

Has the High Peak in Clothing Prices Been Reached?

The "Brewster"

as shown on this page, a rich, warm, all-wool double-breasted overcoat with leather yoke half-lined, storm collar and belted back. Full skirt allowing plenty of knee action, smart lines and gentlemanly appearance. Comes in heavy cashmeres and tweeds, double textures.

WE believe it has. We hope it has. Some say it has.

We'll call you to note, then, that our ordinary prices are lower by far than those generally quoted as an attempt to lower the "peak." In addition, we have quoted the same prices to everybody all the year round.

$20 to $50

When you recall that Fahey-Brockman's prices have been as steadfast as Plymouth Rock, and that our clothes are all standard make, many of them imported, including every color, size and style that is dear to the heart of man, you will appreciate just why our volume of business is so great every day that we dominate the men's clothing business of the northwest.

Our established upstairs policy of selling the best merchandise at the lowest prices all the time has been overwhelmingly vindicated by our thousands of satisfied customers who increasingly return to us and bring their friends.
