILL DECLARED FORGERY

Statement of Denver Woman Implicated in Case Ridiculed by Dead Man's Friend.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The apparent vanishing of James Crowhurst, important witness and suspect in connection with the investigation of the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, and the receipt of a telegram from Mrs. R. C. Peete of Denver, under surveillance here the same connection, were important developments today in the mysterious murder case.

Crowhurst was located and taken into custody yesterday by Detectives Lyons and Box. He gave the same important statement and was released under surveillance for further investigation.

Prior to his release he promised to appear at 10 o'clock today at the district attorney's office for a consultation with Chief Deputy William Doran.

Crowhurst Disappears

He did not keep this engagement and long afterward officials of the police department, including officers working on the case, said they had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

The telegram from Mrs. Peete was received by Judge Avery, who was named by Denton as the executor of his will. It asked for advice and Judge Avery replied that he could not give any, but suggested she communicate with the district attorney's office.

Revenge is Indicated

Dale said his father was a close friend of Denton, who he said called at the home of his father the night of June 2. The elder Dale asked him to come into the house and, according to the young Dale's statement, Denton refused, saying Mrs. Peete was waiting in an automobile.

Facts already unearthed and statements made by Crowhurst are said by the police to indicate that both revenge and robbery were motives for the slaying.

Woman is Implicated

The body unearthed in the narrow compartment in the Denton home has both arms intact and examination of the body failed to disclose any marks or scars. When the body was found Peete gave out another statement to the Denver police in which she said she believed the slayer had a mysterious one-armed double. Failure to discover the slightest indications of violence on the body of the slain man led police detectives to believe that Denton was poisoned.

A report on this phase of the slaying will be available from Dr. Arthur Maas next Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Denton, first wife of Denton, and her daughter, Frances Denton, 15 years old, Denton's heir, are in Los Angeles today, having come here from their home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Neither the mother nor the daughter has been able to explain any cause for the murder.

According to Dwight Dale, associate of Denton in many mining deals, the references of Mrs. Peete to a mysterious Spanish woman as a possible common law wife of the slain man "are pure bunk."

Dale, informed the police that he was thoroughly acquainted with Denton's associates, and these he said, did not include any person such as the one described by Mrs. Peete.

Will Pronounced Forgery

Antounding revelations tending to establish a probable motive for the murder and startling evidence that the will of Jacob C. Denton, wealthy retired mining broker, was a forgery, were disclosed by investigators today.

Joel N. Denton, a brother of the murdered financier, announced at his home in Lawson, Mo., that $25,000 worth of victory bonds owned by Denton are missing. This bears out the theory that an amazing plot was hatched to do away with Denton, seize his property. The alleged forgery of the will is supposed to be a part of this plot.

Following fast upon the disclosure that the bonds were probably stolen by the slayers came pieces of evidence which, fitted together, indicated that Denton's will was a forgery.

Editors to Convene

Southern Washington District Session to Open Tuesday.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—A convention of about 20 editors of the southern Washington district of the Washington State Press association will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms here next Tuesday. A banquet will be served.

In this district are Clarke, Cowles, Skamania, Klickitat and Waukegan counties. Of the 25 newspapers in this district, seven are in this county.

Fred W. Kennedy of the University of Washington will deliver an address. Discussions of the many problems of a newspaper publisher will be held.

Day of Claims Set

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The superior court today Judge Back set November 29 as the day when the creditors can present claims and notice be given creditors to present claims. The suits in question are M. B. Osgood, R. D. Wiswall and W. J. Kiley against the Reed Engineering company, and H. F. Hayes et al. against the Frigid Engineering company.

FASHION'S VAGARIES CHEAT ALASKA OF OLD INDUSTRY

Failure of Women to Continue Use of Whalebone for Lining Dresses and Corsets Causes Change in Conditions.

FASHION'S vagaries have robbed Alaska of one of her old industries simply because women have ceased to line their dresses and corsets with whalebone, according to Charles Brower, fur trader, who arrived in Portland last week. All the Eskimo catches whale for now, is meat and fuel oil since the departure of the wasp-like waistline.

Thirty years ago Mr. Brower went north to locate coal mines for a company in San Francisco, but failing to get results, set out upon an expedition of his own, traveling along the northern coast as far as Point Barrow. He was the first white man to penetrate the north of Alaska. Returning to Point Hope, he finished the winter, whaling with the natives.

"Those were the days of the stone age in Alaska," he declared. "Our harpoons and lances were of flint and bone and the lines were dried seal blubber. The Eskimos harpooned a whale, the man would stand in the bow of the boat to cast, and would throw the line over the side. Two or three men would surround the whale and harpoon it. Then it was lanced and an old flint knife was used to saw the meat off with."

"Prior to his release he promised to appear at 10 o'clock today at the district attorney's office for a consultation with Chief Deputy William Doran.

Crowhurst was located and taken into custody yesterday by Detectives Lyons and Box. He gave the same important statement and was released under surveillance for further investigation.

Prior to his release he promised to appear at 10 o'clock today at the district attorney's office for a consultation with Chief Deputy William Doran.

"The day after the departure of the captain, he had gone ashore in the skin boat and reported his men all dead. So it happened that no revenue cutter was sent to search for them.

"The days we were on that ice were a nightmare," said Mr. Brower. "Some of the men committed suicide and some went crazy. One tramped with us up into the mountains, and when he was found he was dead. His bones were exposed. Then he, too, gave up."

That same winter the trading post cared for 380 men taken from a big shipwreck at Point Barrow. For the service given at this time Mr. Brower received the commendation of President Roosevelt, who sent for him several years later. He also achieved distinction when he went to Amundsen after the latter had made the northwest passage.

According to Mr. Brower, Eskimos are increasing in the north of Alaska, but elsewhere they have been almost wiped out by influenza. Point Barrow is supported solely by trappers, white, red, blue and cross foxes and polar bear being obtained in the region. Since the drop in the whale bone market the whaling fleet has gone entirely. The boats that call now bring supplies and carry away skins.

Trading in furs Mr. Brower apparently regards as a tame life compared with the days of whaling. Back in 1897, when he was on his way from Point Barrow to his Cape Nome whaling base, he met with the greatest adventure of his life, an incident that still stands engraved in his memory as one of the most horrible experiences man could endure.

Ice closed in around the vessel and carried it along in the middle of the pack. At the end of 10 days it was decided to abandon the ship, and the men took the boats and return to the coast. Again they remained with the Navahs and again when the floe had drifted north, she was abandoned. In the meantime Brower had made a boat of polar bear skin stretched over a frame and this was taken in charge by the captain and eight men, who also carried food and a compass. The officer asked Brower to take command of the remainder, 23 men, because he was experienced in traveling over the ice. Twelve hours they tramped along until the water was once more reached, then Brower learned that the captain had gone back to the ship with the skin boat.

"I was greatly surprised at the Crater Lake hotel accommodations," said Mr. McArthur last night. "Crater Lake Lodge provides good meals, comfortable rooms and good service and I am to understand the attitude of Director Mather in his public condemnation of the hotel management. Of course, the hotel does not compare with the palatial hostilities of older and better established resorts, but it must be borne in mind that Crater Lake is open for only three months each year and only a concern with unlimited backing could maintain an elaborate establishment there."

Republican Club Grows

PLEGED MEMBERSHIP OF 10,000 IS ANNOUNCED.

Women Taking Lively Interest in Campaign and Sweeping Victory for Ticket Predicted.

The Harding and Coolidge campaign club yesterday reached pledged membership of 10,000, the number set for October 1, in the drive for 15,000 active members. The goal anticipated and the enthusiasm shown at headquarters at the Hotel Portland indicated that success was assured.

All members of the club are volunteers. The women serving as officers were mostly active war workers and prominently known in all walks of life. In addition, many men and women are also working, some of the members are actively engaged in securing thousands of signatures on the republican ballot as the officers themselves.

So far, according to the officers of the sterner sex, the women have been more active and have shown more genuine party spirit than the men. Since the drop in the whale bone market the whaling fleet has gone entirely. The boats that call now bring supplies and carry away skins.

Woman is Implicated

The body unearthed in the narrow compartment in the Denton home has both arms intact and examination of the body failed to disclose any marks or scars. When the body was found Peete gave out another statement to the Denver police in which she said she believed the slayer had a mysterious one-armed double. Failure to discover the slightest indications of violence on the body of the slain man led police detectives to believe that Denton was poisoned.

A report on this phase of the slaying will be available from Dr. Arthur Maas next Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Denton, first wife of Denton, and her daughter, Frances Denton, 15 years old, Denton's heir, are in Los Angeles today, having come here from their home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Neither the mother nor the daughter has been able to explain any cause for the murder.

According to Dwight Dale, associate of Denton in many mining deals, the references of Mrs. Peete to a mysterious Spanish woman as a possible common law wife of the slain man "are pure bunk."

Dale, informed the police that he was thoroughly acquainted with Denton's associates, and these he said, did not include any person such as the one described by Mrs. Peete.

Will Pronounced Forgery

Antounding revelations tending to establish a probable motive for the murder and startling evidence that the will of Jacob C. Denton, wealthy retired mining broker, was a forgery, were disclosed by investigators today.

Joel N. Denton, a brother of the murdered financier, announced at his home in Lawson, Mo., that $25,000 worth of victory bonds owned by Denton are missing. This bears out the theory that an amazing plot was hatched to do away with Denton, seize his property. The alleged forgery of the will is supposed to be a part of this plot.

Following fast upon the disclosure that the bonds were probably stolen by the slayers came pieces of evidence which, fitted together, indicated that Denton's will was a forgery.

Editors to Convene

Southern Washington District Session to Open Tuesday.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—A convention of about 20 editors of the southern Washington district of the Washington State Press association will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms here next Tuesday. A banquet will be served.

In this district are Clarke, Cowles, Skamania, Klickitat and Waukegan counties. Of the 25 newspapers in this district, seven are in this county.

Fred W. Kennedy of the University of Washington will deliver an address. Discussions of the many problems of a newspaper publisher will be held.

Day of Claims Set

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The superior court today Judge Back set November 29 as the day when the creditors can present claims and notice be given creditors to present claims. The suits in question are M. B. Osgood, R. D. Wiswall and W. J. Kiley against the Reed Engineering company, and H. F. Hayes et al. against the Frigid Engineering company.

M'ARTHUR DEFENDS CRATER LAKE LODGE

Mather Criticism Is Declared Wholly Unjust.

MANAGER STILL ON JOB

That Stephen S. Mather, director of the national park service of the department of the interior, has been altogether unjust in his treatment of Alfred L. Parkhurst, proprietor of Crater Lake Lodge, and that Mr. Mather's public criticisms have been the means of keeping thousands of tourists from the Crater Lake national park, is the opinion of Representative C. N. McArthur, who returned yesterday from southern Oregon, where he visited Grants Pass, Medford, Klamath Falls and Crater Lake.

"I was greatly surprised at the Crater Lake hotel accommodations," said Mr. McArthur last night. "Crater Lake Lodge provides good meals, comfortable rooms and good service and I am to understand the attitude of Director Mather in his public condemnation of the hotel management. Of course, the hotel does not compare with the palatial hostilities of older and better established resorts, but it must be borne in mind that Crater Lake is open for only three months each year and only a concern with unlimited backing could maintain an elaborate establishment there."

RAIN DAMAGES FRUITS

Prune Crop in Marion County Is Hard Hit.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The rains of the last 24 hours have caused greater damage to the Marion county prune crop than the combined precipitation of the preceding six days, according to reports reaching the city today from rural districts. In some of the orchards in the lowlands the yield is almost a complete loss, according to the growers, while owners of orchards on the elevations will not save more than half of their crop.

Buyers who have made a careful survey of the orchards of Marion county the past two or three days said the rains probably would reduce the prune crop more than one-half, while much of the fruit that would be salvaged would be of inferior quality.

REWARD FINALLY COMES

Alfred L. Parkhurst is the only man in Oregon, or anywhere else for that matter, who has shown a willingness to put his money into a hotel and concessions at Crater Lake. He has spent ten years of his life and $80,000 in cold cash in his struggle to put his establishment on a paying basis and success has finally crowned his efforts. He will realize a fair profit on this year's business and if the people of Oregon will get behind him he will enlarge and improve his hotel to meet the most exacting demands.

Director Mather's recent public criticism of Mr. Parkhurst was, in my opinion, altogether unwarranted. Mr. Mather overlooks the fact that Mr. Parkhurst was a pioneer at Crater Lake and put up his money when financiers in Oregon and elsewhere refused to do so. On the occasion of his recent visit to Crater Lake Mr. Mather ordered Mr. Parkhurst to vacate at the end of two weeks, but Mr. Parkhurst is still on the job and is

WOMAN SEES 58 FAIRS

DR. AND MRS. HOEYE HAVE COTTAGE ON GROUND.

Couple Leave Oregon City to Attend 59th Annual State Show in Salem.

OREGON-CITY, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. George Hoye of this city, left this afternoon for Salem, where they are to enjoy their annual outing in their cottage in the grove of the Oregon state fair grounds.

Mrs. Hoye has attended every fair held in Salem, except one making 58 fairs she has attended, and this is the 59th annual state fair. She well remembers the first state fair she attended with her father and mother, the late John and Christine Gilmore, and since that time has been a familiar figure on the grounds, and each year the Hoye cottage is visited by many pioneer residents of Marion county, where they are always given a royal welcome.

Five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Hoye had a cottage erected on the grounds and are well protected from the rains. The cottage is neatly furnished and most home-like.

Mrs. Hoye, whose maiden name was Mary Gilmore, came across the plains from Missouri with her parents in 1854, when 3 years of age, the family having much exciting experience while making the long trip by ox team. While on the journey they were met by Indians, who, at that time, were giving the whites considerable trouble. Clothing and other belongings were taken from the settlers, even to Mr. Gilmore's hat, for when the family arrived at St. Helens he was the only articles the Indians allowed the settlers to keep were a bedding and enough clothing to carry them through to their destination.

WOMAN SEES 58 FAIRS

DR. AND MRS. HOEYE HAVE COTTAGE ON GROUND.

Couple Leave Oregon City to Attend 59th Annual State Show in Salem.

OREGON-CITY, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. George Hoye of this city, left this afternoon for Salem, where they are to enjoy their annual outing in their cottage in the grove of the Oregon state fair grounds.

Mrs. Hoye has attended every fair held in Salem, except one making 58 fairs she has attended, and this is the 59th annual state fair. She well remembers the first state fair she attended with her father and mother, the late John and Christine Gilmore, and since that time has been a familiar figure on the grounds, and each year the Hoye cottage is visited by many pioneer residents of Marion county, where they are always given a royal welcome.

Five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Hoye had a cottage erected on the grounds and are well protected from the rains. The cottage is neatly furnished and most home-like.

Mrs. Hoye, whose maiden name was Mary Gilmore, came across the plains from Missouri with her parents in 1854, when 3 years of age, the family having much exciting experience while making the long trip by ox team. While on the journey they were met by Indians, who, at that time, were giving the whites considerable trouble. Clothing and other belongings were taken from the settlers, even to Mr. Gilmore's hat, for when the family arrived at St. Helens he was the only articles the Indians allowed the settlers to keep were a bedding and enough clothing to carry them through to their destination.

RAIN DAMAGES FRUITS

Prune Crop in Marion County Is Hard Hit.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The rains of the last 24 hours have caused greater damage to the Marion county prune crop than the combined precipitation of the preceding six days, according to reports reaching the city today from rural districts. In some of the orchards in the lowlands the yield is almost a complete loss, according to the growers, while owners of orchards on the elevations will not save more than half of their crop.

Buyers who have made a careful survey of the orchards of Marion county the past two or three days said the rains probably would reduce the prune crop more than one-half, while much of the fruit that would be salvaged would be of inferior quality.

REWARD FINALLY COMES

Alfred L. Parkhurst is the only man in Oregon, or anywhere else for that matter, who has shown a willingness to put his money into a hotel and concessions at Crater Lake. He has spent ten years of his life and $80,000 in cold cash in his struggle to put his establishment on a paying basis and success has finally crowned his efforts. He will realize a fair profit on this year's business and if the people of Oregon will get behind him he will enlarge and improve his hotel to meet the most exacting demands.

Director Mather's recent public criticism of Mr. Parkhurst was, in my opinion, altogether unwarranted. Mr. Mather overlooks the fact that Mr. Parkhurst was a pioneer at Crater Lake and put up his money when financiers in Oregon and elsewhere refused to do so. On the occasion of his recent visit to Crater Lake Mr. Mather ordered Mr. Parkhurst to vacate at the end of two weeks, but Mr. Parkhurst is still on the job and is

WOMAN SEES 58 FAIRS

DR. AND MRS. HOEYE HAVE COTTAGE ON GROUND.

Couple Leave Oregon City to Attend 59th Annual State Show in Salem.

OREGON-CITY, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. George Hoye of this city, left this afternoon for Salem, where they are to enjoy their annual outing in their cottage in the grove of the Oregon state fair grounds.

Mrs. Hoye has attended every fair held in Salem, except one making 58 fairs she has attended, and this is the 59th annual state fair. She well remembers the first state fair she attended with her father and mother, the late John and Christine Gilmore, and since that time has been a familiar figure on the grounds, and each year the Hoye cottage is visited by many pioneer residents of Marion county, where they are always given a royal welcome.

Five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Hoye had a cottage erected on the grounds and are well protected from the rains. The cottage is neatly furnished and most home-like.

Mrs. Hoye, whose maiden name was Mary Gilmore, came across the plains from Missouri with her parents in 1854, when 3 years of age, the family having much exciting experience while making the long trip by ox team. While on the journey they were met by Indians, who, at that time, were giving the whites considerable trouble. Clothing and other belongings were taken from the settlers, even to Mr. Gilmore's hat, for when the family arrived at St. Helens he was the only articles the Indians allowed the settlers to keep were a bedding and enough clothing to carry them through to their destination.

ALIBI PLEA IS FRUITLESS

FOR CLOCK THEFT ROY LESLIE GETS 120 DAYS.

Attempted Explanation of Possession of Timepiece Fails to Impress Judge Rossman.

Roy Leslie, charged with stealing a clock from the lobby of the Merchants hotel, 52 North Third street, attempted a far-fetched alibi in municipal court yesterday morning, but his explanations were cut short by Municipal Judge Rossman, who sentenced Leslie to 120 days in jail.

According to K. Nakata, Japanese proprietor of the hotel, Leslie rented a room at the hotel late in the evening. The clock was on the wall at 1 o'clock, but at 2 o'clock it was gone. Leslie was stopped on the street by Patrolman Fair at 2 A. M. as he was proceeding up Third street with the clock under his arm. Leslie told the patrolman that another man had offered him 75 cents to take the clock up to Thirteenth and Hoyt streets.

Fair accompanied Leslie and the clock to the alleged rendezvous and waited two hours, but the "other man" failed to appear and Leslie was escorted to the police station.

Leslie held to his original story in court, but to no avail. The clock, which was introduced as evidence, had stopped at 2 A. M.

Banker Rallies From Operation.

Isaac Hunt, vice-president of the Laid & Tilton bank, who was operated on Friday morning at St. Vincent's hospital by Dr. C. G. Sabin, following a serious attack of acute appendicitis, was reported last night to be in a favorable condition. He was resting easy, according to the hospital report.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

ALIBI PLEA IS FRUITLESS

FOR CLOCK THEFT ROY LESLIE GETS 120 DAYS.

Attempted Explanation of Possession of Timepiece Fails to Impress Judge Rossman.

Roy Leslie, charged with stealing a clock from the lobby of the Merchants hotel, 52 North Third street, attempted a far-fetched alibi in municipal court yesterday morning, but his explanations were cut short by Municipal Judge Rossman, who sentenced Leslie to 120 days in jail.

According to K. Nakata, Japanese proprietor of the hotel, Leslie rented a room at the hotel late in the evening. The clock was on the wall at 1 o'clock, but at 2 o'clock it was gone. Leslie was stopped on the street by Patrolman Fair at 2 A. M. as he was proceeding up Third street with the clock under his arm. Leslie told the patrolman that another man had offered him 75 cents to take the clock up to Thirteenth and Hoyt streets.

Fair accompanied Leslie and the clock to the alleged rendezvous and waited two hours, but the "other man" failed to appear and Leslie was escorted to the police station.

Leslie held to his original story in court, but to no avail. The clock, which was introduced as evidence, had stopped at 2 A. M.

Banker Rallies From Operation.

Isaac Hunt, vice-president of the Laid & Tilton bank, who was operated on Friday morning at St. Vincent's hospital by Dr. C. G. Sabin, following a serious attack of acute appendicitis, was reported last night to be in a favorable condition. He was resting easy, according to the hospital report.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

ALIBI PLEA IS FRUITLESS

FOR CLOCK THEFT ROY LESLIE GETS 120 DAYS.

Attempted Explanation of Possession of Timepiece Fails to Impress Judge Rossman.

Roy Leslie, charged with stealing a clock from the lobby of the Merchants hotel, 52 North Third street, attempted a far-fetched alibi in municipal court yesterday morning, but his explanations were cut short by Municipal Judge Rossman, who sentenced Leslie to 120 days in jail.

According to K. Nakata, Japanese proprietor of the hotel, Leslie rented a room at the hotel late in the evening. The clock was on the wall at 1 o'clock, but at 2 o'clock it was gone. Leslie was stopped on the street by Patrolman Fair at 2 A. M. as he was proceeding up Third street with the clock under his arm. Leslie told the patrolman that another man had offered him 75 cents to take the clock up to Thirteenth and Hoyt streets.

Fair accompanied Leslie and the clock to the alleged rendezvous and waited two hours, but the "other man" failed to appear and Leslie was escorted to the police station.

Leslie held to his original story in court, but to no avail. The clock, which was introduced as evidence, had stopped at 2 A. M.

Banker Rallies From Operation.

Isaac Hunt, vice-president of the Laid & Tilton bank, who was operated on Friday morning at St. Vincent's hospital by Dr. C. G. Sabin, following a serious attack of acute appendicitis, was reported last night to be in a favorable condition. He was resting easy, according to the hospital report.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

ALIBI PLEA IS FRUITLESS

FOR CLOCK THEFT ROY LESLIE GETS 120 DAYS.

Attempted Explanation of Possession of Timepiece Fails to Impress Judge Rossman.

Roy Leslie, charged with stealing a clock from the lobby of the Merchants hotel, 52 North Third street, attempted a far-fetched alibi in municipal court yesterday morning, but his explanations were cut short by Municipal Judge Rossman, who sentenced Leslie to 120 days in jail.

According to K. Nakata, Japanese proprietor of the hotel, Leslie rented a room at the hotel late in the evening. The clock was on the wall at 1 o'clock, but at 2 o'clock it was gone. Leslie was stopped on the street by Patrolman Fair at 2 A. M. as he was proceeding up Third street with the clock under his arm. Leslie told the patrolman that another man had offered him 75 cents to take the clock up to Thirteenth and Hoyt streets.

Fair accompanied Leslie and the clock to the alleged rendezvous and waited two hours, but the "other man" failed to appear and Leslie was escorted to the police station.

Leslie held to his original story in court, but to no avail. The clock, which was introduced as evidence, had stopped at 2 A. M.

Banker Rallies From Operation.

Isaac Hunt, vice-president of the Laid & Tilton bank, who was operated on Friday morning at St. Vincent's hospital by Dr. C. G. Sabin, following a serious attack of acute appendicitis, was reported last night to be in a favorable condition. He was resting easy, according to the hospital report.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

You'll Like the "Bonheur"

It represents one of the very latest thoughts in modish footwear. Trim, youthful lines that singularly appeal!

But style has not been sacrificed for foot comfort—so important. Women who know say the "Easiest Shoes on Earth" are

The Original and Genuine
Dr. A. Reed
CUSHION SHOES
DESIGNED BY DR. A. REED
Chicago Buffalo

The "Bonheur"
No. R-810

We confidently recommend Dr. A. Reed shoes to every discriminating woman.

Staiger's
292 Washington St., Bet. 4th and 5th

Established 20 Years in Portland

C. GEE WO Chinese Medicine Co.

No operations. No poison used in our wonderful remedies, composed of the choicest Oriental roots, herbs, buds and bark, many of which are unknown to the medical science of this country. Our remedies are harmless and have made many sufferers from catarrh, asthma, lung and throat, rheumatism, nervousness, stomach, liver and kidney trouble, female disorders, etc., happy. Many testimonials given unsolicited by persons, male and female, who have used my root and herb remedies.

The C. Gee Wo Chinese Medicine Co.
162 1/2 First Street
Portland, Oregon

PLAYING NOW

Warner's Safe Remedies
A Constant Boon to Invalids Since 1877

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy.
Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy.
Warner's Safe Rheumatic Remedy.
Warner's Safe Asthma Remedy.
Warner's Safe Nerve.

Warner's Safe Pills, (Constipation and Biliousness)

The Reliable Family Medicines

Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Sample sent on receipt of ten cents.

WARNER'S SAFE REMEDIES CO., Dept. 265 ROCHESTER N. Y.

NOW PLAYING

THE "INNER VOICE,"
A THUNDERING SONG
OF LOVE, OF WRONG AND
OF LOVE TRIUMPHANT

"THE INNER VOICE"

WITH ALL STAR CAST

THE ONE PICTURE OF THE YEAR WHICH HAS MET WITH THE UNANIMOUS PRAISE OF THE CRITICS ON EACH AND EVERY ONE OF THE LEADING PAPERS OF FILM DOM

RIVOLI ORCHESTRA
DIRECTION SALVATORE SANTAELLA

MUTT AND JEFF
COMEDY

11 A. M. to 11 P. M.

PLAYING NOW

SPECIAL SUNDAY CONCERT
12:30 Noon Today

Overture "Orpheus".....J. Offenbach
Spanish Dances No. 1, 2, 3.....P. Moszkowsky
Selection from "The Spring Maid".....Zdenko Fibich
"Poem".....Cello Solo by Christian Pool
Blue Danube Waltz.....J. Strauss
March of The Prophet.....Meyerbeer

Concert Number During This Week
Afternoon and Evenings
Zampa Overture.....F. Herold

RIVOLI
PHOTOPLAYS OF QUALITY